NEWS AND NOTES DOUBLE BOWL ISSUE

This issue of Power Sweep is a special double issue which has 35 bowl game forecasts plus the 15th & 16th weeks of the NFL. This action-packed double issue traditionally does exceptionally well, with a 22 year record of 64% on the ★ basis. This is our biggest and best bowl issue ever, as it contains many Key Selections for the bowls and is 32 FULL pages!!!! Let's go over this super Double Bowl Issue so you can utilize it to the fullest. All of the Bowl Selections are rated from 1★ to 4★ with 4★'s being the highest. 3★ & 4★ Selections are considered Key Selections. 2★'s are considered Other Selections. The 1★ plays are very light selections and are to be played nowhere near as strong as the Key Selections. We have a half page dedicated to EVERY bowl game which should provide every piece of information that you will need. Read each bowl write-up and we think you will find them to be the most in-depth write-ups available. We supply much more information than just our selections for this year's bowl games.

Íncluded in this issue are our exclusive Power Plays forecasts for each game. Power Plays takes into account things like: strength of opponents faced, and is adjusted after games for weather, garbage yards, injuries, etc. It is the most accurate set of power ratings in the country. These forecasts give you a projected box score for each game so you can see a possible outcome for the game. The forecasts include yards rushing, yards passing, turnovers, special teams edges and, of course, a score based on the Power Plays ratings. They also list the average opponent power rating of the teams that they faced this year. Keep in mind these projections are based solely on the Power Plays statistical formulas. Our Power Sweep projected winner at the bottom of each bowl takes into account ALL factors, including the Power Plays numbers, emotion, bowl experience, talent matchups, turf edge, momentum, special teams, coaching, etc. Many times the intangibles in bowls outweigh the pure statistical forecasts. We supply the projected forecasts at the top of the page to give you some solid statistical information.

On page 32 of this newsletter you'll find the Computer Corner Power Ratings forecasts for the bowls. The Computer Corner Plays are rated in different categories and, of course, the higher the difference between the Computer Forecast and the actual Vegas Line, the stronger the play is. They are strictly the computer's forecast & do not take into account all the intangibles that our overall write-ups do. These projections have done very well through the years. The bowl checklists included with each bowl write-up are invaluable as every stat and ranking is analyzed with checks going to the better unit. Each check represents approximately one point.

Page 28 will be our Pro Selections for Week 16 in the NFL. These selections will be made on Sunday (Dec 12th) two weeks before the games are played. The Week 15 results will be unknown. This is not easy to do as the Week 15 results will determine the next week's selections as well as playoff chances. Due to that uncertainty we will not have an NFL 4★ for that week, but we will have ★ rated Key Selections. Last year we forecasted the NFL Week 17 two weeks in advance and went 3-0 on the Key Selections (8-0 on ★'s) and 2-0 on the 3★ Totals!! We do put a lot of work into the advance forecasts and they have done well throughout the years.

The staff here at Northcoast Sports would like to wish you & your family Happy Holidays & a prosperous New Year. As always, thank you for reading Power Sweep. We hope to hear from you in our questionnaire which will be coming in the next couple of issues.

Who Faced the Toughest Schedule in 2010?

What makes our Toughest Opponents Faced rankings far superior to the NCAA method is that ours takes into account 9 sets of power ratings, combines them and factors in every team's schedule this year. We did this not only for the bowl teams, but for all the NCAA teams & found out which teams played the toughest schedules this year. Iowa ranked #34 in the NCAA rankings with an opp W/L % of 57.3% playing 7 gms vs teams with winning records but played our #65 toughest schedule including games against 2-9 Eastern Illinois, 4-8 Ball St and 3-9 Minnesota. Fer the NCAA, Kentucky faced the #103 toughest schedule with an opp W/L % of 45.9% facing 4 teams with winning records but took on our #57 schedule facing 6-6 Louisville, 6-6 Georgia, 4-8 Mississippi and 6-6 Tennessee that were all better than their records indicate. Washington had the toughest slate among bowl teams and Middle Tenn had the easiest. The 2010 bowl teams are in boldface.

UTEP HC Price said that TY's squad was the most snakebitten, inj-plagued tm that he had been a part of but many inj'd players participated in gms that he thought was extremely unlikely. This is the 3rd bowl for Price at UTEP (0-2 SU/ATS) and 8th overall as he went 3-2 SU and 2-3 ATS with WSU. BYU was revived after the USU loss when DC Hill was fired and HC Mendenhall took over DC duties (DC here before HC). The "Band of Brothers" t-shirts returned to the sidelines and BYU pulled the upset of SDSt. After an expected loss to TCU, BYU reeled off 4 str wins and landed here. After 5 str appearances in the LV Bowl, many would expect BYU to be disappointed here, but the young Cougs must feel a sense of accomplishment after the dismal start to the ssn. The Miners have 12 Sr st'rs among their 18 upperclassmen while BYU has 6 Sr's and 15 upperclassmen. UTEP has ply'd 3 bowl caliber tms going 1-2 SU (2-1 ATS) and being outscored 34-26 and outgained 493-346 while the Cougars took on 7 going 2-5 SU (4-3 ATS) being outscored 26-15 and outgained 383-297. The Miners are playing in Albuquerque for the 2nd time TY (beat NM Oct 2nd).

The senior-laden UTEP off (10 Sr strs) ranks #83 as they avgrd 26 ppg and 371 ypg. QB Vittatoe set the schl's all-time pass record mid-ssn but inj's to his shidr and most notably his ankle hampered him in the 2H of the yr as he threw for career-lows in att, comp, yds and comp %. In fact over his L/2Y Vittatoe had a 36-23 rátio vs a 58-16 mark over his 1st 2. RB Buckram was the #1 rusher in CUSA LY but a slew of inj's kept him out of 5 full gms and parts of others. TCU trans Banyard took the bulk of the carries early on with Buckram out. WR Adams was Vittatoe's go-to-guy almost the entire ssn as he leads the tm in rec, yds, ypc and TD rec and has 3 more TD rec than the rest of the tm comb! The OL consists of 5 Sr strs and avg a large 6'5" 307. The group paved the way for 150 ypg (4.6) while all'g just 14 sks (3.5%). The def (#102) all'd 25 ppg and 404 ypg. The tm all'd just 300 ypg in their 6 wins but gave up an amazing 508 ypg in their 6 defeats. The DL avg 6'2" 273 (1 Sr) and all'd 181 ypg rush (4.9) while recording 12 of the tm's 14 sks (86%). The LB unit was led by the trio of Irving, Carter and Smith. S Braxton Amy was granted a 6th yr by the NCAA bolstering the unit but he suffered a career-ending leg inj in wk 2 giving G Jeune the starting gig (led tm in tkls). UTEP has our #64 pass D rating all'g 223 ypg (61%) with a 20-9 ratio. They brought in 2 JC's to handle the tm's kicking duties while McClure handled both the return duties with 2 TD's. The coverage units all'd 22.3 on KR and 11.6 on PR (#16 overall ST rating)

BYU began the season using dual-QB's after the loss of 4x 3,000 yd passer Max Hall. After a ssn opening win, BYU lost the next 2 with the QB combo of Heaps and Nelson avg just 155 ypg (50%) with a 1-2 ratio. Nelson was ruled OFY (shoulder) in the 3rd gm and the off was handed to true Fr Heaps. Heaps threw for 499 yds (52%) but had an 0-2 ratio in the next two losses. The top rusher/ rec is Di Luigi and while he will set no records, he has done a nice job of filling in for 3x 1,000 yd rusher Unga. The OL avg 6'5" 314 with 1 Sr str and is paving the way for 164 ypg (4.2) rush. They've started every gm together and have all'd 21 sks (5.4%) although 8 of those came in the loss to Fla St. Overall, the Coug offense ranks #78. The DL is anchored by emotional leader So'oto who tops the team with 10.5 tfl. The DL has recorded 10 of the tm's 20 sks TY and all's 4.1 ypc. The Cougs have our #46 rated D. The secondary is led by S Andrew Rich who is the tm's top tkl'r while diminutive CB Logan (5'6") ranks #3. BYU ranks #24 in our pass eff D rankings all'g 188 ypg (54%) with a 17-13 ratio. The ST's unit ranks #61 behind record setting PK Payne. The Cougs have not had a KR TD in 155 gms (dating back to '98) and suffered with the midseason susp and subsequent dismissal of KR/PR Chambers. The return units allow 5.8 ypr on PR and 22.7 on KR.

UTEP is thrilled to be back in a bowl after a 4 year hiatus and HC Price called this a snake-bit season with inj's. They are led by RB Buckram who LY had 1,600 yds and should now be healthy. BYU finished the season winning 4 of 5 gms and covering the final 4 with the defense excelling after Mendenhall took over and in fact had shutout the L/4 opps at the half. Always look to take a DD dog in a non-NYD bowl and you have to feel that the Miners will be prepared and are healthier here.

The series is tied 2-2 SU (1-1 ATS). In the last meeting, the Bulldogs won 55-7 (-22) in Fresno in '91. This is the Huskies' 6th bowl appearance (2-3 SU and 1-3 ATS) and their 3rd in 3 yrs. However, NI is 0-3 SU and ATS in bowls S/06 incl a mark of 0-2 SU/ATS under HC Kill who left after the MAC Champ to take the HC position at Minnesota. LB cch Matukewicz will serve as the Huskies' interim HC for the bowl and he was on Kill's staff for the bowls in '08 and '09. FSU is 10-9 SU and 6-7 ATS in bowl gms (4-6 SU and 5-5 ATS under HC Hill). The Bulldogs are appearing in their 11th bowl gm in the L/12Y (none in '06) and 7 of those gms were decided by one score or less (5 ppg avg) with FSU going 2-5 SU/3-4 ATS in those gms. Fresno is looking to shake off B2B bowl losses by a comb 12 pts despite being the fav in both. The Bulldogs are playing their 2nd gm in Boise TY as they were destroyed by BSU here on Nov. 19. FSU has played on "The Blue" every other yr S/02 in addition to two bowl gms in Bronco Stadium in '04 (won 37-34 vs UVA in OT, +5) and '07 (won 40-28 vs GT, +6).

The Huskies are coming off their 2nd last-min loss in as many trips to the MAC Title gm. After allowing a gm-winning TD to Akron with :10 left in '05 (lost 31-30, -13) they all'd Miami to score with :33 left in this year's Title game and fell, 26-21 (-17'). However, unlike being left at home for the postssn in '05, the Huskies get a chance to go bowling this time around. Kill preached to his tm about keeping an even keel all ssn long so despite the loss, they should be ready to go here. Kill sat QB Harnish in the opener to teach him that he had to earn the starting job and not to just expect it. Harnish responded and finished the reg ssn #1 in the MAC in pass eff, #3 in ttl off and #6 in rushing despite sitting many 2H's after building big leads. The #31 off also had just 14 TO's TY. RB Spann was named the MAC POY as he led in rushing and scoring (20 TD). While Harnish spread the ball around, NI's top 4 WR's accounted for 78% of the rec yds and 20 of the 22 rec TD's. The OL avg 6'4" 309 (0 Sr) and started 94% of the gms together while paving the way for the MAC's #1 rush off with 265 ypg (6.2 ypc) and all'g just 13 sks (surrendered 3 in the MAC Champ). The Huskies' D (7 Sr st'rs) finished the reg ssn #1 in the MAC in scoring def, #3 in ttl def and #57 overall in our rankings. The DL avg 6'3" 265 (3 "Sr) and is led by DE Coffman with a tm-best 6.5 sks. NI all'd just 131 ypg rush (4.0) with 24 sks. The Huskies have our #42 pass eff def all'g 202 ypg (57%) with a solid 13-16 ratio and our #51 ST unit. While NI had just a net P avg of 33.7, they blocked 4 punts and returned 2 for TD's. It's no secret the Bulldogs play a physical style of football up front and want to run the ball under Pat Hill. FSU finished #8 in the NCAA in rushing LY (229 ypg) and diminutive soph RB Rouse (5'7" 185) entered the set as the feature back but there were questions about his durphility Rouse were 185) entered the ssn as the feature back but there were questions about his durability. Rouse was sidelined in Wk 2 with an inj but as the ssn wore on, he not only proved Hill correct, but also made his mark in the FSU record books by becoming the 1st FSU RB ever to rush for 200 yds in B2B gms (286 vs LT, 217 vs UN) en route to topping 1,000 yds. FSU's OL avg 6'5" 312 (3 Sr) but its top two OL (RG Jackson and C Bernardi) where both bitten by the injury bug (saw limited action) which is part of the reason why the Bulldogs 4.1 ypc was their lowest S/02. FSU's DL avg 6'3" 278 (2 Sr) and features arguably the nation's top DE/DT duo in sks in DE Carter and DT Harrell. Carter leads the WAC (#7 NCAA) with 11 sks, while Harrell is 2nd in the WAC (#10 NCAA) with 10.5 sks. As a tm, Fresno has 37 sks (#6 NCAA) to more than triple the output from LY when the unit managed just 11! FSU has our #54 pass eff def but the int ttl has been minimal. Over a 5 yr span ('06-'10), FSU has just 30 int (6 per yr) with TY's mark of 8 equalling a ssn-high during that time frame. FSU is #65 in our ST rankings. S/'02, Fresno leads the nation with 56 blk'd kicks and two-time Groza semi-finalist K Goessling is 81% for his career (50-62) incl 21-28 from 40+ and 5-7 from 50+. FSU has all'd 2 KR and 1 PR for TD's TY.

NI cruised thru the MAC regular season going 8-0 SU and 7-1 ATS but after losing in the MAC Champ, as a 17' pt fav, got shipped out west. They are also dealing with the departure of HC Kill and now are prepped by an interim. Fresno had a pair of BCS wins TY vs Cincy and IL and also had a late lead vs Nevada. As you see in our "Intangibles" the dog in Fresno bowls is 7-0 ATS with Fresno pulling the upset 4 times. Surprised that they're a dog here and we'll certainly take the points.

NO YDS 19 422 First meeting. This is Ohio's 5th bowl game ever and its 3rd in HC Solich's 6 ssns. LY they lost to Marshall in the Little Caesars 21-17 (-3) bringing Solich's record to 2-5 SU/ATS in bowl gms and dropping Ohio to 0-4 SU (0-2 ATS) in bowls. Ohio has been sitting since Nov 26th with bitter disappointment as they lost their ssn finale to Kent St 28-6 (-4) keeping them from their 2nd straight MAC East Title and a spot in the MAC Title game. Troy and HC Blakeney are 1-3 SU and 1-2-1 ATS all-time in bowls losing their last 2 by 3 pts each (both in OT). They have faced the MAC in 2 bowl gms losing 34-21 (-3) to NI in '04 and 44-41 (+3) to CM LY. The Trojans finished the ssn on Dec 4th with 2 wins and when FIU dropped their reg ssn finale by 1, Troy won a share of the crown. They return to the New Orleans Bowl for the third time in the L/5Y. Ohio played 4 bowl tms this TY going 2-2 SU/ATS. They were outscored by a 25-21 avg while being outgained 349-250 (incl a 43-7 loss at Ohio St where they were outgained 439-162). Troy also faced 4 bowl tms TY going 1-3 SU (2-2 ATS) being outscored 44-35 and outgained 464-392. Ohio was 3-3 SU but 4-2 ATS on the road incl an outright again was weighted down by the Ohio St blow out. Troy was 3-4 SU/ATS on the road TY. OU has 10 strated the ssn playing 2 QB's but former lows St transfer Bates was inj'd (missed 3) while locked when who were coming 45 Mad Market and the stransfer Bates was inj'd (missed 3) while locked when who were coming 45 Mad Market and the stransfer Bates was inj'd (missed 3) while locked who was proposed to the stransfer Bates was inj'd (missed 3) while locked who was one coming 45 Mad Market and the stransfer Bates was inj'd (missed 3) while locked who was one coming 45 Mad Market and the stransfer Bates was inj'd (missed 3) while locked who was one coming 45 Mad Market and the stransfer Bates was inj'd (missed 3) while locked who was one coming 45 Mad Market and the stransfer Bates was inj'd (missed 3) while locked who was one coming 45 Mad Market and the strans

Ohio started the ssn playing 2 QB's but former lowa St transfer Bates was inj'd (missed 3) while Jackson, who was coming off a MedRS (2 gms), played all 12. They finished as Ohio's #2 and #3 rushers and comb to lead the Bobcats in rushing in 7 gms TY incl Bates' 142 vs BG (OU's ssn high). Jackson however had almost 90% of the tm's pass att. RB Davidson had two 100+ yd gms and Harden was the #4 rusher despite missing 6. Ohio lost its top returning WR Brazili (53 rec, 13.2 LY) for the ssn (ply'd 3). Their top WR McCrae, who finished #3 LY, did not even match LY's totals (35, 545). The starting OL avg 6'4" 305 and all 5 have started 8+ gms TY incl 3 that started all 12. OU avg 169 ypg and 4.4 ypc behind them but despite 2 mobile QB's all'd 17 sks (6.8%). OU finished with our #97 off. The D (#66) has 7 fifth yr Sr st'rs (incl all 4 DL) and is all'g just 115 ypg rushing (3.2) and on the ssn has 24 sks. Ohio has our #71 pass eff D all'g 218 ypg (59%) with a 17-17 ratio. The Bobcats have our #15 ST's unit. While not all'g a P block this ssn, all 3 of K Weller's FG misses were blocked. They lead the MAC in net punting (39.4) as Hershey has just 1 TB despite 10 punts of 50+ yds and OU is all'g just 6.9 ypr on punts and just 18.7 on KR's.

Troy has 7 Sr starters on offense (#57) and led the SBC in scoring and ttl off. They are led by rFr QB Robinson, who in his 1st yr as a starter, led the SBC in pass ypg and was 2nd in pass eff but did go through a rough 5 gm patch (3 losses) when he threw 11 of his 15 int. The run game has 4 players with 306+ rush yds each avg at least 4.0 ypc. That incl their top WR Jernigan who not only leads the SBC in rec but also all-purp yds (165 ypg). The OL avg 6'3" 303 with 4 upperclassmen incl 3 Sr's. They have paved the way for 151 rush ypg (4.2) while all'g 24 sks (4.9%). The OL had three 12 gm st'rs while 2 others started 9 each. The D (#103) was just #6 in scoring and #8 in ttl def in the SBC but did lead with 35 sks. Their DE's ranked #2 and #3 in the SBC in sks with DE Massaquoi leading the SBC in ftl (17.5). Despite their sack total they are still all'g 171 ypg rush (4.5) and could struggle vs OU's rush attack (DL avg just 6'2" 257). Troy had our #62 pass eff D all'g 248 ypg (58%) with a 20-12 ratio. They had our #52 spec tms unit despite WR Jernigan having 2 ret TD's as they also all'd 2 TD's (1 PR, 1 KR). They were #2 in the SBC in net punting.

Both had their sights set on conf champs but after failing to reach those goals, meet in the Superdome. Ohio has struggled in their 2 recent bowls and the last time they came down South, they lost to SM 28-7. We do like OU having the options with both QB's and they get a favorable matchup vs a small, aggressive DL. Troy looked like the SBC's top team early, but dropped 5 straight ATS incl outright losses as 16' and 8' pt favs until winning their L/2. This is the Trojans' 3rd trip to this bowl in the L/5Y and they've split the two previous meetings. We'll back the team with the better D who can run the ball.

2010 SPECIAL TEAMS RATINGS

In the text of the bowl write-ups, we have ranked each special teams unit. We devised a formula which takes into account net punting, kick returns, punt returns & kick return defense. The total opportunities for each team was also factored into the equation. As an example, this year, Toledo punted 67 times and returned 20 punts all year. Their net punting average was weighted over 3 times as much as their punt return average ranking due to the difference in attempts. We added a new category a few years ago for net return TD/Blk's. A negative number means a team allowed more blocks & TD's than they garnered. A positive number means that they blk'd more kicks and scored more TD's on returns than they allowed. If a team blocked a punt AND returned the same punt for a TD, we only gave credit for one TD/Blk. However if a team fumbled a punt snap and the other team recovered it we counted that as a blocked punt.

A few years ago we added a formula to grade the kickers and we looked at them in 6 categories. The first was overall accuracy and that % was multiplied by 5 (graded everything on a scale of 1-5). Then we took the amount of FG's made and divided it into the largest amount of FG's made (24) and that percentage was multiplied by 5. Each accounted for 30% of the overall grade. Then we looked at the FG's between 40-49 yds (both # of kicks and %) and that accounted for 30% of the grade. The 50+ factors accounted for 10% of the grade. This grading method gave kickers with stronger legs a higher grade. In past years we have listed a special teams rating, a kicker rating and then two years ago added a combined special teams rating. The K rating accounts for about 26% of the overall grade. This year we just list them by the combined rating, but for you long-time readers looking for the individual ratings that are in the chart listed below.

PRO SELECTIONS WK 15

4★ INDIANAPOLIS over Jacksonville - IND can still win their 7th Div title in 8 years by winning out which makes this the AFC South Championship game. JAX is actually 6-1-1 ATS in IND with a 20-16 avg score. They upset IND 31-28 as a 7 pt HD in the 1st meeting TY with the 8th longest FG in NFL history (59 yds). The Colts are 2-3 SU and 4-1 ATS vs foes with a winning record TY (not inc JAX). They have a 372-313 yd edge with a 25-15 scoring edge but are -8 TO's as Manning has pressed to make up for the depleted skill players. The Jaguars are 0-4 SU and 1-3 ATS vs foes with a winning record TY (minus IND) losing the yardage battle in all 4 events. They have been outgained 409-291 in those (-9 TO's) losing by a 33-14 avg score. Yes, the Colts have failed to cover 3 straight but they expect to get WR Collie, WLB Session and possibly CB Hayden and RB Addai back with the extra rest. Del Rio deserves to be commended for making the most out of a soft schedule and a healthy roster TY (only 2 starts on IR). We'll side with the more veteran team used to big games at the end of the year

FORECAST: INDIANAPOLIS 34 Jacksonville 20 3★ PITTSBURGH over NY Jets - This is the 1st meeting between the Jets and Steelers since NY won 19-16 as a 9.5 pt AD back in 2007. However, Ryan has plenty of experience with PIT as the Ravens DC from 2005-08 logging a 4-4 SU and 6-2 ATS record. This is a big battle between a pair of Playoff bound teams here and the Steelers could go a long ways to wrapping up the #2 seed with a win while the Jets need a win to stay ahead of the Wild Card pack. The Jets were upset by MIA LW and a closer look shows that the Jets are just 1-4 SU and ATS vs foes with a winning record TY being held to 10 or less in 3 matchups. Minus the 28-14 win vs NE in Wk 2 they have been outgained by 29 ypg (-4 TO's) with a 21-4 avg score. Sanchez has been pretty bland in all 4 games avg 179 ypg (53%) with a 3-5 ratio with a puny 5.9 ypa. PIT is 3-3 SU and ATS being outgained by 3 ypg (0 TO's) with a 19-18 scoring edge. While Roethlisberger is 1-2 SU and ATS vs a foe with a winning record TY avg 278 ypg (60%) with a 4-3 ratio, the key here is the rush attack. PIT has outrushed winning foes 111 (4.4) to 66 (2.9) on the year. We'll side with the home team that relishes physical games with only CAR and CLE on deck vs a Jets team with a road trip to CHI on deck. FORECAST: PITTSBURGH 23 NY Jets 13 OTHER SELECTIONS

2★ Houston overTENNESSEE - The Texans have won and covered 3 of the L4 vs the Titans including a 20-0 shutout win as a 6 pt HF in the 1st meeting TY. TEN started #3 QB Rusty Smith and the Texans had a 346-162 yd edge while being held to just 24 yds rushing (2.0). After starting a different QB for 6 straight games (1-5 ATS), TEN went with Collins and put forth their best effort since the SD game. TEN stole the backdoor cover from the Colts with a 77/14 pl drive and were outgained 399-288 prior to that. In their 6 game losing streak they have been outgained by 116 ypg (-9 TO's) losing by a 25-15 avg score. The defense has given up 147 ypg rush (4.0) with a surprising 9-3 TD/Int ratio and 4 games of a 99 or higher QBR allowed. HOU is off LW's MNF game vs BAL and are 2-5 ATS vs a DIV foe. The Texans have followed the same pattern the last few years and LY after they were out of the playoff race they finished winning 4 straight with a relaxed offense averaging 429 ypg and a fired up defense allowing only 300 ypg. Tennessee's defense has allowed 300+ yards passing in 7 of the last 11 games and if they try to drop back in coverage Houston can again exploit the D with the run game as they did 4 weeks ago (188 yds, 4.8). FORECAST: Houston 31 TENNESSEE 24 2* SEATTLE (+) over Atlanta - This is the Falcons 3rd straight road game (4th in 5 Wks) and they have a big MNF rematch at home vs the Saints on deck. NDIV AF's after a road game with a MNF Div game on deck are 7-1-1 ATS though since 1995. There won't be a lot of enthusiasm for backing SEA here as they are 3-5 SU and ATS vs a NDIV being outgained by 142 ypg and losing by an avg of 11 ppg. In their L3 games vs a foe with a winning record (NYG, NO, KC) they are 0-3 SU and ATS being outgained by 203 ypg (-4 TO's) and losing by 22 ppg. ATL has logged a 7-2 SU and 6-3 ATS record vs NDIV foes TY covering 4 straight with a 30-22 avg score. With those points noted we will take a contrarian stand. This will be the first poor weather game for Ryan and the Falcons this year with the early forecasts in the 40's. A wet field takes away their speed edge and it will be tough to keep the Falcon players from not looking ahead to hosting the Saints next week. Having an energetic HC in his first season with a team that is 4-2 FORECAST: SEATTLE 17 Atlanta 13 ATS at home has us leaning with the Seahawks. OTHER GAMES

San Francisco at SAN DIEGO - When the schedule makers drew this up the thoughts were that a pair of division leaders would be facing off. San Fran is now playing their 3rd away game in 18 days while San Diego is home for a 3rd straight. The Chargers are used to playing with "must win" pressure but LY when they had to run the table they finished 0-2-1 ATS as a favorite. Call the NC Debit Card System for the winner on tonight's PPH Play for $9. Updated Thurs at 3:00 pm EST! ST LOUIS 34 Kansas City 31 - The state of Missouri has a rebirth of NFL talent as these 2 were a combined 4-22 SU at the same time LY and they are familiar with each other as they meet annually in preseason for the Governors Cup. LW KC was without QB Cassel (appendix) and the Chiefs were forced to go with Brodie Croyle at the helm. Croyle was ineffective but Cassel should be fine to go here. The Chiefs playoff run started LW as they traveled to SD and perception met reality as SD dominated. They are now playing with added pressure as are also playing on the road for a 2nd straight and a tiring 5th time in 7 weeks. The Rams return home after a lengthy 3 game road trip incl LW as they lost to NO as we cashed our NFL GOY. This Rams team continues to be resilient as they're 5-1 ATS off a SU loss. QB Bradford was bothered by the Saints blitzing LW but KC has not had success away from home with only 10 sacks in their 1st 6 road games. We went against both teams with Late Phone Winners last week but will side with the home team that can easily get energized by their home crowd.

CAROLINA 17 Arizona 13- This is the 5th meeting in 4 years with visitor being 4-0 ATS (3-1 SU) with a 29-18 avg score. CAR won LY's matchup 34-21 as a 10 pt AD as the Cardinals self-destructed with 6 TO's that the Panthers converted into 13 pts. CAR wore down the Cardinals with a 270 (6.1) to 94 (5.5) rush edge after taking a 28-7 lead at the half. Much has been made of Fox's disconnect with the front office and ownership lately especially with the Panthers being 1-6 SU/ATS at home. Clausen has had a steep learning curve TY (0-7 SU and 2-5 ATS with 1 TD pass) but he has a huge edge over ARZ who could be starting John Skelton again here. Buried as the #3 QB all year Skelton only had a weeks worth of practice snaps with the #1's LW and it showed. Against a depleted DEN defense he was just 15-37-146. We have profited by going against both teams this year but will side with the home team this week. Carolina has the better defense and a young QB will struggle making his first road start against a defense allowing 56% completions at home. If Arizona tries to be conservative and run the Panthers are holding opponents to under 4.0 ypc at home.

Cleveland 23 CINCINNATI 16 - ČLÉ is 5-2 ATS vs the Bengals logging a 23-20 win as a 2.5 pt HD TY starting the Bengals on a 10 game losing streak. CIN had a 413-295 yd edge but 2 fumbles set up a pair of FG's for the Browns. On their final drive CIN worked the ball down the field to the CLE 31. An offensive pass interference penalty on Ochocinco made it 3 & 13 on the 41 where Palmer was sacked and CLE ran out the final 4:41. Owens had his best game of they year with 10 rec (22.2) but his 78 yd TD came when the CLE defender slipped in coverage. The Browns have gone with Delhomme at QB the L3W and after a win against Carolina the offense had bogged down and gained 252 yds in a win at Miami but LW the offense totaled just 187 yds including just 56 yds on the last 6 drives. Cincinnati meanwhile got out to an early 7-0 lead at Pittsburgh but they were held to 132 TOTAL yards before 58 yds in garbage time trailing 23-7. The Bengals have now been outgained in 4 straight games by an average of 133 ypg as the veterans have resigned themselves to a lost season.

MIAMI 24 Buffalo 21 - The Dolphins are 4-1 SU/ATS vs the Bills including a 15-10 win as a 3 pt AF in Wk 1. There was little film of how Gailey worked his offense from the preseason and the Dolphins were cautious on both sides of the ball. MIA had a 296-166 yd edge holding the Bills to just 1 drive over 30 yds with 7 of their 1st 9 drives ending as a punt. Henne was very tentative with 182 yds (62%) as the Dolphins had a 132 (3.7) to 50 (2.9) yd rush edge. Henne (268 yds 63% 7-9) is 1-4 SU and 2-3 ATS as a starter at home TY and has only led MIA a TD on 9 of 56 drives (16%) at home with 18 drives (32%) ending in punts. He hasn't had much help on the ground as the Brown/Williams combo have been largely ineffective TY with MIA being outrushed 108 (3.7) to 81 (3.5) at home (159 ypg 4.5 at home LY). The Bills got a win last week as they outgained the Browns 323-187 holding them to 9 FD's. Since their bye week Buffalo is 5-1-2 ATS and much of the credit can go to a beleaguered OL that has allowed 2 sacks in just 1 game (BAL). BUF continues to play hard and keeps it within the number. NY GIANTS 33 Philadelphia 23 - Including playoffs PHI has won and covered 5 straight vs NYG with a 31-19 avg score. PHI won the 1st game TY 27-17 as a 3 pt HF. NY rallied from a 16-3 deficit to take the lead early 4Q but a def offsides pen on 3&5 set up a 50 yd TD run by McCoy on 4th Dn. Manning then fmbl'd the ball on a 16 yd scramble which set up a 30 yd FG to seal it. Despite being outgained 392-208 the Giants had a solid def gameplan as while Vick had 258 yds passing (63%) he only had 34 yds rushing (3.1) and no passing TD's. The Giants had an unusual week flying into KC and then back to Detroit to face MIN. While it took them out of their routine and gave them one less day to prep they know the Eagles well enough to not make that an issue. Manning blamed himself for the loss to the Eagles and NYG continues to be overlooked as one of the league's premier teams (#2 off, #4 def YTD).

DALLAS 31 Washington 14 - Despite traditionally having the talent and coaching edge over the L5Y over WAS the Cowboys are 4-4 SU and 2-6 ATS vs the Redskins. This includes a 13-7 loss as a 3.5 pt AF in Wk 1 on SNF. DAL had 380-250 yd and 8:06 TOP edges in the game with an impressive goal line stand by the defense on the 1st drive of the 2H when the Redkskins had 1&gl from the 5. DAL missed a 34 yd FG WR in the 2Q and were hit with 5 penalties including an offensive holding penalty which nullified the game winning TD by Romo after a great scramble and throw to WR Williams on the final play of the game. The Cowboys are off a Sunday Night game with Philly but have reeled off 4 straight ATS wins since making the coaching change. While the offense has put up their 2nd and 3rd highest totals gaining 427 at the NYG and 457 vs NO the key to the turnaround is that the Kitna run offense has turned the ball over just 2 times in the 3 SU wins. While a late season win LW could have given the Redskins a morale boost to finish the season we can't think of a more deflating way to lose a game than to score on the final play and then botch an extra point attempt.

TAMPA BAY 24 Detroit 21 - TB won the last meeting in 2008, 38-20 as an 8.5 pt AF. This is the Lions 1st road game in 4 Wks and they've lost an NFL record 26 straight road games (9-16-1 ATS). TB is only 3-14 ATS at home though where they have been outgained by 25 ypg (+2 TO's) and outscored 24-18 TY. Both teams have had their share of injuries lately with DÉT down to #3 QB Stanton, losing DE Vanden Bosch (neck) and CB Smith (right shoulder) landing on IR. TB's injury situation is more dire however as prior to LW's17-16 win vs WAS they lost their best CB (Talib), starting SS (Grimm), Ctr (Faine), RG (Joseph), #3 DE (Moore) and demoted their starting RT (Trueblood) due to poor play. The Lions knocked GB's Rogers out of the game and the defense came to play holding the Packers to 13 FD's and 258 yds. Detroit is now 9-3-1 ATS on the year and a late season win over a division rival can give this young team the energy to not only finish the season strong but perhaps pull an upset as well. Tampa Bay is still not accustomed to the favorites role and they play much tighter with the lead. DL Suh is dominating the middle for Detroit and by him occupying 2 OL on every play the Lions have held 5 of their last 10 opponents to 290 yds or less. It'll be a low scoring close game with one team playing loose which gives DET the edge.

New Orleans 23 BALTIMORE 20 - This game features a pair of playoff teams that have to play hard and get a little help to win their divisions. NO hasn't done very well at cold weather sites in Dec the L3Y going 2-2 SU and 0-3-1 ATS losing to CHI twice SU, being taken to OT vs WAS LY as a 9.5 pt fav LY and blowing a lead vs CIN 2 Wks ago to lose ATS. Baltimore is off a Monday night game at Houston and they still are thinking about giving the game away vs Pittsburgh. While the Ravens defense has held 4 of 5 opponents to under 290 yds the L5W they are still getting exposed thru the air. They allowed 307 yds passing at home vs Denver, 374 yds passing at home vs Buffalo and allowed 307 yds passing to Atlanta vs the only true passing offenses they've faced. If you can move on Baltimore and their offense doesn't get setup with good field position they've been pedestrian averaging 333 pg the L4W. The Saints offense is now getting their weapons back and last week cashed as our NFL GOY in a 31-13 win over St Louis. New Orleans on the road has now topped 400+ yds 4 straight games averaging 433 ypg. The early forecast is for temperatures in the 40's so we have no problems eaning with a quality road team that has won 13 of their last 14 away games outright.

OAKLAND 34 Denver 24 - In a mild surprise, the Raiders find themselves with the situational, technical and talent edges here. OAK is 7-2 ATS vs DEN including a 59-14 win as a 7 pt AD in the 1st meeting TY where they dominated with a 328 (6.3) to 75 (4.4) rush edge. Including that game the Raiders are 4-0 SU/ATS in DIV play outgaining foes by 35 ypg (+2 TO's) with a 36-18 avg score. They are getting the Broncos at the right time as they are on their 4th road game in 5 Wks (3rd straight) with career RB coach Studesville in his 2nd game as interim HC. DEN had a favorable matchup vs an ARZ team down to its 3rd string QB LW and looked inept getting outgained 357-288. The secret to the Raiders success is simple and that is running the ball. They have rushed for over 135+ yards 4 times this season winning is simple and that is running the ball. They have rushed for over 130+ yatus 4 unites this season withining each and now they face a Broncos defense allowing 169 ypg & 4.6 ypc on the road. The Broncos have also struggled with protection and in the L6W they've allowed 3+ sacks in 5 games losing all of them and the Raiders have had multiple sacks in 12 of 13 games TY incl 26 L/TW.

Green Bay at NEW ENGLAND - The Patriots are playing in the national TV spotlight for the 4th time in 6 weeks. New England has won 15 straight at home covering 9 of the last 13. The Packers meanwhile have been road warriors going 13-4-1 ATS as an AD. Both need a win to stay in contention for a division crown. Get the Sunday Night winner on the NC Debit Card System for only $9 after 11:00 am EST on Sunday.

Chicago at MINNESOTA - MIN was uprooted last week having to play in Detroit versus the Giants but they should be able to host this game. Ex-CUSA rivals meet in this bowl with SM holding an 18-9-1 edge in the series. UL has won the L/4 vs SM with the most recent meeting being a 25-23 contest in '09 (UL +2' at home). UL grabbed their 1st bowl bid S/'06's trip to the Orange Bowl and they should have a strong fan following. It's a 10 hr drive for SM fans and they traditionally travel well but have played closer to home in recent yrs. UL HC Strong will coach his 2nd bowl as he was the interim coach of FL for their 27-10 loss to Miami (FL) in the '04 Peach Bowl. SM HC Fedora is 1-1 SU/ATS in bowls but has faced 2 Sun Belt foes and now jumps up to a BCS foe. Strong (DC) and Fedora (OC) coached together at FL from '03-'04. UL is 6-8 SU (4-7 ATS) all-time in bowls and SM is playing their 9th str bowl gm. UL is 3-2 SU, 4-1 ATS on the road TY while SM is 4-2 SU, 3-3 ATS on the road. Both tms dominated Mem with substantial yd edges. SM has 8 Sr st'rs (16 upperclassmen) while UL has 13 Sr's (14 upperclassmen). UL is 2-4 SÚ/ATS vs bowl tms being outgained 282-277. SM is 1-3 SU/ATS vs bowl tms being outscored 41-34 but outgaining those tms 446-439

UL has shown great improvement under 1st yr HC Strong. The offense ranks #57 but has been besieged by inj's to key players incl their starting QB, RB and top WR. Starting QB Froman missed the L/4 with a leg inj (CS) and the off became more conservative under Burke. In the L/4 UL avg'd 161 pass ypg (213 avg 1st 8). AA RB Powell had seven 100+ yd gms but missed most of 2 gms (incl 4 carries for 0 yds vs WV w/flu) and the off was held to a ssn low 171 yds without him. Because of the conservative passing gm, TE Graham is the tm's top receiver and is the top receiving TE in the BE. Top WR Beaumont missed 2 (knee) and has been banged up all yr. The OL avg 6'5" 299 with 4 Sr str's and has all'd 16 sks (#2 BE). Strong was one of the top DC's in the country at FL and S Carolina for many yrs and the UL D has improved from all'g 371 ypg LY to 305 ypg in '10. UL's #36 D all'd just 259 ypg in the L/6 (350 ypg 1st 6) and 142 rush ypg (4.0) for the year. The DL avg 6'3" 271 with 1 Sr str's but 3 frosh (2 true) start on the DL. UL ranks #31 in our pass D rankings (#106 LY) all'g just 163 ypg (54%) with a 13-9 ratio. Patrick is 1 of the top CB's in the NCAA and leads the BE in pd (16). UL is #37 in our ST rankings with a solid net punting avg of 37.1 and excellent returnmen plus solid coverage units (allow 4.9 per PR, 24.1 per KR).

SM has our #39 off ranking as they avg'd 38 ppg and 458 ypg, both significant improvements from LY. QB Davis did a nice job TY after playing in just the 1st 5 LY before being lost with inj. In fact, his health kept Young from seeing much action as he appeared in just 6 (207 less pass att). RFr Hardy took over at RB as he tallied 676 of his 855 yds over the L/6. A surprising note for the SM pass gm TY was that they had most of their success w/o star WR Brown who ply'd in just 5 gms (1 start) due to a leg inj (31 fewer rec than '09). Morris, Pierce and JC trans Bolden took in the majority of the catches. The OL (6'3' 303) was patchwork due to some inj's and heading into the bowl, the projected st'rs compiled 49 of the def all'd 361 ypg on the ssn (29 ppg) as they only trailed UCF in yds all'd among CUSA members (our #58 rating). The DL avg 6'2" 273 (2 Sr) but much like the OL, had a plethora of inj (32 of 48 sts, 67%) incl losing DE Jones who was one of the shooting victims after the upset of UCF. The front 4 surrendered in 112 years at the ground (26) with a complication of the bit of the bit of the shooting victims after the upset of UCF. The front 4 surrendered in the ground (26) with a complication of the bit of the bit of the life (50%). The LR unit took to be bit in the complication of the shooting victims after the upset of UCF. The front 4 surrendered in the properties of the properties of the bit of the properties of the proper 113 ypg on the ground (3.6) while compiling 16 of the tm's 26 sks (62%). The LB unit took a big hit when 2 yr st'r Martez Smith was lost to a knee inj after just 6 (later paralyzed due to gunshot wound). The secondary all'd 248 ypg (57%) w/a 26-17 ratio ranking #58 in our pass D ratings led by S Justin Wilson and rFr Deron Wilson. The ST's have been carried all yr by AA and Groza Finalist Hrapmann. The return units avg'd 23.6 on KR and 7.2 on PR's while they all'd 23.7 on KR and 5.1 on PR.

SM's offense has been near-dominant going Over the total 7 of the L/8 incl avg 47 ppg the L/5. Louisville plays in the offensively-challenged BE and they've spent the 2H of the season without some key offensive stars. All should be back and each tm has enough playmakers to favor the Over

Boise leads the series 4-2 SU (3-0 ATS) and has won the L/3. In the most recent meeting in '06, BSU won 36-3 (+5) in Salt Lake City, but this is their first bowl matchup. Utah is 12-3 SU and 10-3 ATS in bowl gms (5-0 SU and 4-1 ATS under HC Whittingham) and owns the nation's longest active bowl win streak at 9 gms ('99, '01, '03-'09) going 7-2 ATS during that span. The Utes are 2-0 SU and 1-1 ATS in the Las Vegas Bowl with wins over Fresno ('99) and USC ('01) while Boise is making its first appearance here. While this spot is normally reserved for the MWC winner, Utah stepped up into this one after TCU earned a BCS spot. BSU is making its 9th consecutive bowl appearance and its 11th in the L/12 yrs. The Broncos are 6-4 SU and 7-3 ATS in bowls (2-2 SU and 3-1 ATS under HC Petersen). In Boise's L/7 bowl gms, all 7 were decided by less than one score with the avg MOV of just 3.6 ppg! Each school has manageable driving distances (Salt Lake City 6 hrs, Boise 10 hrs) allowing both fan bases easy accessibility to Las Vegas

Utah QB Wynn started 10 gms TY after missing 2 early (inj) but was pulled in the ssn finale for Cain (reinserted after Cain threw his 2nd int). Wynn hoped to redeem himself in the bowl gm after a subpar outing vs BYU, but shoulder surg will sideline him which means the duties have been turned back over to Cain. RB's Asiata and Wide spent the ssn splitting carries and while the Utes have split carries like that in the past, it was the 1st time S/'05 that the top 2 had more than 140 att (in '05, QB Johnson was #2 with 152). The OL avg 6'4" 299 (2 Sr) and has started 97% of the att (in '05, QB Johnson was #2 with 152). The OL avg 6'4" 299 (2 Sr) and has started 97% of the gms together. They paved the way for 157 ypg (4.7) while all'g just 8 sks (2.1%). The DL avg 6'4" 275 (1 Sr) starting 81% of the gms together while all'g 104 ypg rush (3.0) with 14 of the tm's 28 sks. LB's Walker and Martinez are the tm's top two tkl'rs, respectively. Utah ranks #83 in our pass eff D all'g 216 ypg (60%) with an 18-11 ratio. The ST's rank #6 behind AA PR Smithson. Early in the ssn, his ret's put Utah in a position to win numerous times and he got into the EZ twice on PR (19.7). He also avg 24.1 on KR but hasn't scored a TD that way (yet). P Sellwood has booted to nine of 50+ yds TY. The PR D all's 9.8 while the KR D all's 18.8.

Heisman finalist QB Moore is 37-2 as a starter and is #2 in the NCAA in pass eff (185.04). He has completed 60% or better in every gm TY incl 10 gms in which he hit over 70% of his passes. Moore leads an off that avg 319 ypg pass and 200 ypg rush and has a pair of outstanding WR's

Moore leads an off that avg 319 ypg pass and 200 ypg rush and has a pair of outstanding WR's in Pettis (BSU career rec leader) and Young (BSU career rec yds leader) who both rank in the Top 5 at Boise in career rec, rec yds and rec TD's. Moore also has the luxury of 1,000-yd rusher RB Martin who played his way out of a talent-filled backfield and has proven to be a rec threat himself. The OL avg 6'3" 284 (2 Sr) and opened holes for a run gm that avg 5.3 ypc and has all'd just 7 sks (1.8%) which is 4th-best in the NCAA. BSU is arguably the most balanced tm in the nation ranking #4 in the NCAA in both ttl off (520 ypg) and ttl def (259 ypg). The D plays so well together that many of the individual stats are underwhelming. The DL avg 6'3" 277 (1 Sr) and accounted for 33.5 of the tm's 45 sks (74%) while holding foes to just 2.9 ypc. The Broncos are #3 in our pass D rankings allowing just 8 TD passes and nearly doubled that amount (14) in int. BSU's ST rank #23 and Brotzman had quietly been going about his business (needs 3 pts to break the record for most career pts by a K in FBS history) handling both P and PK duties. Prior to his costly FG misses vs UN (26 and 29 yds), he hadn't missed a FG inside 50 yds since the opener. Brotzman also uses an effective rugby-style technique on P. BSU's PR unit is solid with 3 players avg at least 10 ypr. This year's bowl for Boise should be defined as "bubble-burst." The BCS Championship gm was within reach and while they rebounded with a convincing win in the son finale, the layoff in the bowl will have them thinking about 'what if'. The Utes travel to Vegas with the nation's longest current bowl streak having won 9 straight and remember, they have a pair of BCS bowl wins in the L/6Y. Utah will not be intimidated by Boise, is used to traveling to Vegas and will relish the role of underdog as they are the second largest dog on the board. RATING: 4★ UTAH (+)

SDSt and Navy meet for the 3rd time and SDSt has won both previous matchups. The last meeting was a 45-31 final in '97. This is SDSt's first bowl appearance since the 1998 Las Vegas Bowl, a 20-13 loss to NC. This is Navy's 8th str bowl, a school record, and their 3rd trip to the Poinsettia Bowl (1-1 SU/2-0 ATS previously) with their last trip a 35-32 loss to Utah in '07. SDSt HC Hoke is 0-1 SU/ATS losing his only bowl as HC (at Ball St) to Rutger's 52-30 in the '07 Int'l Bowl. Navy HC Niumatalolo is 1-2 SU/2-1 ATS in bowls as he earned his first bowl win LY in their blowout upset (+6') of Missouri 35-13 in the Texas Bowl. Niumatalolo and Hoke faced each other in '08 and Hoke's Ball St squad won 35-23 (-7). Navy is 4-2 SU/5-1 ATS vs bowl tms outscoring those tms 32-20 and outgaining them 416-382. SDSt is 1-4 SU/3-2 ATS vs bowl tms being outscored 31-28 and outgained 462-410 but none of their 4 losses were by more than 5 pts. They were a blown call (vs Missouri on GW TD run), a "replay-gate" (BYU) and a blk'd P (Utah, set up GW score) from an 11-1 record. Both tms faced AF with SDSt (+1) winning 27-25 despite being outgained 487-452 and outFD'd 29-16 and Navy (+9") losing 14-6. Navy is 5-2 SU/ATS on the road TY and SDSt is 3-3 SU/3-2-1ATS. Although SDSt is playing in their home stadium, Navy brought 20,000+ fans to the last 2 Poinsettia Bowls as there is a large Naval Base in San Diego and SDSt only avg'd 31,814 fans per home gm this year.

Although it's another winning season for the Midshipmen, they didn't live up to the lofty pressn expectations. Navy lost to rival AF ending a streak of 7 str wins in that series and lost the CIC Trophy for the 1st time S/02. Navy did heat up in the 2H of ssn avg 43 pgg in L/5 gms prior to Army incl a convincing win over rival ND. Coming into the ssn, QB Dobbs was listed as a Heisman contender after he broke Tim Tebow's record for rush TD's (27) LY. Dobbs suffered through some inj's during the ssn and missed the CM gm with a concussion but still finished as the tm's top rusher and threw for a career-high pass yds, but his rush totals fell by 343 yds. FB Teich took over the starting job in gm 6 after Murray was inj'd and never relinquished the job. WR Jones will finish with the most rec yds for Navy since '94. The OL starters avg 6'4" 270 with 1 Sr st'rs and Navy is avg 289 rush ypg which is #5 in the NCAA. Overall Navy is #54 in our off rankings and 46 #81 on defense. The DL avg 6'3" 258 with 2 Sr st'rs, but the leader of the unit is Jr DE Tuani who has been 3 defense. playing through inj all yr but leads the tm in tfl (15.5). Overall the tm has just 18 sks with 12.5 by the DL Top tkľr LB Sĭmmons has been outstanding in his 1st yr as a starter and has 4.6 spd. Navy always ranks low in our pass D rankings because they don't face a pass attack in practice and this year is #104 allowing 220 ypg (68%) with an 20-7 ratio. ROV Middleton is Navy's defensive leader and 1 of the academy's top Safeties in recent yrs. Navy is #103 in our ST rankings with low net punting and mediocre returns but solid

K Buckley ret'd from missing 3 gms in the 2H of the ssn and should be healthy for the bowl.

San Diego St is led by MWC COY Hoke, who in his 2nd year, led the Aztecs to their most wins since 1996. The offense comes in at #32. Slinger Lindley has six 300 yd pass gms incl a career-high 528 vs Utah. His 30 straight starts set SDSt's record and he is just the 3rd in school history with B2B 3,000 yd passing seasons. He helped his offense to more than 500 ttl yds 5x's this season. The run gm is led by MWC FOY true Hillman, who exploded on the scene after an investigation sent him home last season (grayshirt). He's drawn many comparisons to SDSt-great Marshall Faulk. For the 1st time S/02, SDSt (grayshirt). He's drawn many comparisons to SDSt-great warshall Faluit. For the 1st time $7.02, $DSt had 2 rec's over 1,000 yds in future-NFL'ers Sampson and Brown. The OL avg 6'4" 298 with 1 Sr starter and has started every gm together. They pave the way for 152 ypg (4.6) and allowed just 9 sks (2.2%) which is even more impressive when you consider that Lindley hesitates to run. The DL avg 6'3" 272 with 2 Sr starters and tallied just 9 of the tm's 28 sks (32%). They have been susceptible to the run this year, allowing 200+ yds 3x's incl a ssn-high 312 vs the AF option (5.0). LB Burris is the team's top tkl'r and leads with 19 ffl TY. The Aztecs rank #44 in our pass eff D all'g 210 ypg (52%) with an 17-9 ratio. 1st Tm MWC McFadden has totaled 14 pd TY while Perez has 10. SDSt finished #109 in our ST's ratings.

It's not easy to buck a service academy in a bowl but this is more like a regular season gm with Navy having played just 12 days ago. SDSt now has the benefit of extra practice time to prep while also having faced Air Force each year in their conf sked. One of the biggest mismatches of this bowl season are the WR's of SDSt vs the CB's of Navy.

SCH

TU UH CCH VV UH's D was impressive vs a pair of mobile QB's in luge edge being a DD dog in a non-NYD/

These two are former WAC foes ('96-'04) and UH leads the series 5-3 SU and 4-3 ATS and has won 3 of the L/4 (2-2 ATS). The Warriors won the most recent gm 44-16 (-11) in Honolulu where they are 3-1 SU and 2-2 ATS vs the Hurricane. TU is 7-9 SU and 4-2 ATS in bowl gms incl a mark of 2-0 SU/ATS under HC Graham. The Hurricane is making its 5th bowl in the L/6Y and is on a 3-1 SU/ATS run. UH is 5-4 SU and 4-5 ATS in bowls (0-1 SU/ATS under HC McMackin) and is playing in its 7th bowl the L/9Y. This will also be UH's 6th appearance in the hometown Hawaii Bowl where they're 3-2 SU and 2-3 ATS (Warriors are 4-3 SU and 3-4 ATS in bowls on the Island). TU was 3-3 SU/ATS vs bowl-eligible tms TY while UH went 3-2 SU and 4-1 ATS.

The Hurricane has a lethal off (#17) that avg'd 40 ppg and 503 ypg. QB Kinne improved his play throughout the yr and actually ended up leading the tm in rush yds making him an even more valuable threat. TU used a slew of RB's TY but surprisingly, the top RB (Singleton) ended up 3rd behind QB Kinne and WR D. Johnson. It was impressive to see the way Kinne was able to distribute the ball as 7 had 18 or more rec led by D. Johnson whose big-play ability was displayed in their upset of ND. HB Clay led the tm in TD rec while true Fr Roberson and R. Johnson filled out the rest of the strs. The OL avg 6'3" 331 (0 Sr) paving the way for a CUSA-best 219 ypg rush (5.2) while all'g 24 sks (5.5%). TU was one of just 6 CUSA tms to allow less than 30 ppg on the ssn (443 ypg) but finished with our #91 overall rating. The DL avg 6'3" 277 (1 Sr). The 3 man group all'd 137 ypg on the ground (4.0) while posting 11 of the tm's 24 sks (46%). The LB unit was led by Arnick and True Fr Jackson who finished 1st and 3rd on the tm in tkls. The secondary was victimized for 574 pass yds vs OkSt early in the yr but improved towards the EOY holding 3 of their L/4 opp under 300 yds. Overall TU all'd 306 ypg (61%) with a 30-19 ratio for a #85 pass def ranking. The ST's were outstanding finishing with our #11 rating. D. Johnson broke WM West's 4 yr NCAA career KR record (3,118) which is remarkable considering he's just a Jr. The tm has been equally impressive in KR and PR yds all'd as they are 10th (18.9) and 1st (2.1) in the nation.

UH added a new wrinkle to its off TY by incorporating the "Pistol" into the mix with its staple - the Run-and-Shoot. While the high-octane off (#16) is still churning the passing yds and still utilizes the "Hawaii-Five-O" set, the run gm has flourished and produced a 1,000 yd rusher for the first time S/99 in RB Green (schl record 327 yds vs NMSt). The OL avg 6'3" 308 (4 Sr) and under McMackin, UH's rush avg has improved each yr going from 3.2 in '08, to 4.5 to 5.0. Despite the upgrade in the run gm, the off still centers around the QB. Former walk-on Moniz was not only buried on the 2 dp LY (#6 QB at one point), he was better known for his job as a pizza delivery guy than a UH QB. However, as attrition took its toll on the unit, he worked his way up the chart before eventually being named the str and hasn't looked back since. Moniz, the NCAA's leader in ttl off (362 ypg), etched his name into the UH record books TY setting a schl record with 560 pass yds vs SJSt. Slot WR atoga #226 13/13 32 1 1.5 0 0 Nov saw to be such that the Warriors have the largest increased its int's from 12 to 23 and raised the sk ttl from 18 to 26 (incl a school-record 8 vs SJSt). K Fairly obvious that the Warriors have the largest Enos improved his mark to 17-21 (12-19 '09) and his streak of 100 PAT's without a miss is a school large wallow where they went 70 NTS. nome edge we allow, where they went 7-0 ATS. record, while P Dunnachie improved his avg to 43.1 ypp (39.2) while adjusting to not outkicking his coverage. UH's PR unit has struggled as it avg's just 4.6 ypr while all'g 14.1 ypr.

Two of the nation's hottest tms square off as Tulsa has covered 8 of 9 while Hawaii is 11-2 ATS.

The Warriors have used their home edge to maul teams but now with the added time prior to the bowl it negates some of that advantage. From gm 4 on, the Tulsa offense has clicked and that includes outright upsets at both Notre Dame and Houston.

This is the Rockets and Golden Panthers third meeting in the past three seasons. The series is tied at 1-1 SU/ATS with the road team winning both matchups. In 2008 FIU pulled the outright 35-16 upset as a 19' pt AD despite Toledo having 20-12 FD and 302-239 yd edges as FIU was +4 TO's. (8-4)Last year UT (pick 'em) had a 566-372 yd edge but gave up a TD with :03 left and only won 41-31. FIU won its first ever SBC Title and this is also its first ever bowl. While the SBC Champion has usually gone to the New Orleans Bowl, the Panthers avg'd just 16,545 fans this year while a huge turnout from nearby Toledo is expected (UT campus just 60 miles from Detroit) to fill Ford Field. This is the Rockets 11th all-time postseason bowl trip but their first since '05 when they beat UTEP in the GMAC Bowl 45-13 as just a 3 pt favorite. Toledo went 7-1 in MAC play but was steamrolled by Div rival NI. FIU was 1-4 SU (2-3 ATS) vs bowl tms TY while the Rockets went 2-3 SU/ATS (outscored 40-21 and outgained 440-266) vs their 5 bowl caliber foes. The Panthers have 8 Sr starters among 40-21 and outgained 440-256) vs trieir 5 bowl caliber loes. The Parlithers have 8 Sr starters among 12 upperclassmen while the Rockets started 5 Sr's and 16 upperclassmen.

The Golden Panthers finished #3 in scoring and ttl off in the SBC despite playing 4 BCS tms (#73 overall off). QB Carroll had just one 300+ yd gm in his first yr as the starter but that was 355 vs Maryland. FIU has 5 players with 278+ rush yds who all avg at least 4.0 ypc. That includes WR Hilton who avg 157 all-purp ypg. FIU's OL has 2 Sr starters and avg just 6'3" 295 but paved the way for 189 ypg rushing and an impressive 4.7 ypc while all'g 18 sks (5.1%). FIU's #82 defense is the reason they are here as they led the SBC in both scoring and total def despite having 7 underclassmen starters in the lineup. The DL (6'3" 253) is allowing 158 ypg rushing (4.4) while posting 21 of the team's 31 sacks (8.6%). They have a pair of outstanding DE's in Tourek Williams and Wilson who comb for 13.5 sacks. The Golden Panthers have our #36 pass eff D led by Sr DB Gaitor and is all'g 206 ypg (54%) with an 18-12 ratio. The Panthers have our #119 spec tms despite having an outstanding returnman in Hilton. The problem area is net punting (#119 NCAA - 30.7) with the Panthers allowing 3 P's to be blocked.

UT lost starting QB Dantin to a shoulder injury early vs EM causing him basically miss the L/4 games of the regular season but there is a chance that he may return for the bowl. Backup Owens took over and surprisingly, after the Rockets avg'd 318 ypg in the first 8 games under Dantin, they avg 443 ypg in the L/4 under Owens. Owens avg 237 (62%) with an 11-2 ratio in those 4. RB Thomas came on strong late in the yr with three 130+ yd gms in the final 5 gms (0 in first 7). 1st Tm All-MAC WR Page posted more receptions than the next 5 Rocket receivers combined and leads the conference in all-purp yds (159 ypg). UT's OL avg 6'5" 304 and is a big reason for their success as all 5 started all 12 gms. They paved the way for 156 ypg rush (4.1). With a mobile QB for much of the ssn (Dantin #2 rusher) they allowed 20 sks (5.9%). While UT's D is just #9 in scoring and #7 in total def in the MAC, they were #3 in the FBS in takeaways with 33 (T#3 TO margin, +14). Soph Fatinikun led the DL with 46 tkls and 12 tfl. They are allowing 131 ypg rushing (3.9) and have 20.5 of the team's 27 sks (6.4%). UT has our #61 pass eff def allowing 239 ypg (63%) with an outstanding 15-19 ratio. The Rockets have our #111 spectms as they have hit just 5-13 FG's and are last in the MAC with a 32.3 net punt avg incl all'g 2 PRTD's.

They would be even lower except for their outstanding KR Page, who finished #3 in the FBS.

These two meet for the 3rd straight yr and Toledo, again, has a winning record for the 1st time in 5 seasons while FIU has reached 6 wins for the 1st time since they started a football program in 2002. FIU started impressively playing 4 BCS schools and were only outgained by 18 ypg. They finished the ssn winning 4 straight and had clinched the SBC Title prior to their loss to Middle Tennessee. Toledo did knock off Purdue on the road and then later finished the season winning 5 of 6 gms but they did get mauled vs Northern Illinois in what was a quazi-MAC West Title gm. While the tms are even on paper, the deciding factor is FIU being +6.8 ypg vs bowl elig tms while UT was -174 ypg vs the same.

This bowl matches up two option offenses and former Navy HC Johnson against his rival AF. GT is likely disappointed with the season as a whole, as after winning the ACC Title LY, they've fallen to 6-6 and barely got by WF who lost 3 QB's during the game. AF, however is thrilled, after going 8-4 TY beating BYU and winning the CIC Trophy for the 1st time since 2002. The Jackets have taken on the tougher sked (#58-81) but remember that AF travelled to Oklahoma and gave them a scare, only losing by 3. This is a long distance from both schools but AF has the edge with military bases located nearby and the Bowl offering up a Military Ticket Initiative to donate to local bases. AF HC Calhoun has only taken on a Johnson-coached Navy team one time ('07) and his Falcons lost SU and ATS. Both struggled vs bowl tms with AF posting a 3-4 SU record (4-3 ATS) while GT went 2-5 SU (4-3 ATS). On artificial turf GT went 1-2 SU (0-3 ATS) while AF plays its home games on the fake stuff and went 8-1 SU but just 3-6 ATS. While AF ended its season earlier (11/18, GT done 11/27). this is the offense each team takes on daily, so extra prep time weighs no benefit to either GT comes in with our #51 offense but there is a question at QB. Against VA Tech, st'r Nesbitt broke his arm while trying to make a tkl. He is aiming to return here, but with the early date it is? if he will be ready in time. His bkup Washington has thrown for 97 ypg (63%) with a 2-1 ratio while adding 289 rush (4.4) in his 3 starts. HC Johnson called out RB Allen at times throughout the season and he responded by earning 1st Tm ACC and finished #2 in the conference in rushing. Johnson had some issues with the OL and was forced to alter the rotation due to injuries throughout the season (5 different starting combos used). The unit paved the way for 327 ypg rush (5.6) while allowing 15 sks (9.7%). The #65 defense has not had the same inj issues as they've missed 1 start due to inj this entire year. The DL avg 6'3" 286 with 0 Sr starters but has tallied just 4 of the tm's 17 sks (24%) while allowing 170 ypg rush (4.6). The LB duo of Jefferson (7.5 tfl) and Burnett (2 tfl) form the #1 and #2 tkl'rs on the team. GT comes in ranked #79 in our pass eff D all'g 209 ypg (61%) with a 14-8 ratio. Both Butler and Tarrant have taken an int back for a TD TY. The ST's come in with our #105 ranking. The Jackets have used 3 punters and they comb to avg 37.6, landing 10 In20. The PR unit avg 6.8 ypr but all's 9.9 (with 1 TD) while the KR unit avg 20.7 and all's 1,0 (with 1 TD).

AF's #43 offense is led by QB Jefferson. While AF is definitely a run first offense (699 rush AF's #45 offerse is ed by QB Jefferson. Write AF is definitely a full first offerse (699 fush att, 145 pass TY), Jefferson went over 100 yds pass 7x's incl a ssn high 201 vs Utah. Three of AF's top 5 rushers are underclassmen led by Jr Clark. AF was thin at FB after losing Tew vs SDSt (CS) but Walker stepped up and rushed for 264 (5.0) in the L/3. AF's run offense ranks #2 in the NCAA and the Falcons are 20-4 SU (14-9 ATS, 1 NL) when a player goes over 100 rush yds in a gm. The OL avg 6'3" 261 with 2 Sr st'rs and paved the way for 318 rush ypg (5.5). Led by 1st Tm MWC OG Wallerstein, the Falcons have only all'd 5 sks TY (3.7%). AF's D has been known for TO's under HC Calhoun as into TY they were +46 in his tenure! While they've forced 20 fmbl's TY, they've only recovered 7 and on the season they're just +1 TO. LY the run D all'd zero 200 yd ish gm, but TY 6 have gone over that number (incl 377 all'd to TCU). The tm recorded 24 sks but TY they've tallied just 13 incl 5.5 by the DL (42%). They rank #21 in our pass eff D all'g 57 ypg (56%) with a 10-11 ratio. The #12 ST's unit is led by KR Warzeka who had a 100 yd KR D. The PR unit had only 15 att's TY but avg 7.9 ypr. The unit has blk'd at least 1 kick every year nce '90 and has 3 TY. The PR D all's 5.3 and the KR all's 22.0.

Air Force, as all service academies do, prepares well for the bowls and this year they see new venue after having been to the Armed Forces Bowl three straight years. Georgia Tech, ith 6 wins, is disappointed at being here but, of course, does not have to spend the time most ams do prepping for this opponent. The Yellow Jackets have dropped 4 of their last 5 gms, all / a TD plus and we to feel that it'll be tough for them to be motivated.

WV and NCSt meet for the 10th time and 3rd time overall in the bowls. WV holds a 5-4 lead in the series but NCSt has won 3 of the L/4 meetings incl the most recent meeting a 38-14 win in Morgantown in '79. In the last bowl meeting, WV's Bobby Bowden escaped with a 13-10 win over NCSt's Lou Holtz in the 1975 Peach Bowl. WV HC Stewart is 2-1 SU/1-2 ATS in bowls as LY WV ran into an emotional FSU tm in Bobby Bowden's final gm and lost 33-21 (-2'). HC O'Brien is 0-1 SU/1-0 ATS in bowls at NCSt, but overall 7-1 SU/ATS. Both tms faced Cincinnati and Maryland with WV winning and covering both by an avg score of 34-14 while NCSt was 1-1 SU/ATS losing to MD in the finale, a gm they needed to win to earn an ACC Title berth. WV was 4-3 SU/5-2 ATS vs bowl tms outscoring those tms by an avg of 21-14 and outgaining them 323-244. NCSt is bowling for just the 2nd time in 5Y but was 5-4 SU/6-3 ATS vs bowl teams outscoring foes 31-27 and outgaining them 391-369. WV fans are known travelling well and the Champs Bowl bypassed a chance to get ND to take the Mountaineers TY

The Pack's #47 offense is led by prolific Jr Wilson, who may be playing in his final gm here (MLB) He enters this gm leading the ACC in pass ypg and ttl off and has put up twelve 300 yd pass gms in his career. True Fr RB Greene became the 1st NCSt player to score a TD in his 1st 4 gms S/80 (Tol his career. True Fr RB Greene became the 1st NCSt player to score a TD in his 1st 4 gms S/80 (Tol 2 Avery) and many thought he could become NCSt's first 1,000 yd rusher S/02 as he continued to get more experience. He fell short of that TY, but is the leading rusher. The rec gm is led by Sr's Spencer and Williams and boasts 1st Tm ACC TE Bryan. The OL avg 6'4" 310 with 1 Sr st'r. They paved the way for just 125 rush ypg (3.5) and even with a mobile QB, have all'd 34 sks (6.8%). The #44 D is led by NCSt's outstanding group of LB's. Nate Irving, who DNP LY after a horrific car accident, has rebounded to be #2 in the ACC in tfl including setting a schl rec'd with 8 tfl vs WF surpassing #1 DC Mario Williams record of 6 ('05). The DL avg 6'4" 271 with 2 Sr's and allows just 113 ypg rush (3.3). They've only tallied 19.5 of the tm's 40 sks though. The Pack ranks #96 in our pass eff D all'g 228 ypg (61%) with a 20-8 ratio led by CJ Wilson who has taken both of his int's back for TD's. The ST's (#103) seemed to take a $\frac{1}{2} \text{ bit when BC Crailcowski was declared QEV in early Nov. He came back is risk INNC and bit a 47 vid. hit when PK Czajkowski was declared OFY in early Nov. He came back vs rival UNC and hit a 47 yd FG in the 4 pt gm. The PR unit avg 9.3 ypr but has recorded an outstanding 3 PR TD's while the KR unit struggles avg just 18.7 ypr. The Pack gives up 8.4 ypr on PR and 21.9 with 2 TD on KR.

WV's season has been a little rocky and ultimately disappointing as they narrowly missed out on a BCS Bowl due to B2B losses to Syr and a 16-13 loss in OT to Connecticut. After those 2 losses fans were calling for HC Stewart to be ousted, but the Mountaineers were able to regroup on their bye week and won and covered their L/4 gms. QB Smith had great stats overall in his 1st year as a st'r but had some rough outings in the tm's 2 losses with a 1-3 ratio vs Syr and Conn (WV -6 TO's in those 2 gms). Star RB Devine was hampered by a foot inj all yr and his production fell drastically (-581 yds) but he managed to play in every gm. WV used their Jumbo backs set late in the ssn with Clarke (247 lbs) and Alston (222) helping to protect QB Smith, reduce the pounding on Devine (5'8" 180), and improving the tm's redzone success The WR corps is led by All-BE WR Austin and versatile playmaker Sanders. The OL avg 6'3" 298 with 1 Sr The WH corps is led by All-BE WH Austin and versatile playmaker Sanders. The OL avg 6'3" 298 with 1 Sr st'r and paved the way for 162 rush ypp (3.9) while allowing 25 sks (7.3%). Overall WV is #45 on offense and #4 on defense in our rankings. WV's defense is vastly underrated as they are #2 in the nation in rush -D allowing just 85 ypg and have only all'd 3 rush TD's (#1 in NCAA). WV runs their 3-3 Stack D and the DL avg 6'2" 283 with 1 Sr st'r. LB Lazear wasn't healthy all yr (#1 tkl'r, 2nd Tm BE '09, leg inj in Aug) so 1st Tm BE LB Thomas and Leonard were the tm's top LB tkl'rs. WV is #28 in our pass D rankings allowing 166 ypg (58%) with a 10-12 ratio vs a very soft slate of opposing QB's. CB Tandy leads the BE in int and is #2 in pbu as tm's threw away from 2nd Tm BE CB Hogan who should be an early round draft pick in '11. WV is #59 in our ST rankings finishing #3 in the BE in net punting (37.4) but having just avg numbers on returns.

West Virginia imploded with a couple poor mid-season performances but since then have demonstrated ust how talented they are beating 3 of their L/4 opps by 21+ pts. The D has not all'd any opp to top 21 pts while the offense has topped 35 in 3 of the L/4 opps NCSt has trailed at HT in 4 of their L/6 gms and have peen fortunate in several of their wins. Offenses are almost even, but a huge defensive edge to WV

After yrs of being passed over by bowl selection committees the Tigers are thrilled to be facing their border rivals (250 miles apart) for the 1st time in 100 yrs! Early in his tenure Pinkel cancelled a scheduled 4 gm series while he was building his program and there are several cch ties between the staffs which routinely recruit vs each other. Pinkel is 3-3 SU/ATS in bowls with Missou while Ferentz is 5-3 SU/6-2 ATS. MU is 7-0 SU/5-2 ATS vs B10 tms under Pinkel beating IL TY 23-13 but failing to cover in the opener. The Hawks are 3-1 SU/4-0 ATS vs current B12 tms in bowls. Both tms beat ISU TY with Iowa dominating their rivals at home, 35-7 (-13') with a 479-275 yd edge while despite being outgained 332-306 MU shutout the Cyclones in Ames, 14-0 (-11) on 11/20. Iowa instead is the team who slid down the bowl pecking order after their miserable Nov which saw them lose their L/3 so it's up to Ferentz and the 26 Sr's to rally the tm. MU previously played in the '98 Insight.com Bowl, a 34-31 win over WV while this is Iowa's 1st bowl in Ariz. The Hawks did have several thousand fans in Tucson on Sept 18th when they lost to Arizona (34-27, +1'). MU went 1-4 ATS as a fav vs bowl tms TY while lowa is 11-4-1 ATS as a dog the L/4Y.

After a disappointing '09 ssn the Tigers rocketed out to their 1st 7-0 start S/60 after beating the BCS's #1 tm OK before B2B losses to Neb and TT. The spread offense (#40) is built around Gabbert who finished as the least efficient of the B12's bowl bound QB's. In the B2B upsets of A&M and OU however, he played his best avg 335 (69%) with a 4-0 ratio. A&M's DC admitted that playing a zone D vs the Tigers was a mistake and several D's including Neb and TT played much tighter coverage on their rec's including #1 rec WR Moe and the FBS's top rec TE Egnew. MU used a RB by committee led by Moore and the speedy Josey. The OL (6'4" 303, 1 Sr) allowed 20 sk (4.6%). The most underrated aspect of the Tigers is their D which despite massive ini's led the B12 in scoring D (15.2, #6 NCAA) and sks (38, #6 NCAA). MU used a DE rotation up front which allowed them to weather the storm when they lost top pass rusher Aldon Smith for 3 gms and top DT Hamilton for the L/5. Pinkel called the LB corps the most decimated by inj's he'd seen in his cch career but despite the nicks Gachkar led the tm in tkls. MO is #10 in pass eff D (204, 57%, 13-16) led by the CB combo of Gettis and Rutland. MU is #29 in ST thanks to a strong K combo of K Ressel who has hit 42-45 in the L/2Y and P Grabner whose 38.9 net is #14 NCAA. The ret units are below par although McGaffie's 86 yd KRTD on the opening KO vs Oklahoma was 1 of the biggest plays of the yr. The Tigers allowed 4.3 on PR and 21.4 on KR.

After throwing a B10 worst 15 int in '09, Stanzi was #11 NCAA pass eff (234, 65%, 25-4). The finale saw UI down to true Fr RB Coker as Robinson missed 2 of the L/4 gms due to concussions but is expected to return here. Two All-Conf performers highlight the rec corps in lowa's WR McNutt and TE Reisner but III's career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the head /career rec leader L/Culians is one for the law in the format is one for the law is one for the law in the law is one for the law is one for the law in the law is one for the law is one for the law in the law is one for Ul's career rec leader J-Koulianos is susp for the bowl (career over) due to an off-field issue. The OL Ul's career rec leader J-Koulianos is susp for the bowl (career over) due to an off-field issue. The OL (6'4" 289, 2 Sr) allowed 20 sk (6.0%) but they had problems in run blocking avg just 107 rush ypg (3.4) vs bowl eligible squads. Iowa is tied for the NCAA lead with just 9 TO's lost. The Hawks had to go much of the season without veteran DC Parker who was hospitalized. Though the #'s were comparable to LY the D amazingly allowed gm winning late 4Q TD drives in all 5 of their losses. The deep DL remained one of the B10's best led by DE Clayborn whose numbers shrunk from '09's 11.5 sk and 8.5 ftl to 3.5 sk and 3.5 ftl thanks to constant doubles. Leading tkl'r Hunter was the only LB to play in all 12 and true Fr Morris stepped in as the starter in the 2H of yr. Iowa is #15 pass eff D (214, 61%, 11-17) led by S's Greenwood and Sash. Ray Guy finalist Donahue finished #16 NCAA in avg (44.6) with a team net of 38.2. KR Johnson-Koulianos led the B10 with a 29.3 avg and will be missed here. The kicking gm was an issue all season as the staff settled on walk-on true Fr Meyer and he hit just 2-3 from 40+ including a costly miss vs OSU. The Hawks allowed 4.2 on PR and 21.5 on KR including a 100 yd TD to Ariz. Iowa was either winning or tied with 5:00 left in their 5 losses this year but was a dropped TD pass lowa was either winning or tied with 5:00 left in their 5 losses this year but was a dropped TD pass from Indiana from finishing with 4 straight losses. Now they must regroup and they'll use this game as the kickoff towards next season. Missouri dropped late season gms on the road to Neb and TT and while they won their L/2, they were vs lowa St and Kansas and that has over adjusted the line.

First meeting. EC dropped the final 2 gms of the reg ssn by a 107-76 mark finishing at 6-6 and narrowly reaching the postssn. MD is very disappointed as they went from a 2-10 tm, to 8-4 but were (8-4) relegated to the 8th seeded ACC bowl and HC Friedgen noted, "it is what it is". Prior to the NCSt win, Fridge promised his players that if they won the gm he would "fight like hell" to get them into a good bowl gm and he has concerns about the gm being ply'd in MD's backyard and creating a true bowl gm atmosphere. First yr EC HC McNeill is taking the Pirates to its 5th consec bowl while Fridge is 4-2 SU/ATS in bowls but this is the 1st time he'll be meeting a CUSA tm. EC went 3-5 SU/ATS vs bowl caliber tms being outscored 48-35 and outgained 478-440 while MD went 4-4 (5-3 ATS) vs bowl tms being outscored 27-23 and outgained 402-322. The Pirates have 10 Sr st'rs among 17 upperclassmen being dutscoted 27-25 and odigalited 402-322. The Pilates have 10 51 stris annoting 17 upperclassmen and Terps have 8 Sr's st'rs among 13 upperclassmen. These two both played Navy and NCSt with EC going 1-1 SU/ATS as they knocked off NCSt in OT before being blasted at home vs Navy 76-35 (all'd 521 rush yds). MD went 2-0 SU/ATS stopping Navy twice at the GL to preserve a 3 pt win in the opener and they fought off an NCSt comeback bid in the finale.

EC's success TY can be solely credited to their off (#26) led by JC trans Davis who broke Jeff Blake's schl TD pass record with 36 as EC avg'd 38 ppg and 445 ypg. The run gm was led by Williams who also pulled in the 3rd highest till of catches and rec yds. Davis had plenty of rec options throughout the yr led by Harris who is just 7 rec away from 100 and Lewis who is nearing the 1,000 yd plateau. The OL avg 6'5" 306 (3 Sr) paving the way for 126 ypg (4.5) while giving up just 14 sks (2.5%). The def is ranked #119 all'g 43 ppg and an FBS worst 479 ypg on the yr incl dismal performances vs Navy (76 pts, 521 rush) and Rice (62 pts, 639 yds). The DL avg 6'3" 255 (2 Sr) and all'd 221 rush ypg (5.1) but in fairness, they did lose st'rs Brooks and Powell in early Nov to inj. LB's Lineback and Patterson finished #1 and #2 in tkls but the full success of the duo was overshadowed by the struggles the tm had on that side of the ball. The secondary all'd 258 ypg (60%) with a 30-9 ratio placing them #102 in had on that side of the ball. The secondary and 209 ypg (00%) with a over latter practing them in the first our pass D rankings. S Jacobs and CB Davis were the stars of the group as the 2 comb for 19 pd. A pair of newcomers handled the kicking chores with K Barbour hitting 88% of his FG att and walk-on. Byan handling the punting. Dwayne Harris handled both the KR and PR duties while the coverage units all'd KR and PR avg's of 20.3 and 7.2 respectively, EC has our #98 ST unit.

Many MD fans were up in arms when bkup QB O'Brien saw the field vs Navy (fmbl'd his 1st college att). Now those same fans are singing his praise. O'Brien was thrust into the spotlight vs FIU and remained the starter even after option runner Robinson ret'd from inj. RB's Meggett and Scott both remained the starter even after option runner Robinson re'd from inj, RB's Meggett and Scott both improved on LY's numbers and Meggett led the tm in rushing despite not starting any gms. The top rec, Smith, is the first 1,000 yd rec here S/'92. The OL has been hit by inj's. The current OL avg 6'5" 299 and has started 73% of the gms together. They pave the way for 125 ypg rush (3.8) and have all'd 22 sks (6.0%). The Terps have scored 6 non-off TD's TY and 4 have come by the #44 rated D. The DL (6'3" 278, 1 Sr) all's just 132 ypg rush (3.5) and has totaled 13 of the tm's 27 sks. LB Wujciak is the top tkl'r and Hartsfield has 5 ffl TY. MD ranks #24 in our pass eff D all'g 221 ypg (53%) with a 15-17 ratio. Tate is the #2 tkl'r while Perez is tied for 4th in the ACC with 11 pd. Entering the son MD Baltz took over both duties. He has just 5 TB's but boomed a 52 yd FG vs NCSt. MD has our #5 ST's unit with PR Logan finishing #3 NCAA and avg nearly as much as the top KR. The PR D all'g 9.2 and KR D all'g 19.2. MD is +4 in the punt blk department.

EC has been one-dimensional as they have our #119 D and have all'd 40+ pts 9 of 12 gms but MD is not an offense that sustains long drives. EC's offense has been dynamic and they have topped 32 pts in their L/8 gms. Have to believe that during the break, EC's defense can improve enough to slow MD while MD's D will struggle vs EC's offense. Psychological edge to EC vs a MD tm that was banking on the 4th best ACC bowl which would match their standings but instead were disappointed to play in their own backyard.

Baylor is off to its 1st bowl since 1994 facing an Illini team which will play in its first non-BCS bowl since 1999 and just its 3rd bowl in the last 10 years. The teams have played just once before, a 34-19 Illinois home win in '76. Since 1982 Illinois is 3-9 SU (6-6 ATS) in bowls and Zook is 0-3 SU/ ATS as a HC. The Bears are 8-8 SU (5-3 ATS) in bowls with Briles 0-3 SU (1-2 ATS) as Houston's HC. While both are excited to be in the posteason Waco is about 190 miles away from Houston which should give the Bears a large crowd edge. Both teams struggled down the stretch as the 7-2 Bears were ranked for the 1st time since 1993 before losing their last 3, all to ranked teams, while Illinois lost 3 of its last 4. Baylor was 1-5 SU (0-6 ATS) vs bowl tms this year being outgained by 72 ypg while Illinois was 3-5 SU but 5-3 ATS outgaining those foes by 23 ypg. The Illini were 4-1 ATS as a dog this year while BU was 3-1 as a single digit fav. The Bears last played on Nov 20th while Illinois finale came 13 days later on Dec 3rd so they should have less rust to knock off.

After B2B losing ssns IL went the unusual route of keeping HC Zook but making wholesale staff changes. Six new assistants were hired including OC Petrino from Ark and DC Koenning from K-St and Zook now has more of an advisory role. RFr Scheelhaase won the QB job in spg which left the Illini with 3 scholarship Fr QB's. Scheelhaase, who was compared by Petrino to Louisville's Stefan LeFors due to his mobility and accuracy, shined running the zone read option and improved as a passer late in the ssn. IL had just one 1st Tm All-B10 RB in the L/25Y but Leshoure changed that as he led B10 RB's in rushing including a school record 330 (FBS best in '10) vs NW. Jenkins was the Illini's only big play threat at WR. The OL (6'4" 309, 2 Sr) all'd 23 sk (8.8%) but finished #13 NCAA in rush. The Illini looked to have 1 of the most improved D's in the country before allowing 39.3 ppg and 430 ypg in the L/4 vs spreads. 1st Tm B10 DT Liuget lost weight and his added quickness made him the B10's best interior DL in '10. 1st Tm B10 LB Wilson ret'd from inj and finally began to live up to his immense promise. The secondary battled pressn inj's which caused position changes and finished #51 pass eff D (213, 57%, 19-11). Zook attributed ST improvements to using more starters as IL finished #50 (#110 in '09). Both K's rec'd All-Conf recognition with P Santella #2 B10 avg with a 37.9 net while K Dimke has hit 26-31 in his career. The return units need work but the Illini also blk'd 2 P's.

The Bears big ssn came courtesy of dynamic QB Griffin who sparked a big play offense (26 plays of 30+ incl 18 TD). Griffin was #7 NCAA ttl off just 1 yr removed from ACL surgery which ended his '09 ssn after 3 gms. "RG3" picked up where he left off earning 2nd Tm B12 honors and becoming the Bears 1st 3,000 yd passer. His ability to run the zone read option sparked a run gm which featured the Bears 1st 1,000 yd rusher, Finley S/'03. The Bears WR corps is built on speed with Wright and Gordon being the primary big play targets. The OL (6'4" 312, 1 Sr) is led by ex-fireman LT Watkins and allowed 17 sks (4.0%). In the offssn Briles called the D his speediest and deepest unit yet. The DL is stout in the middle with NFL prospect NG Taylor anchoring the front wall although DE play was inconsistent as just 1 lineman (Elliott) had more than 2 sks and the Bears had just 19 overall. The top LB is Antonio Johnson who is the D's spark plug. The secondary is #87 in pass eff D (267, 66%, 16-10) with the tm's top 2 tkl'rs being their S combo of All-B12 Landor and FS Atchison. The ST finished just well need to be used t TT. The coverage units need improvement allowing 13.4 on PR and 21.3 on KR including 3 TD!

BU's Griffin does not receive the credit he deserves and he is certainly a player to watch. We like is a 6-6 this matchup as both tms are facing opposing offenses which they've struggled against. While both teams would obviously prefer to be in bigger bowls, each is happy to be making a postssn appearance and we expect the offenses to play loose and the coaches to provide them with the plays to do so.

Both were thinking BCS bowls after hot starts but wound up here instead for the school's 7th ever meeting (1st S/'42). AZ was 7-1 and ranked #13 but a 4 gm slide KO'd them from the Top 25. OSU's 10-1 start marked the 1st time in program hist they tied for the B12 South Title and won 10 gms in a ssn. OSU was blitzed by OU for 588 yds in a 47-41 loss which landed them here for the 3rd time (0-2 SU/ATS vs B10 tms). Third str bowl gm that Stoops has guided his tm to (1-1 SU/ATS) but they did catch a break with a tms). Third str bowl gm that Stoops has guided his tm to (1-1 SU/ATS) but they did catch a break with a lack of bowl bids in the conf (USC inelig) to get what is normally the #2 P10 bowl. Stoops is very familiar with OSU as he was OU's DC from '99-'03. Gundy has led his program to a record 5th consec bowl (2-2 SU/ATS). AZ has 10 Sr's among 20 upperclassmen while OSU has 8 Sr's and 16 upperclassmen. AZ took on 7 bowl elig tms (3-4 SU, 3-3-1 ATS) outscoring them 31-27 and outgaining them 438-372. OSU was 6-2 SU (4-3-1 ATS) vs bowl tms with 42-32 scoring and 536-452 yd edges. Both beat WSU with OSU winning the opener 65-17 (-17') at home while AZ got a 24-7 (-23') road win.

AZ's #23 ranked off avg'd 30 ppg and 445 ypg. QB Foles answered his '09 campaign with an acqually as impressive 2nd yr despite mission 2 ms midwr with a dislocated knaecan. Scott took equally as impressive 2nd yr despite missing 2 gms mid-yr with a dislocated kneecap. Scott took over and picked up 2 important conf wins (Wash, UCLA) as the off avg'd 520 ypg in his 2 gm stint. RB Grigsby began the ssn as the tm's str but inj's landed him in the #2 role behind Antolin. WR Criner led the P10 in both rec and yds despite playing through a toe inj. Criner has more yds than the next 2 WR's combined. The OL avg 6'5" 321 and paved the way for 135 ypg (4.1) while all'g 27 sks (5.7%) led by 4 yr str Baxter. The Wildcat D all'd 22 ppg and 343 ypg ranking them 23rd. The unit actually held 6 of their first 7 opp under 310 yds (455 ypg all'd over L/4, all bowl eligible tms). The UA DL (6'3" 271) all'd 137 ypg (3.6) rushing while posting 28 of the tm's 33 sks. The LB unit was originally thought to be a weak spot due to a lack of experience but didn't really prove to be that much of a liability led by JC transfer Vassallo. The secondary all'd 207 ypg (56%) with a 16-9 ratio ranking them #27 in the FBS. CB Wade was exp to have an AA type yr but struggled throughout. The ST unit earned our #58 rating with All-P10 K Zendejas best known for the 2 missed xp's in the finale vs ASU. The coverage units avg 22.0 per KR (all'd 20.4) and 6.2 per PR (all'd 6.6).

Gundy probably earned his B12 COY award by giving up play calling duties after LY's bowl loss and hiring ex-Houston OC Holgorsen. OSU exploded to become our #3 off thanks to the 1st Tm B12 triplets of QB Weeden, RB Hunter and WR Blackmon. Weeden became the 1st QB ever to be named 1st Tm All-Conf in OSU history leading the conf in pass eff and #3 nationally in pass ypg. His main weapon was B12 OPY Biletnikoff winner WR Blackmon who had 100 yd rec and at least 1 TD in 11 gms. OSU was held to its lowest pt ttl of the ssn vs K-St (24) when Blackmon was susp and he had his 'worst' gm of the ssn (8-105-1) vs OU while playing with a noticeable limp due to an ankle inj. RB Hunter led the B12 in rushing after an inj-plagued '09. The OL (6'4" 309) all'd just 10 sks (2.0%) with RT Adcock earning 1st Tm B12. Despite replacing 9 strs, OSU finished with our #48 D as DC Young knew the challenge of fielding a capable stop unit along side a quick strike off was to build up the depth. The DL is led by All-B12 DE Chinasa. The D's stars are #1 tkl'r LB Lemon who missed '09 due to inj and true Fr LB Lewis who earned OSU's 1st co-B12 Def Fr of the Yr award S/'06. OSU has the NCAA's #47 pass FIFT DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPERTY AND THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPE as the young unit struggled in coverage all'g an NCAA 2nd worst 27.0 on KR and 10.1 on PR. Groza winner Bailey hit 8-10 from 40+. P Sharp's 41.0 net was #3 NCAA and his 53 TB led the nation.

On Nov. 1st, both teams were 7-1 with Arizona ranked #13 and Oklahoma St was ranked #19.

Now six weeks later, Arizona is off 4 straight losses while OKSt was hoping for a Big 12 Championship but lost the their Bedlam Rivals in the finale for the 2nd straight ssn with a BCS bowl on the line. We certainly appreciate the job that HC Gundy has done but have to feel that the Alamo Bowl was not in their plans. It may actually be easier for Stoops to motivate his squad after losing 4 straight and to use this as a building block towards next ssn.

These two last met in '67 (Army leads series 2-0) as Army left CUSA after the '04 ssn while SMU joined in '05. The Black Knights accomplished a major goal as they are back in a bowl for the 1st time S/'96 (lost to Aub in the Independence Bowl). This is Ellerson's first bowl as a HC. The Mustangs were also lacking in the postssn until LY's trip to the Hawaii Bowl where they destroyed Nevada as a 12' pt dog. Prior to LY the Mustangs had not been in a bowl S/'84 however HC Jones does have postssn experience going 4-2 SU (3-3 ATS) with Hawaii. Army has 12 ST's among 16 upperclassmen starters while the Ponies have 4 Sr's with 15 upperclassmen. Army took on 5 bowl caliber squads going 0-5 SU (0-5 ATS) being outscored 35-21 and outgained 371-301. SMU took on 7 going 2-5 SU (3-4 ATS) being outscored 29-23 despite outgaining those foes 382-370. They had 2 common opp TY (Tulane and Navy) with the Knights and Mustangs both beating Tulane: Army (+1) 41-23 and SMU (-8) 31-17. Both lost to Navy: SMU (+1') blew a 14-0 HT lead in a 28-21 loss. Army (+7') lost 31-17 despite a 337-325 vd addg as they all'd a 99 vd ED TD into before 117 (44 at the control of the second of the secon 337-325 yd edge as they all'd a 98 yd FRTD just before HT (14 pt turnaround).

Army's option hit its stride in the 2nd ssn under Ellerson. They scored their most points in a ssn S/96 when they last went to a bowl. LY QB Steelman became the 1st frosh QB to start the opener S/96 when they last went to a bowl. LY QB Steelman became the 1st frosh QB to start the opener for Army in the modern era. He was the tm's leading rusher in '09 but is #2 TY as they added FB Hassin (originally at AF) who has a shot at breaking the 1,000 yd barrier here. Army's receivers are mostly extra blockers but WB Barr is avg 15.4 ypc and has 3 of Army's 7 receiving TD's. The OL is a big part of the Knights off but they avg just 6'2" 269. However, this a veteran line that has four 12 gm st'rs with 4 Sr's led by C Peterson. Army has our #86 off and #72 D. HC Ellerson invented the "Desert Swarm" def when he was DC at AZ and brings the same attacking philosophy here that takes advantage of Army's small but fast players. The DL is on the small side avg (6'1" 248) and is led by Army's all-time sack leader DE McNary. The DL accounted for 18 of Army's 23 sks. They are all'g 142 ypg rushing (4.2). The LB unit is led by Sr Anderson (#1 tkl'r and #2 in tfl). Army's secondary has our #67 pass D ranking all'g 191 ypg (56%) with a 20-12 ratio led by FS Travis who has 5 int.

el by Army's all-time sack leader DE inkichaly. The DL accounted for 18 of Army's 25 sks. They atter all'g 142 ypg rushing (4.2). The LB unit is led by Sr Anderson (#1 tkl'r and #2 in tfl). Army's secondary has our #67 pass D ranking all'g 191 ypg (56%) with a 20-12 ratio led by FS Travis who has 5 int. Army has our #55 spec tms but they avg just 7.1 on PR's and 19.5 on KR's.

The Mustangs' Run n' Shoot off has been more balanced in each of the L/2Y as they avg'd 27 ppg and 415 ypg and have our #68 ranking. After starting the L/6 ('09), QB Padron finished his 1st full ssn as the st'r in solid form leading SMU to the CUSA West Title. A year after the speedy Shawnbrey McNeal became HC Jones' first 1,000 yd rusher, Line became the 2nd RB to accomplish that feat but in different fashion as he was extremely tough up the middle getting plenty of yac. The WR corps consists on 2 gamebreakers in deep-threat Robinson and possession rec Beasley who joined Robinson as a 1,000 yd receiver in the CUSA Title gm. The OL (6'3"295), led by 3Y starting LT Beachum paved the way for 141 ypg (4.8) while all'g 32 sks (6.6%). The Mustang D has our #52 ranking, all'g 26 ppg and 362 ypg. The DL avg 6'6" 282 led by the 3 man unit of Hunt, Frazier and Thompson. The group all'd 141 ypg (3.7) rush while recording 13.5 of the tm's 28 sks. The LB corps was the strength of the unit with Reed, Fleps and Davis all earning All-CUSA honors. The secondary has our #53 pass D ranking as they allow 222 ypg (60%) with an 18-10 ratio. HC Jones mentioned that CB Moore had NFL potential but his Sr ssn was full of inj's (missed 5). The Mustangs have our #95 ST ranking led by K/P Szymanski who did miss some time at the EOY (leg) but should be a full go here. SMU avg'd ut 22.3 ypr on KR and 4.8 ypr on PR while all'g 24.8 ypr on KR and 5.1 ypr on PR.

June Jones has taken the Mustangs from B2B one win seasons to 8 wins LY and playing for the CUSA Championship TY. They have struggled in the favorites role this year but he showed LY just how well he can prep his team with the extra bowl time. This is a great matchup as they played Navy each of the L/3Y and have improved vs the option having only all'd 337 yds this year. It is fantastic to see Army in a bowl game but, truth be told, it was vs a very watered-down sked TY. They have not seen this type of offensive fire power and the extra prep time won't help them in this matchup.

FORECAST: SMU by 17 RATING: 3★ SMU

This is the inaugural yr of the Pinstripe Bowl but the 3rd postssn matchup between the Orange and Cats. Both previous meetings took place in Arizona with SU winning the '01 Insight.com Bowl (26-3, +6) and KSU beating McNabb and Co, 35-18 (-3) in the '97 Fiesta Bowl. Syracuse earned its 1st bowl bid S/'04 and clinched its 1st winning ssn S/'01 at 7-5. SU is 12-9-1 all-time in bowls (7-3 SU, 6-4 ATS S/'90). Both tms have 11 Sr st'rs. K-St HC Snyder is 6-5 SU/4-7 ATS in bowls. SU is just 2-5 SU/ATS vs bowl tms being outscored by 25-14 and outgained by 321-275. K-St is 1-4 SU/2-3 ATS vs bowl tms losing by an avg of 34-23 and being outgained by 513-341. SU had trouble selling out their home games this year but should definitely have the crowd edge in this one.

K-St returns to the postseason for the 1st time S/06 thanks to a solid run gm led by 2nd Tm B12

B Thomas who finished #9 in the NCAA. Thomas is a former JC QB who also runs the Wildcat. QB Coffman was benched the prev ssn and looked to be headed there again after struggling vs Neb. He kept the job until the Texas gm when Snyder inserted the more mobile Klein. Klein set K-St QB rush records in 2 str gms before being inj'd vs Colo and both QB's played in the L/3. The WR unit took a big hit when #1 rec Brodrick Smith was KO'd after 5 and Quarles was the only WR with more than 23 rec. The OL (6'4" 314) all'd a whopping 30 sk (11.2%) but paved the way for the B12's #2 run gm. K-St runs a 4-2-5 which is ideal vs the B12's many spreads. It is not ideal however vs physical rush attacks as the Cats finished #118 NCAA in rush D with their 229 ypg (5.9), the school's most S/'90. Thanks to attrition the Cats have fewer than 70 scholarship players and they were so desperate for DL depth that FB Wilson and OL Viers played there vs Texas. DE Brown is the leading sk'r with 5 and no other DL has more than 2. The LB's suffered a big blow when then #1 tkl'r (prior to missed action) Hrebec missed 2 gms and true Fr Walker (a Snyder rarity) saw increased action. K-St has our #37 pass eff D (212, 55%, 20-13) with the top playmakers Garrett (10 tfl, 9 pbu) and 2nd Tm B12 FS Zimmerman (3 int). The Cats have had some spectacular ST units and '10 was no different (#8). P Doerr's net was #8 NCAA. KR Powell was #1 in the NCAA when he was inj'd while Quarles finished #3 in the B12. The top PR is Thompson (7.4). The Cats allow just 6.4 on PR and 21.3 on KR. Snyder was dissatisfied with the K gm in Aug and Cantele started the first 2 before giving way to Cherry who hit 7-8.

HC Marrone has turned the Orange around in just 2 yes. The team had gone just 10-37 overall and 3-25 in BE play from '05-'08 under Robinson and improved to 4-8 in '09 and now 7-5 TY with a 4-3 BE record, the most BE gms they have won S/'04. The Orange started the ssn hot at 6-2 but their lack of depth due to inj's and low scholarship numbers resulted in a 1-3 record the L/4. QB Nassib runs the #94 off and was solid most of the yr but avg'd just 172 ypg (57%) with a 2-3 ratio in the L/4 including 0 TD in the L/2 (both losses). RB Carter is #3 in the BE in rush yds with five 100+ the L/4 including 0 TD in the L/2 (both losses). HB Carter is #3 in the BE in rush yds with five 100+ yd gms and has topped 1,000 yds for the 2nd str yr. The starters on the OL avg 6'4" 302 with 2 Sr's and paved the way for 130 rush ypg (3.9) with 31 sks all'd (9.1%). Whereas the offense fell from 330 ypg in '09 to 308 ypg TY, the #38 defense improved from all'g 337 ypg in '09 to just 295 ypg TY. The DL avg 6'3" 268 with 2 Sr st'rs but surprisingly their sks dropped from 35 LY to just 26 TY. They boast 2 of the best LB's in the BE in D. Smith and Hogue who are both decorated Sr's. SU is #50 in our pass D rankings all'g 158 ypg (55%) with a 13-9 ratio. SU ranks #45 in our ST rankings with 1st TT BE K Krautman the most accurate K in the BE and P Long 2nd Tm BE with an excellent 38.0

our pass Drainkings all g 195 ypg (55%) with a 13-9 fatto. SO fathis #45 in our S1 fathkings with 1st Tm BE K Krautman the most accurate K in the BE and P Long 2nd Tm BE with an excellent 38.9 net. Unfortunately Long will miss the bowl after having a benign brain tumor removed in early Dec. Take a look at the checklist and it's obvious K-St's strength is on offense while Syracuse's is on defense. There are few coaches in the last 2 seasons that have done as much with their talent as Marrone. While the Orange limped down the stretch dropping 3 of L/4 gms (all as a fav), that trend should get turned around with the extra bowl practices. Syracuse has played better away from home winning and covering all 4 conference gms while K-St had a tough end to the season playing 3 straight road gms and struggled to get a win at NT.

Tenn meets NC for the 32nd time and holds a 20-10-1 edge (last meeting '61). This is their 1st meeting in a bowl. This is the Vols 1st appearance in the nearby Music City Bowl (180 miles) and Orange should dominate the crowd. UT was politicking for the Gator Bowl, but is still happy as they won their L/4 to get here. This is Dooley's 2nd bowl game as a HC as he led LA Tech to a 17-10 win over NI in the '08 Indep Bowl. NC HC Davis is 0-2 SU (1-1 ATS) in bowls with NC but owns a 4-2 record (5-1 ATS) overall in postssn play. Both faced LSU with NC mounting a late comeback but falling 30-24 (missing 13 to susp) and UT losing 16-14 due to a penalty for having too many men on the field. UT was 2-3 SU, but 4-1 ATS on the road TY and 2-4 ATS as a dog. NC was 4-2 SU/ATS on the road TY (2-1 as AF). Both are fielding young tms with UT having just 9 Sr strs while NC has 10. Neither impressed vs bowl squads with UT going 1-6 SU (3-4 ATS) losing 33-17 and being outgained 423-322. NC went 3-5 SU (4-4 ATS) being outscored 27-24 but actually outgained those foes 371-365.

NC's season has been highly publicized with susps (and an asst cch change) decimating the lineup and taking NC from a darkhorse Title contender to here. QB Yates stepped up to lead the #60 off. He entered the Miami gm with the FBS's lowest int % but tossed 2 in the 2H and finished with a 7-7 ratio the L/6. The top 2 RB's were susp for the 1st gm but White filled in nicely and Draughn ret'd for gm 2 (Houston will RS). The rec corps took a huge hit when Little was ruled permanently inelig, then lost TE Pianalto (CS) 4pl after his 1st TD of the ssn (inj'd after 1st TD of ssn each of L/3Y). The OL avg 6'5" 304 with 2 Sr st'rs. They paved the way for 124 ypg rush (3.6) but all'd 34 sks (8.8%), 30 of which came vs bowl tms. The DL avg 6'5" 271 with 0 Sr's but this might have been the area hit hardest by the scandal as they lost 2 proj 1st Rd DC's and their DL cch. The patchwork unit held opps to 139 ypg rush (3.9) while tallying 18.5 of the tm's 25 sks. LB's rank #1, 2, 3 in tkls but the unit took a hit as '09's top tkl'r, Sturdivant was only able to play 7. NC ranks #48 in our pass D all'g 205 ypg (60%) with a 19-16 ratio. Top DB Searcy was not cleared to play until gm 4 but still tallied a team leading 8 pd incl an IR TD. Overall NC has our #27 rated D. NC was led by the ACC's active leader in career FG, Barth, who hit the GW FG vs FSU w/:55 left. The PR unit only has 13 att TY but avg 9.2 ypr while the KR unit avg 20.3 ypr. The PR D all's 11.0 and has given up 2 TD's while the KR D all's 22.6. Their net P avg of 31.1 was #118 in the NCAA which helps account for the Heels #115 ST finish.

Dooley took this ragtag bunch and by the end of the yr molded a solid tm following in the footsteps of his dad (Vince) and mentor Nick Saban. Dooley named JC transfer Simms the starting QB coming out of Aug and he started the 1st 8 gms and the Vols sat at 2-6. True frosh Bray started the L/4 and UT swept the board. Bray avg'd 309 ypg (55%) with a 12-4 ratio in the L/4 but only faced 1 bowl tm in that stretch (6-6 UK). RB Poole played tough all yr running behind a very young OL, as he finished #5 in the SEC in rush ypg. WR Moore emerged as the deep threat and has the best ypc of the top 10 WR's in the SEC. TE Stocker is NFL caliber and helped out more with the blocking TY due to the OL's inexperience. The OL avg 6'5" 310 with only 1 Sr str and 3 true frosh strs. UT all'd 37 sks (9.9%) with Inexperience. The OL avg 65° 310 with only 1 5° str and 3 true frosh strs. U1 alid 37 sks (9.9%) with 116 rush ypg (3.7) and finished last in both categories in the SEC. Overall UT has our #59 off and #40 def. The DL lost 3 key players in Aug and it took a while to recover. The DL starters avg 6°4" 263 with 265 lb USC transfer Malik Jackson converting from DE to start at DT the L/7. The LB's are led by MLB Reveiz who is a finalist for the Burlsworth Trophy (top walk-on). UT ranks #25 in our pass D rankings all'g 229 ypg (57%) with a 13-17 ratio. Starting CB Evans started 6 but was susp the L/4 gms (CS) which forced SS Waggner to move to CB and gave true Fr and former MLB ply'r Brewer a starting job the L/4. The Vols struggled on ST (#79) as they were unable to find a PR (3.6 avg) who could merely catch the ball without fumbling and PK Lincoln hit 7-7 FG before missing 5 gms w/inj (ret'd L/3). A tumultuous season winds down for NC and this team has impressed playing without numerous NEI.

A tumultuous season winds down for NC and this team has impressed playing without numerous NFL caliber players. Tennessee went thru growing pains but the season finished just as we expected with a slow-learning start and then 4 str wins to become bowl eligible. We'll side with the hotter team playing in their home state and the stadium will have a vast majority of Orange throughout.

The Huskies benefitted from a collapse by Cal and a late GW TD drive vs WSU to sneak into the postssn but now faces a NU tm which destroyed them in Seattle back in Sept, a gm in which QB Locker hit just 4-20 passes in the 56-21 loss (+3). Neb leads the series 4-3-1 SU (3-2 ATS). NU began its final B12 ssn 5-0 and ranked in the Top 5 of both polls before being upset by nemesis Texas. Neb lost 2 of its L/3 incl blowing a 17-0 lead in the B12 Championship gm to return to San Diego for a 2nd straight ssn after the Alamo and Insight Bowls surprisingly passed them up. NU (-2') destroyed AZ 33-0 here LY and is 1-1 SU/ATS all time in this gm. UW is in its 1st bowl since the '02 Sun Bowl (23-60 record from '03-'09). In the post-Tom Osborne era NU is 6-4 SU/ATS in bowls (HC Pelini 3-0 SU/ATS). Incl USC, the Huskies faced 8 bowl caliber tms going 2-6 SU/ATS being outscored 37-19 and outgained 451-332. NU went 4-2 SU/5-1 ATS vs bowl foes outscoring them 35-21 and outgaining them 452-360. UW boasts 7 Sr st'rs among 15 upperclassmen while Neb has 9 Sr's and 15 upperclassmen.

UW has our #41 off avg 22 ppg and 364 ypg. QB Locker was unable to carry through on his preseason Heisman hype while also slipping on many NFL Draft boards after being proj #1 overall to begin the yr. In Locker's defense, he was nicked-up with inj's at the beginning of the yr and dealt with a broken rib at the EOY (DNP vs Oreg). While Locker struggled, RB Chris Polk posted his 2nd consec 1,000 yd ssn. Polk was assisted in the backfield by true Fr Callier who was forced to burn his RS after inj. Locker's #1 target all ssn long was WR Kearse who actually doubled up #2 WR Goodwin in rec yds. TE's Izbicki and Barnett were relegated to more of a blocking role. The OL avg 6'5" 293 and paved the way for 164 rush ypg (4.6) while all'g 24 sks (6.7%). With inj's and inconsistency UW started 6 diff OL lineups. The UW def (#56) had some issues of its own as they all'd 31 ppg and 401 ypg. The DL (6'4" 277) surrendered 199 rush ypg (4.9) with just 9 of the tm's 23 sks (39%). The LB unit was led by Sr Foster who finished 2nd in the nation in tkls. The secondary, led by S Williams all'd 202 ypg (61%) with a 14-11 ratio. The group posted our #59 pass eff D ranking but with the tm's struggles to contain the run, many opp opted to stay on the ground rather than attacking via the air. The Huskies have our #92 ST's and had to start with a walk-on punter for the final 10 gms of the yr after Mahan tore his ACL.

QB Martinez's speed and ability to run the option gave NU a weapon they hadn't had at the position since Osborne retired. When Martinez set a NU QB rush record vs K-St there was Heisman talk but that quieted when he was benched in the Texas loss. Martinez rebounded with a career high passing gm vs OSU and MO's overpursuit of him opened rush lanes for Helu who ran for 307. Martinez ini'd an ankle vs the Tigers and wasn't the same the rest of the yr and neither was the Huskers offense which finished #26. Martinez virtually missed 2 gms (ISU and CU), was instructed not to take contact vs KU, was reinj'd vs A&M and NU used the Wildcat extensively in its L/2 as Martinez struggled vs the Sooners hitting 12-24 for 143 with an int and being sk'd 7x. Pelini said he expects Martinez to return to the program in '11 despite constant transfer rumors. All-B12 IB Helu and #2 Burkhead, who is the Wildcat QB, both ran for 100 vs the Huskies (along with Martinez). Top WR Paul (foot) missed the L/2 and is ? here. The OL (6'4" 302) allowed 24 sks (9.2%). The Huskers D finished #5 led up front by All-B12 DL Crick and Allen. After Aug inj's JC LB David stepped in and was named the B12's Def Newcomer of the Yr. While it helped vs the pass (#1 pass eff D all'g 160, 50%, 13-19), it made NU vulnerable vs the run (#52 FBS all'g 144, 3.8). The secondary is anchored by Top 10 NFL pick CB Amukamara. The ST finished #5 led by 1 of the nation's most powerful legs in P/K Henery who hit 10-11 FG from 40+. NU had both KR and PR TD's but did allow a generous 10.2 on PR and 23.8 on KR.

This is the only rematch of a regular season gm TY and UW was embarrassed at home in a gm that was Nebraska QB Martinez's coming out party. We'll side with the loser of the first game who is now a DD underdog and has a healthy QB Locker for one of the few times this season. This is Washington's first bowl in 8 years so they will be thrilled while Nebraska is making an appearance in the Holiday Bowl to the 2nd traight season. Remember at the hocinging of the very Locker revised to the the 4nd to the the 4th beginning of the very Locker projected to be the #1.

for the 2nd straight season. Remember at the beginning of the year, Locker was projected to be the #1 overall draft choice and it would be no surprise if he finishes the season with a dynamic ending.

First meeting. USF is making its 6th str bowl appearance but its 1st under HC Holtz. They are 3-2 SU/ATS all-time but are 0-2 SU/ATS vs BCS tms in bowls being outscored 70-21 (Oreg, NC5t). This is USF's 2nd trip to the Car Care Bowl losing 14-0 to NCSt in their 1st ever bowl in '05. Holtz is 1-3 SU/2-2 ATS in bowls and LY his EC tm (+7') lost a heartbreaker in OT 20-17 to Ark despite a 393-283 yd edge. Clem is 16-16 all-time in bowls and this is their 6th str bowl (2-3 SU/1-4 ATS) and 1st Car Care Bowl. HC Swinney is 1-1 SU/ATS in bowls beating KY LY 21-13 (-6'). The Car Care Bowl targeted CU due to their fans' reputation for traveling well and the Tigers should certainly have the crowd edge here as CU is just 130 miles away, Both tms faced Miami (FL) with CU losing 30-21 (outgained 376-311) and USF winning 23-20 in OT despite being outgained 353-294 (3-1 TO edge). CU is 3-6 SU/4-5 ATS vs bowl tms being outscored 19-18 and outgained 327-312 while USF is 2-5 SU/ATS vs bowl tms being outscored 21-15 and outgained 319-274 USF is 3-2 SU/ATS on the road TY winning 2 gms in OT outright as doss. CU is First meeting. USF is making its 6th str bowl appearance but its 1st under HC Holtz. They are 3-2 and outgained 319-274. USF is 3-2 SU/ATS on the road TY winning 2 gms in OT outright as dogs. CU is 1-4 SU/3-2 ATS on the road but their 4 losses were by an avg of 4.3 ppg incl a 27-24 OT loss to #1 Aub.

There was great anticipation at USF after Holtz took over in Jan. The Bulls played 6 gms decided by a TD or less (3 wins incl 2 in OT) and captured their 1st ever win over Miami. One sore spot all year was the erratic play of QB Daniels. He has suffered numerous inj's TY (missed finale) but is expected to return here. Daniels threw 7 of his 12 int vs FL and WV, both gms that were closer than the final suggests. Holtz wanted the RB's to get more of the carries TY and that comb with Daniels' inj caused his rush #'s to plummet (-535 yds). RB Plancher stepped up teaming with Murray as a solid RB duo. The WR corps was banged up with '09 st'rs Griffin and Love missing the entire yr. Bogan became the top threat with converted QB Landi #2. The OL avg 6'3" 301 with 3 Sr st'rs and paved the way for 149 ypg rush (4.0) while all'g 24 sks (8.1%). Overall USF is #89 on off and #41 on def. The DL starters avg 6'3" 278 with 2 Sr st'rs and all'd sks (s. 17%). Overall USF is #89 on ort and #41 on def. The UL starters avg 6'3" 278 with 2 Sr st'rs and all'd 132 rush ypg (3.6) with 17 of the tm's 28 sks. USF's sk leader DE Marshall (brkn foot) missed the L/5 gms but could ret here. LB Williams leads the tm in tkls and tfl. USF is #55 in our pass D rankings all'g 188 ² ypg (59%) with a 16-13 ratio vs a very soft slate of opposing QB's. USF is #60 in our ST rankings with a low net punt avg (34.4, last in BE) but strong ret specialists with KR Lindsey #2 in the BE in avg and PR Mitchell #4. PK Bonani ret'd from a severe inj TY and was nearly perfect inside the 50 (16-17). CU began the season 3-3 for the 9th time S/95 and 3rd year in a row. After two easy wins, they faced their toughest test in the entire month of Sept when they traveled to Aub. After punching Aub in the mouth. CU all'd a comeback and fell in OT which started a streak of 3 str losses. They faced two Top 25 mouth, CU all'd a comeback and fell in OT, which started a streak of 3 str losses. They faced two Top 25 non-conf teams (only ACC tm to do so TY) for the 2nd time S/'89 and they're believed to be the 1st tm in the reg ssn to play 2 non-conf teams that played for a conf champ (SC/Aub). The off comes in rated #64. Colorado Rockies #1 DC QB Parker struggled with int TY but mended his rift with Swinney after being benched vs SC and will start the last gm of his career here. RB Ellington was leading the ACC in rush TD's and all-purp yds when he was inj'd vs NCSt but is OFY. Harper has filled in nicely, putting up 343 yds (5.1) the L/3. Fr Hopkins set CU records for rec's and rec yds by a frosh. The OL (6'6" 313, 1 Sr) paved the way for 146 ypg (4.1) and all'd 16 sks (4.3%). The DL (6'4" 290) totalled 25.5 of the tm's 28 sks, led by ACC DPY/Nagurski winner Bowers (15.5). The DL is constantly harassing opposing QB's, tallying 89 qbh. The LB unit is led by Hawkins. The secondary ranks #20 all'g 192 ypg (52%) with a 16-14 ratio. Top tk!'r McDaniel enters this gm two int away from the CU record. Both CB Brewer and S Hall have IR TD's TY. The D is ranked #13 overall while the ST's come in at #9 led by Ray Guy semifinalist P Zimmerman (only ACC P in final 10). They avg 11.0 on PR while the PR D all's 5.8 ypr and in the last 6 gms allowed 17 yds! (all vs SC in last gm). The KR's avg 23.6 ypr with 1 TD while the KR D all's 20.8.

There's a reason Clemson's last 8 gms have gone Under the total as no Tigers gms have topped 40 pts during that stretch. If Clemson's offense comes to play, this could become a blowout. USF will have either a young QB or the inconsistent Daniels under C and either could possibly implode vs this front 7. USF had a pair of impressive bowl gms but those were vs MAC and CUSA teams. This year against the two quality D's of Florida and WV, they were outscored 58-20.

These '80's era rivals both make their first trip to El Paso to face each other for the first time S/'90 which resulted in the quickest sellout in Sun Bowl history. NO leads the all-time series 15-7-1 but UM has won 6 of the L/8, many with Title implications. ND ended its 9 gm bowl losing streak in their last postssn gm, a 49-21 win over Hawaii in the '08 Hawaii Bowl and they are 2-8 ATS in their L/10 bowls. Kelly is 2-1 SU/0-3 ATS in bowls. As of presstime OL coach Stoutland will coach this gm with the rest of the staff intact. UM last won a bowl in '06 and is 1-3 ATS its L/4. ND should have a solid crowd edge although UM sold its allotment of 8,000. Incl USC ND went 6-5 SU/5-4-2 ATS vs bowl elig foes outscoring them on avg 26-21 and outgaining them by 24 ypg. UM went 5-4 SU/4-5 ATS vs bowl elig foes outscoring them on avg 26-22 (+81 ypg). UM fielded a young squad as 20 frosh saw the field TY (still 18 upperclassmen st'rs) while ND has 15 upperclassmen incl 7 Sr's. Both tms ply'd Pitt TY as UM covered as an AF (-3') 31-3 and ND won 23-17 as a 6 pt HF.

ND went into the yr with just 1 non-true Fr scholarship QB in Crist. After Crist tore his patella vs Tulsa, Rees was forced into the lineup leading ND to 3 str wins. This is the 1st time S/71 that the ND RB's haven't had a 100 yd gm as leading rusher Wood became the st'r after Allen underwent career ending surg as ND lost its #1 QB and #1 RB for the 1st time in a season S/66. To make matters worse top TE Rudolph only ply'd in the 1st 6 before being KO'd. #2 rec Riddick missed 4 of L/5 (inj) but ply'd in the finale. Four of only ply d in the 1st o before being NO u. #2 fee Flodick Illissed 4 of L/3 (iii) but, ply d in the lindle. Pout of the 5 OL started every gm and the OG play improved when they moved back to a 3 pt stance. ND (6'4" 307, 2 Sr) all'd 20 sk (4.4%) although they finished just #96 NCAA in rush off. ND finished with our #46 off and #18 D. Despite losing their top player NT lan Williams (knee, CS), ND all'd 2 TD in their L/4 and held B2B opp (Utah & Army) without a TD for the 1st time since the '88 National Champ ssn. The 22 pts all'd in the L/3 is the fewest in a 3 gm stretch S/'93. The leading tkl'r is LB Te'o. ND is #34 in pass eff D (206, 62%, 9-14) led by S Smith. Kelly's L/2 Cincy teams finished #1 and #8 in our ST rankings but surprisingly, ND structed to find a KB until true Fr. lackson amerged and the unit finished #47 Primary PB Goodman. ND struggled to find a KR until true Fr Jackson emerged and the unit finished #47. Primary PR Goodman, and give in the unit finished #47. Primary PR Goodman, avg'd just 1.4. ND all'd just 6.1 on PR and 19.3 on KR. P Turk was inconsistent but did manage to land 23 inside the 20. The star unquestionably was Groza finalist Ruffer who hit all 15 of his FG att's. Former HC Shannon spent much of the season defending his QB, Jacory Harris and criticizing his WR's. Harris suffered a shoulder inj vs Pitt, then admitted he was also playing with a groin inj later in the season (missed 3). Vs UVA he took a nasty hit and was KO'd for the MD gm. Fourth string true Fr QB Morris led the Canes to a couple of wins and remained the st'r despite Harris being cleared. After Morris' 1st int vs USF, Shannon pulled him and both saw action in the finale. Sr RB Berry improved his stats TY and speedy rFr Miller emerged as a solid #2. Future NFL'er Hankerson became the 1st 1,000 yd rec here S/'02 (Andre Johnson) and passed Michael Irving's record for TD rec's in a single ssn. The OL avg 6'5" 321 with 1 Sr str and paved the way for 190 ypg rush (4.9) while all'g just 16 sks (4.0%). Overall UM finished with our #22 off and #5 D and the Canes lead the NCAA in tfl. The DL avg 6'4" 289 with 1 Sr st'r led by Bailey (7 sk), Ojomo (5) and Vernon (6). LB's McCarthy and Spence are the #1 and 2 tkl'rs. UM has our #7 pass eff D all'g 146 ypg (49%) with a 7-16 ratio. 1st Tm ACC Harris locked down the 1 CB spot and he had nearly as many pd as he had passes comp vs him while Hill held down the other CB spot and led the tm with 11 pd. 1st Tm ACC P Bosher handles all K duties and boomed 17 punts of 50+ while also nailing a 51 yd FG at Ohio St (set UM rec'd for consec FG's). Johnson leads with a 21.1 avg on KR although Miller only has 2 less yds (on 3 less att) and a TD. Benjamin is the top PR but only avg 5.0 ypr although he's had a PR TD. The Canes allow 21.5 ypr on KR and 8.9 ypr on PR (only avg 4.8 ypr).

If you mention Miami, Notre Dame or Brian Kelly, you think of offense. However, times have changed and both tms have been led by defensive units which rank in our top 18. Injuries have plagued Miami and now they expect to be led by their OL coach which would favor a more conservative game plan. ND has not topped 28 pts in their L/5 gms but their D finished on an incredible run holding Utah, Army and USC to 22 total points and an avg of 234 ypg. The Canes have gone 0-6-1 Over/Under to finish the year while the Irish have gone Under 4 straight and we'll call for another Under here.

These 2 met one time previously ('99), a gm in which UCF (+27') nearly pulled the upset (24-23) in Athens vs a #11 ranked GA squad. This is UCF's 3rd bowl in 4 ssns (2nd Liberty Bowl). UCF was clearly the most dominant CUSA tm TY going 8-1 incl a win over Mem in this very stadium less than a month ago. UCF HC O'Leary is 2-5 all-time in bowl matchups but does have some history vs GA from his days coaching at GT (3-4 record). UCF has 11 Sr's among 15 upperclassmen st'rs and has ply'd 5 bowl elig tms going 2-3 SU (3-2 ATS) outgaining those foes by 344-333 ypg (24-24 avg score). GA (14th consec bowl) has played B2B non-BCS/non-NYD bowls after a string of 7 str prestigious bowls. Overall GA HC Richt has gone 7-2 SU, 6-3 ATS in bowls winning and covering the L/4. GA struggled on the road TY with a 1-5 SU/ATS record incl neutral site OT loss to FL. GA has 7 Sr's among 15 upperclassmen st'rs and has ply'd 8 bowl elig trns going 3-5 SU (2-6 ATS). GA was outgained by a 402-368 margin vs those foes.

UCF's #69 off avg'd 34 ppg and 384 ypg. The biggest story early on however was at QB as true Fr Godfrey took over the starting reins in wk 3 from Calabrese. Godfrey had an All-Conf ssn while Calabrese was still used as a change of pace Wildcat before an ACL inj in Oct. Stanford trans Crow will be Godfrey's bkup here but saw very little time. Starting RB Harvey tore his ACL and RS leaving the job to the duo of Weaver and Murray who actually surpassed Harvey's 1,109 mark of LY. While UCF is more run-oriented, three WR's posted 470+ yds giving the young QB plenty of options. The OL (6'5" 305) is led by 1st Tm CUSA RT Reid who helped pave the way for 193 ypg (4.4) while all'g 20 sks. The Knight def (#39) led CUSA in ttl def as they surrendered 18 ppg and 318 ypg. In fact, the group didn't allow more than 326 yds over the 1st 7. The DL (6'3" 261) is led by '09 DPY Miller and all'd 110 ypg rush (3.4) while accounting for 25 of the tm's 29 sks. The LB unit is led by 3rd Tm CUSA Young who led the tm in tfl. UCF's secondary all'd 208 ypg (54%) with a 21-15 ratio finishing with our #13 pass D ranking. The premier player on the unit is CB Robinson who has now earned All-Conf honors in 3 consec ssns. While the off and def have been solid in UCF's run through CUSA, the kicker pos was a pain in O'Leary's side all yr as they hit just 10-20 FG's forcing the Knights to go for it on 4th down a few more times than they wanted. McDuffie finished 2nd in the nation in KR's while Robinson bolstered the tm's PR unit finishing #10 in the NCAA. All together UCF finished with our #1 ST ranking.

This hasn't been the typical ssn for GA as they are used to playing on NY's Day or in BCS bowls and they were lucky to escape with a 42-34 win over rival GT in the finale to land here. AFr QB Murray played surprisingly well finishing #3 in the SEC in pass ypg and #4 in pass eff finishing ahead of veteran QB's like SC's Garcia and Miss' Masoli. The run gm struggled (148 ypg, 4.2) with inj's and susp to the top 2 Ealey and King. The largest problem on off was that WR Green was susp the 1st 4 gms (sold a jersey) and the tm went 1-3 without him. When he ret'd in gm 5 vs Colo, he wasn't in gm shape and the altitude also bothered him and he didn't play the full gm which gave GA its 1st 4 gm losing streak S/90. With Green healthy, GA went 5-2 to finish the yr and he is #2 in the SEC in rec ypg (96.4) and is expected to leave early and be the 1st WR taken in the '11 draft. The veteran OL was shuffled 5x's during the ssn but settled on the same 5 st'rs for the L/3 gms. The OL avg 6'5" 311 with 2 Sr st'rs and all'd 22 sks (6.9%). Overall the off finished #18. The #27 D adjusted to new DC Grantham's 3-4 as the ssn went on but all'd 400+ yds off in 4 of their L/5 gms. GA actually all'd 23 more rush ypg than LY (149 ypg) but their ppg all'd went down (from 25.9 ppg in '09 to 23.1 ppg TY) for the 1st time in 4 yrs. AA LB Houston leads the SEC in sks and is #2 in tfl per gm. GA is #46 in our pass D rankings all'g 187 ypg (55%) with a 15-14 ratio. The #7 ST unit boasts '09 Ray Guy winning P Butler and strong-legged K Walsh with solid return units.

There are times to play against an SEC team, especially if they fall to the Liberty Bowl. At 6-6 GA has 2 options: either a positive finish or a losing season, which would put added pressure on HC Richt. The checklist shows the disparity between these tms and while UCF's D can potentially slow GA, they will not stop them. UCF's offense has looked impressive but that was vs CUSA opps and on the year they faced 5 defenses in the bottom 20 and found their success without having to face a D rated in our Top 50.

The Chick-fil-A Bowl will pit the runners-up of the SEC and ACC for the 1st time ever. This is the 19th meeting between these two (1st S/'91, FSU 15-3), but the first time they've met in a bowl gm. Although they weren't the ACC's top pick in the pressn, big things were exp from FSU TY. They lost two close gms (on a fmbl and a "wide right") however and had to rely on a MD win over NCSt to get to the ACC Title gm, where they lost to VT. The Chick-fil-A Bowl has had its eye on FSU for awhile, since FSU's last trip to this bowl was in '83 (still playing it outside). This will be HC Fisher's 1st bowl. The Noles went 7-3 SU but just 4-6 ATS vs bowl tms TY winning by an avg of 29-23 but being outgained 375-364. Spurrier is 7-9 SU/ATS all-time in bowls and just 1-3 SU/ATS at SC. SC is 4-11 all-time in bowls and their L/2 bowls have had embarrassing outcomes with blowout losses to lowa (31-10) and Conn (20-7) LY. SC ply'd its last gm in this building, another embarrassing blowout loss to Aub in the SEC Title gm (56-17) so this is their chance for redemption. Overall SC has faced an incredible 11 bowl tms TY (Aub 2x) with a 7-4 SU/6-5 ATS record outscoring those tms 33-25 and outgaining them 384-371. SC was 3-3 SU/ATS on the road (6-3 as AF under Spurrier). The Chick-fil-A is expecting its 14th consec sellout and both tms should be well represented as it's just a 5 hr drive from Tallahassee and 3.5 hr drive from Columbia.

For the first time since '00 (Chris Weinke), FSU began the season touting a Heisman candidate in Ponder. He bruised a tricep vs Okla, then ended up needing fluid drained from his elbow and only topped 250 pass yds in a gm once TY. He DNP the ACC Title gm, but should be ready to go here after resting his elbow for over a month. FSU's RB's were banged up towards the end of the year as Thomas missed the L/3 and Jones was bothered by an ankle sprain. Third Tm All-ACC Haulstead had 20 fewer rec's than the top guy (Reed) but found the EZ 4 more times. FSU's OL (6'4" 298, 2 Sr) was only able to start 77% of the gms together. They gave up 25 sks (6.6%) but paved the way for 168 rush ypg (4.8) behind 4x All-ACC Hudson (only 7th 4x All-ACC in conf history). The Noles have our #21 off. FSU's #20 D leads the NCAA in sks with 46. The DL all's 128 ypg (3.3) totaling 33.5 of the tm's sks led by 1st Tm ACC Jenkins' 13 (T-#3 NCAA). LB's Bradham and Smith are the tm's #1 and #2 tkl'rs. The Noles have our #23 pass eff D all'g 221 ypg (58%) with a 16-12 ratio, led by 2nd Tm ACC Rhodes and 3rd Tm ACC Reid. FSU's #23 ST's has provided highs (walk-off 55 yd FG vs Clem) and some lows ("wide right" vs NC). PR/KR Reid avg 9.0 on PR with 1TD and 24.1 on KR (long 55) but has not found the EZ. The PR D allows 7.4 ypr while the KR D allows 21.6. SC earned its 1st berth in the SEC Title gm since joining the league in '92 and several major improvements on offense made that possible. First, QB Garcia finally had a more mature attitude and settled down in the pocket making fewer mistakes. Prob the most important improvement was at RB where PS#1 RB Lattimore took over and changed SC's whole gameplan taking pressure off of Garcia. Suddenly the oft-maligned OL looked better, and SC was no longer scratching for pts like in years past (+11.4 ppg over LY's 20.6). Soph WR Alshon Jeffery had an outstanding ssn finishing in the top 3 for the Biletnikoff Awd as the NCAA's top receiver. The OL avg 6'5" 303 with 2 Sr st'rs and thanks in part to Lattimore and in part to new OL coach Elliott improved from 121 rush ypg (3.6) LY to 156 ypg (4.1) TY while allowing 9 less sks (28, 7.9%). Overall the offense is #27 and the defense is #24 in our rankings. The DL avg 6'4" 275 with 2 Sr. It was a disappointing inj-riddled yr for DE Cliff Matthews but he played through his inj's and the DL only all'd 104 rush yng (3.2) which was #1 in the SEC. SC also leads the SEC in sks with 39 (+11 from LY). The LB's lost st'r Wilson after 1 gm but SPUR Allen was a nice surprise with 10 tfl. The secondary was the problem all year other than 1st Tm SEC CB Gilmore who led the tm in tkls. SC is #93 in our pass D rankings all'g 254 ypg (63%) with a 22-9 ratio and was forced to go to a walk-on at times at the other CB spot after '09 All-SEC Culliver was lost that the twint and the secondary was the problem of the for the yr in gm 8. The ST are #62 with K/P Lanning solid in both areas but the returns tms are below avg.

Fisher has done as expected, bringing the Noles back onto the national stage. They have, however, lost

3 of their L/6 but have to be pleased with a 9 win ssn incl a convincing win over rival Fla while also beating Mia by 28. Spurrier almost saw his dream realized but they were beaten by a better team in the SEC Champ Instead of expecting a letdown, we feel they'll bounce back convincingly after being out of that gm early. Rankings-wise, these tms are fairly even but in a close game, we'll side with the SEC tm almost everyday.

TOUGHEST OPPONENTS BY OPPONENT WIN %

On the front page of this edition of Power Sweep we list which teams played the toughest schedules and that is indeed the best method of ranking the strength of opponent played. For comparison's sake, here is a listing of the final records of each team's opponents in 2010. Taking out the team's own record from their opponents' stats the numbers reflect only how their opponents did against other teams. For example Auburn's opponents are listed at 92-52 63.9% if you add the Auburn's record they would be 92-65 58.6%.

92-	·52 63.9% if you add	d the	Aubu	ırn's rec	ord t	hey	would be 92-65 58.6	3%.

The above chart shows the combined records of the opponents each team faced. Opponents win percentage is the sole component of the NCAA's ranking of toughest opponents faced. Although this is a useful system, it doesn't really take into account the actual strength of the opponent faced as a team like a ranked South Carolina at 9-4 is the same as facing a 9-4 Miami (OH) and we know that is not accurate. Also if a team played a FCS/IAA opponent such as SE Missouri St which finished 9-3, this system would rate them as tough of an opponent as Alabama. It is interesting to note that even though 7 of the top 8 teams made bowls, 6 of those had a win over an FCS/I-AA team this year. Once again for our toughest schedule ranking see the front page, but this analysis can be useful. For our complete ranking of toughest opponents ranked by units faced, see page 23.

This is the inaugural year of the TicketCity Bowl which will be played at the Cotton Bowl and fittingly this is the 1st matchup for these programs. The Raiders return to the post season for the 11th str year (6-4 SU/4-6 ATS) and they are the only tm in the B12 to be bowl elig every ssn in the conf's existence. TT is now led by Tuberville who is 6-3 SU/ATS in bowls in his career. NW is headed to its 3rd str bowl under Fitzgerald who is 0-2 SU/2-0 ATS in his career and he has made it the program's goal to win a bowl gm for the 1st time S/'48 (lost L/7). TT played Baylor in this stadium on Oct 9th beating the bowl bound Bears 45-38 as a 1 pt fav while this is the Cats 1st trip here. TT will have a significant crowd edge as Lubbock is a 6 hr drive from Dallas and they have many alums in the area. NW went 1-4 SU/ATS vs bowl teams getting outscored 41-24 and outgained 495-355. TT went 3-3 SU/2-4 ATS being outscored 34-26 and outgained 492-455. The Raiders went 2-1-1 as an AFTY while the Cats were 0-3 as an dog outside of Ryan Field with 2 contests coming after 1st Tm B10 QB Persa was KO'd for the ssn.

After throwing the GW TD pass to knock off Iowa, Persa ruptured his Achilles tendon. Persa had accounted for 75.5% of NW's offense and his 73.5% comp set a school record and is #2 in B10 history. His replacement is 6'6" pocket passer Watkins who hit 129 (55%) with a 1-4 ratio (49 rush) in his 2 sts and the Cats actually burned the RS of the more mobile Colten for the L/2. The 2 QB's comb for 6 TO's in the finale loss to Wisky and Ftizgerald vowed the squad would get right back to work with pract so the frosh QB's could get more exp before the bowl. The Cats started 4 diff TB's before finally settling on Trumpy whose 80 yd TD run vs IL was the Cats' longest S/'82 although he missed the finale and is ? here (fractured wrist). WR Ebert stepped up as all star caliber TE/SB Dunsmore battled inj's. The OL (6'5" 303, 1 Sr) all'd the most sk among bowl tms (39, 11%). The DL is led by DE Browne who has 7 of their 8.5 sks up front. Nate Williams is the top tackler among the LB's but the unit has a tendency to overpursue which opens up cutback lanes which IL's OC Petrino cited as a reason for the Illini's 519 rush yds. NW finished #36 pass eff D (231, 59%, 21-14) led by #1 tkl'r S Peters and top cover CB Mabin. K Demos struggled at times (missing 2 FG's in the Purdue loss) and would like to atone for missing the potential GW in LY's wild OT bowl loss to Auburn. P Williams is #3 B10 in net (38.2) with good placement (18 FC) and their 3.3 ypr all'd is #4 in the NCAA. True Fr Mark set a school record with 273 KR yds vs Wisky including a 94 yd TD.

Tuberville vowed to keep the Air Raid offense but he added more of an emphasis on the run gm and after running for over 140 yd in a gm 18x in the previous 10Y, the Raiders did it 7x TY led by the combo of Batch and Stephens. The pass #s shrunk as expected -72 ypg although QB Potts finished as the B12's #3 passer. After Potts was briefly benched for fan favorite Sheffield who got the start vs MO, he returned to finish out the yr. The receiving corps battled inj's to #3 rec Torres and #5 Franks but Leong finished #2 FBS in TD rec. The OL (6'5" 313) struggled early on with run blocking after lining up in wide splits under Leach but improved with exp (no Sr's) and allowed 21 sk (3.7%). The D also had a major scheme change as they went to a 3-4. Depth was a major issue and Tuberville numerous times bemoaned the unit's lack of speed until he eventually said the best way for them to win was to simply outscore people. 1st Tm B12 NT Whitlock was solid in the middle with the top sk'r being ex-LB Duncan. LB Bird was the tm's top tkl'r. Inj's really hit the secondary hard as TT's pass D finished dead last in the FBS ypg all'd although they were #87 in our pass eff D (306, 62%, 27-14). TT was #36 in ST's even though they allowed onside K's to be ret'd for TD's in B2B gms vs ISU and Baylor. P LaCour's net of 38.8 was #16 NCAA and KR Stephens remains 1 of the B12's best. PR Lewis (6.2) was mediocre and the K gm was an adventure as Williams and Carona combined to hit 9-14 with 3 blk's. The Raiders allowed 5.8 on PR and 20.7 on PR and blk'd 2 P's

A disappointing finish for NW, losing by 21 and 47 after losing QB Persa. No question, Fitzgerald will have new QB Watkins ready with the extra prep time. TT finished the season with wins vs Weber and Houston but did not beat a BCS team by more than 7 pts on the season. Give the edge to the better defense with the better coach getting the generous points.

A topsy-turvy ssn comes to an end on NY's day for UF and PSU. UF has won both prev matchups in the '62 Gator and the '98 FL Citrus (21-6, -13'). PSU plays in its 4th ever Outback Bowl going 3-0 SU/ATS. Paterno is the all-time bowl win leader going 24-11-1 SU/22-10-1 ATS and is 7-2 SU/ATS L/9 vs SEC tms in bowls. UF is playing in their 20th consec bowl (2nd longest in nation) and Meyer is 6-1 SU/ATS in bowls incl 4-1 at UF. This is UF's 4th trip to the Outback (1-2 SU/ATS). UF's fans are used to more prestigious bowls w/BCS bids in 3 of the L/4Y but UF will clearly have the home crowd edge as fans will come out to support Meyer in his last gm. UF is 3-2 SU/ATS on the road (incl OT win vs GA) TY. PSU went 0-3 SU/ATS as án AD TY Iosing all 3 to '09 BCS bowl winners. PSU now faces a 4th BCS bowl winner here (1st tm in history) but also lost 4 gms by 20+ for the 1st time in tm history. PSU is 3-5 SU/2-6 ATS vs bowl tms being outscored 27-19 and outgained 372-361 while UF is 5-5 SU/4-6 ATS vs bowl tms but outscored those tms 25-23 (outgained them 326-325). Both lost to AL but UF actually outgained the Tide 281-273 while PSU was outgained 409-283.

Rob Bolden became the 1st true Fr QB to start in the Paterno era. Bolden struggled getting the ball downfield causing D's to put more players in the box to stop PSU's all-time leading rusher Royster. When Bolden was hurt vs Minn, McGloin came off of the bench to hit 6-13 and 2 TD's. In his 1st start he led the Lions to a win over Mich with their biggest yd and pt totals of the ssn. Bolden started vs NW but McGloin led them to PSU's biggest comeback ever (trailing 21-0). Vs OSU McGloin threw the 1st PSU TD passes of the B10 era in Columbus while taking PSU to a 14-3 HT lead. In the 2H he threw 2 pick sixes but he started the L/2 with Paterno naming him the bowl's QB starter. Top WR Moye's play picked up with McGloin at QB. Although all 5 OL (6'3" 301, 1 Sr) ply'd a diff position LY PSU all'd just 12 sks (3.1%). Thanks to inj's and attrition the D never quite lived up to the standards of recent editions (top 15 NCAA scoring and ttl D from '04-'09). The star up front is DT Ogbu with the DE's probably the unit's most banged up position. The LB's also had their inj woes as top LB Mauti missed the L/2 (shldr). PSU had the #64 pass eff D (188, 62%, 19-9). The ST finished #38 although PSU will be w/o their top P Fera who missed the L/2 and was replaced by walk-on true Fr Butterworth and the tm finished w/a 38.4 net. K Wagner hit 8-10 from 40+. PSU all'd 7.3 on PR and 20.7 on KR.

Tough yr for mighty UF as the off took a nosedive w/o QB Tebow and struggled with inj's at RB all yr. QB Brantley is more of a pure passer and not well suited to the Tebow-ran off, so adjustments were eventually made w/TE Reed and bkup QB Burton serving as the Tebow-like QB's while Brantley remained the st'r and threw most of the passes. RB Demps is one of the fastest players in the nation (Olympic trials 100m) but suffered from a foot inj which limited him almost all yr (2 gms missed-won't be 100% for bowl). After his 5 gm susp, WR Rainey helped out at RB and WR and is one of the top off threats on the tm. The OL (6'4" 322, 4 Sr) was shaky w/OG Mike Pouncey moving to C to take over for his twin brother Maurkice (1st RD DC). In the opener snaps were flying everywhere and UF was held below 100 yds rushing in 4 gms TY (Mia OH, AL, LSU, SC) and only 1 LY (AL) with the rush avg falling from 222 ypg (5.6) in '09 to 166 ypg (4.3) TY. Overall UF finished #32 on off and #13 on D. New DC Austin faced a topy rebuilding job replacing 5 DC's (all 1st 3 Rd's). They all'd 50 ypg more than LY (303 ypg) and 8.7 ppg more. UF's D only generated 21 sks (tied #10 SEC) after from 39 LY. The DL avg 6'3" 278 with 3 Sr st'rs but loses DL cch McCarney who was hired as NT's HC. UF all'd 130 ypg rush, its most S/'04. One bright spot is the secondary that is #11 in our pass D rankings all'g 173 ypg (55%) with a 16-17 ratio led by #1 tk/l' S Black and CB Jenkins. The ST's are always strong (#3) with P Henry leading the nation in avg and net. One weak spot is kicking as P Henry was forced to take over for the inj'd Sturgis.

If we told you PSU was facing UF in a bowl - it wouldn't be with a pair of 7-5 tms. If we told you that it was Meyer vs Paterno and one was going to retire - it wouldn't be Meyer. While we initially eventually made w/TE Reed and bkup QB Burton serving as the Tebow-like QB's while Brantley remained at it was Meyer vs Paterno and one was going to retire - it wouldn't be Meyer. While we initially ded with PSÚ. Mever's sudden retirement has caused us to reevaluate this game as we wait to ee how the team and fan base responds

This bowl pairs AL HC Nick Saban vs his former tm where he was 34-24-1 from '95-'99 with MSL HC Dantonio serving as his DB cch. This is the 1st meeting between these 2 and the 1st time Saban's faced MSU since leaving there. MSU won a share of the B10 Title for the 1st time S/90 and now plays in just their 3rd Jan bowl S/89. Moments after the ND win B10 Cch of the Yr Dantonio suffered a mild heart attack and the tm was led to 2 wins incl 1 over Wisky by OC Treadwell. The team rallied for incredible 4Q comebacks vs NW and Purdue to finish with a program record 11 wins. This is the Spartans' 4th bowl under Dantonio (0-3 SU/1-2 ATS). MSU has played their bowl game in Orlando 3 out of the L/4Y ('07, '08) and is 1-1 SU/ATS in this bowl, losing 24-12 to UGA and QB Stafford as an 8' pt dog in '08. The Spartans are 3-8 as dog the L/3Y (2-1 TY). AL was selected over LSU because they have never played in the Capital One while LSU was here LY. Saban is 5-6 SU/ATS in bowls (2-1 SU/ATS at Bama). Orlando is about a 9 hr drive from Tuscaloosa so the Tide should have a strong fan following for this one. UA is 5-3 SU/4-4 ATS vs bowl tms TY outscoring those tms by 27-17 and outgaining them by 462-333. MSU is 7-1 SU/6-2 ATS vs bowl caliber tms outgaining those tms by 410-356. Both tms faced PSU with AL winning 24-3 (409-283 edge) and MSU winning 28-22 (outgained 396-331).

MSU's off leader is QB Cousins who fought off shidr and ankle inj's to score the GW TD vs Purdue to cap a 22 pt 4Q. He should be 100% with the time off and finished #19 NCAA pass eff. MSU had over 200 rush yd in their first 4 for the 1st time S/68 and RB Baker became just the 6th MSU soph to run for 1,000 yds. The rec corps is deep with 5 WR and 2 TE's seeing regular action incl WR's Dell and Cunningham and All-B10 TE Gantt. The OL (6'5" 300, 3 Sr) all'd 19 sk (5.5%) with a strong left side (LG Foreman and LT Young). The Spartans have our #37 off and #32 D. MSU's star up front is Worthy who led the tm in sks with just 4 from his DT spot. The LB's feature the FBS's most productive duo in AA Jones and Gordon who were the tm's top 2 tkl'rs. After allowing a 32-6 ratio in '09 (#103 pass eff D), the Spartans improved to 18-17 TY (#22) with all 4 st'rs named All-B10. MSU's 3 biggest plays of the season came on ST: the blk'd punt vs PU, "Little Giants": the fake FG in which holder Bates hit TE Gantt for a 28 yd TD pass to beat ND and the "Mousetrap": trailing NW 24-14 in the 4Q, a fake P on 4&11 at the NW36 in which Bates hit a 21 yd pass to Fowler. P Bates led the B10 in avg and was #2 in net (38.2). K Conroy hit his 1st 13 FG's in the 1st 7 gms before cooling off to hit just 1-2 in the final 5. Martin led the league in PR at 14.2 incl the pivotal 74 yd TD vs Wisky. The Spartans allow 8.7 on PR and 21.1 on KR and finished #49 in ST.

After ÁL earned their first Nat'l Title since '92 LY, a 9-3 ssn seems disappointing. Still this is one of the most talented teams in the country with their only losses to 2 squads in the SEČ Title gm and 10-2 LSU. QB McElroy entered the ssn 30-0 as a starting QB in HS and college (now 39-3). McElroy was still efficient but held onto the ball too long resulting in 32 sks (+12 from LY). 2009 Heisman winner RB Ingram is a Michigan native but suffered a knee inj in Aug and missed the 1st 2. Backup Richardson suffered a knee inj midssn and also missed 2. The rushing production fell by 40 ypg (175, 5.0). On the bright side super WR Jones stayed healthy TY for his 1st 1,000 yd ssn. The OL avg 6'4" 301 with 1 Sr st'r. Overall AL has our #13 off and #2 def. Super DE Dareus was susp the 1st 2 and he was the most exp plyr returning to the DL in '10. The DL starters avg 6'3" 312 with 0 Sr's. LB Hightower ret'd TY after a knee inj cut his '09 ssn short but wasn't as dominating as expected and JLB Upshaw led the tm in sks and tfl. The secondary was quite inexperienced heading into the ssn but developed nicely with new FS Lester leading the SEC in int. AL ranks #4 in our pass D rankings all'g 173 ypg (53%) with an excellent 11-21 ratio vs a strong slate of opposing QB's. A big loss is AL defensive leader SS Barron who will miss the bowl with a torn pectoral muscle. AL is #18 in our ST rankings led by excellent PR Maze and KR Richardson.

There's only one question in this entire writeup and that's motivation. Take a look at the checklist and you'll see it's a complete shutout as Bama has a 14'-0 edge. While the loss to Aub will be tough to rebound from, we have to believe that they'll consider a 10 win season a success. MSU was hoping for a BCS berth but the truth is, the last time they faced a quality D on the road they were destroyed -6 to Iowa (trailed 30-0 at half)

Michigan returns to the postssn for the 1st time S/'07 and their 1st ever matchup with Miss St. This is UM's 3rd appearance in the Gator Bowl (1-1 SU/ATS) with their last visit in '90 and they are 7-3 SU/6-4 ATS in bowls vs SEC tms. Rich Rod is 2-3 SU/1-4 ATS in bowls. MSU makes its 1st bowl appearance S/'07's Liberty Bowl win over UCF. It is Mullen's 1st bowl gm as a HC but of course he was part of Urban Meyer's FL and Utah staffs that went to bowls. This is MSU's 1st NY's Day bowl S/'99 and just the 10th meeting with a current B10 tm (Illini in '80). The Bulldogs sold out their original allotment of tix even before the destination was announced and asked for more while UM will bring fans for its 1st bowl in 3 yrs. MSU is 3-2 SU/ATS on the road TY and covered both times they were a road fav incl a 5★ GOM Winner for us vs Hou. UM is 3-2 SU/1-4 ATS on the road TY. MSU is 3-4 SU/ATS vs bowl tms TY getting outscored 21-17 and outgained 378-312 while UM is 3-5 SU/2-6 ATS vs bowl tms being outscored 37-30 and just slightly outgained 479-475.

Rodriguez finally found the perfect QB in B10's OPY Robinson to run his spread. FL native Robinson exploded for UM QB ttl off records in his 1st 2 sts, earning nat! POW honors vs Conn and

ND. Robinson was considered the front runner for the Heisman until his 3 int vs Mich St (2 in EZ) doomed UM and D's learned how to contain him. He also was banged up as he left several gms due to inj. Robinson still finished the ssn with a IA QB rush record 1,643 yds and became the first IA QB to to rrij. robinson suil rinished the ssn with a IA QB to rush record 1,643 yds and became the first IA QB to rush for 1,500 yds and throw for 2,000. UM went with a RB-by-committee as leading TB rusher Smith a wasn't quite 100% to start the yr. The leading receiver was Roundtree who had a UM record 246 yd vs IL but struggled with drops. The OL (6'5" 302, 2 Sr) is anchored by All-B10 C Molk. UM all'd just 11 sks and their 5.7 ypc led the B10. UM was held to fewer than 27 pts just twice TY by B10 co-champs MSU and OSU and finished as our #8 off. Attrition caused the Wolves to play 6 true Fr on D (#80). DC Robinson's controversial 3-3-5 struggled all'g the most yds and pts in UM hist incl 39 ppg in B10 play (7 of 8 scored 34+). NT Martin is the top D player but he's routinely doubled. He suffered a sprained a ankle vs lowa and wasn't 100% the rest of the year. LB Mouton led the league in tkls for most of the yr before being edged out by S Koyacs in the finale. By vr's end I IM was starting 2 true Fr an ex-walk-on before being edged out by S Kovacs in the finale. By yr's end UM was starting 2 true Fr, an ex-walk-on

The fore being edged out by S Kovacs in the finale. By yr's end UM was starting 2 true Fr, an ex-walk-on framed a journeyman Sr in the secondary which finished #95 pass eff D (260, 63%, 18-11). K's Gibbons 2 and Broekhuizen comb to hit just 4-13 FG (L/37). P Hagerup avg'd an impressive 43.6 as a true and will return after being susp'd vs OSU. Top returnman Gallon avg'd just 4.3 on PR and 21.8 on KR. The Wolves allow 9.8 on PR's and 21.4 on KR's. Questions on Rich Rod's future could be a distraction.

MSU surprised some folks TY with a strong squad playing in the brutal SEC West with an 8-4 record which was quite an accomplishment. Along the way HC Mullen defeated his mentor Meyer in the Swamp and came close vs BCS-bound Ark losing in 2OT. Their #53 offense is a cookie-cutter of Meyer's UF off with 2 trong run gm led by mobile QB Relf. Passing QB Russell split time with Relf early in the yr, but after the 2 to 5 int vs LSU, the pass gm was scaled back and Relf took most of the snaps the rest of the yr. Top RB Ballard took over as the str' in gm 3 and was very productive finishing #3 in the SEC in scoring [9,3] ppg). Big play WR Berry was lost to inj in gm 6 but could return here. The OL has been solid in run blocking as MSU is #2 in the SEC in rush ypg (216, 4.6), but all'd 22 sks (9.0%). The OL starters avg 6'3" 303 with as MSU is #2 in the SEC in rush ypg (216, 4.6), but alid 22 sks (9.0%). The OL starters avg 6'3' 303 with 2 Sr st'rs led by LT Sherrod who is projected as one of the top OT's for the '11 draft. MSU is #16 in our def rankings. The whole team was rocked by tragedy when starting DE Nick Bell (3 sts) was diagnosed with a brain tumor and eventually died during the tm's bye wk (Nov 6th). MSU all'd 122 rush ypg (3.6) with 26 sks and the tm's sk leader was LB White (6). White was highly productive finishing #4 in the SEC in tkls and tfl. MSU is #29 in our pass D rankings all'g 236 ypg (57%) with a 17-12 ratio. MSU has faced 2 QB's similar to Robinson TY (Newton and Masoli) and held Aub to a ssn low 17 pts (Newton 70 rush yd, 136 pass) and Masoli (12 rush, 261 pass). Rumors of Mullen being a candidate for multiple jobs could be a distraction.

These two teams have provided us with three Bowl or Game of the Year Winners! Michigan's offense obviously runs thru Robinson and despite the extra practice, we don't expect much improvement from the D. The Bulldogs are potent enough on offense for us to anticipate a high scoring gm.

BOWL TEAMS TOUGHEST UNITS FACED

Here is a chart showing how difficult of a schedule each bowl team faced in opposing units. For example, Texas A&M ranks #27 in the NCAA in pass eff defense, but #11 in our rankings (see our rankings on pg 13). The Aggies have taken on the #3 schedule of passing teams TY with 5 of their opponents ranking in our top 20 of pass offenses (7 in the top 40). Don't be misled by pure stats. This chart is very helpful to look at bowl matchups. For instance if team A is playing Team B who has a strong rush offense, you will want to see how strong the rush defenses were that team B faced this year to get an idea of how they matchup vs their bowl opponent.

TCU trailed Boise most of the yr in the AP polls, but jumped them in the BCS standings after a 47-7 blowout of then-undefeated Utah. TCU breathed a sigh of relief with Nevada's upset of the Broncos which assured them of becoming the 1st non-AQ to make consecutive BCS bowls and the 1st to play in the Rose Bowl. TCU easily sold its allotment of 20,000 tix while UW has a 35,000 allotment and outnumbered P10 fans in their 3 recent trips to Pasadena. Patterson is 5-4 SU/4-4-1 ATS in bowls losing LY's Fiesta Bowl to Boise,17-10 (-7). The final BCS standings officially gave UW the B10's nod as they were co-champs with MSU and OSU all tied at 11-1 (7-1 in B10 play). This is the Badgers 7th trip to Pasadena (1st S/'99) where they are 3-3 SU winning their L/3 (2-1 ATS) Under Bielema UW is 2-2 SU/ATS in bowls with this being their 1st BCS bid. They both faced UNLV in LV as the Frogs (-34') won 48-6 on 10/30 (30-12 FD and 530-197 yd edges). UW (-20) beat the Rebels 41-21 in the opener (23-10 FD and 475-217 yd edges). TCU was fav'd in every gm TY but this is only the 2nd gm (Utah -5) where the line has been under 13. UW was 2-0 SU/ATS as a dog TY with their 2 biggest wins of the yr B2B vs OSU and at Iowa.

TCU flat out dominated opp's TY outscoring them 43-11 behind their vaunted D. The closest game for the Frogs was a 5 pt win over underrated SDSt. TCU fell behind 14-0 (its biggest deficit TY) but scored 37 unanswered before all'g SDSt to battle back. The #10 offense has had some slow start's TY as the Frogs had leads of just 14 or less at halftime 5x's incl 3 gms of single-digit leads. Sr QB Dalton (1st Tm MWC) does not hesitate to make plays with his feet (407 rush) and is #5 NCAA pass eff. RB Wesley is the first Frog over 1,000 yds rushing S/03. For the first time S/03-'04, TCU has 2 rec's with more than 500 yds in B2B seasons. The OL avg 6'4" 317 with 4 Sr st'rs. Led by two 1st Tm MWC'ers (incl Rimington winner Kirkpatrick), they pave the way for 261 ypg (5.5) while giving up 9 sks (2.9%). If TCU placed 8 defenders on the first two All-MWC teams. They lead the NCAA in many categories and our #3 D. The DL (6'2" 281), with 3 Sr starters, has totaled 17.5 of the tm's 25 sks. LB Brock leads TCU in tkls. The Frogs rank #2 in our pass eff D led by 1st Tm MWC Johnson and had 3 IR TD's TY. The ST's unit (#9) is led by Kerley who avg an outstanding 12.9 on PR and 28.0 on KR. P Kelton has landed 15 ln20 and the PR D is giving up 7.2 (KR D 20.5).

Johnny Unitas QB Awd Winner Tolzien (#5 NCAA pass eff) leads the NCAA in comp % which is also a new B10 record. UW is the only team in B10 history to avg 40+ in conf play and have 3 RB who have at least 13 rush TD. HC Bielema immediately saw the power/speed potential in B10's '09 OPY Clay and true Fr White. Clay became the 1st back in 29 gms to have 100 yds vs Ohio St but suffered a knee inj missing the L/3. #3 TB Ball scored the GW TD vs lowa and ran for 645 yd and 13 TD in the L/4. The WR corps struggled with inj's as their top 2 (Toon and Gilreath) missed 4 and 2. Mackey finalist TE Kendricks led the squad in rec. The true stars are the OL (6'5" 321, 3 Sr) led by B10 OL of the Yr/ Outland winner LT Carimi. UW ran for less than 150 yds just once (142 vs Iowa) and they all'd just 12 sks (4.7%). UW (#12 off) also had the NCAA's fewest pens per gm and was tied for the NCAA lead with just 9 TO's lost. All-B10 DE Watt leads the DL (avg 6'4" 279) with big plays in big gms. Wisky (#37 D) suffered a huge loss when LY's B10 Fr of the Yr LB Borland was KO'd (shoulder) and Taylor led the unit in tfl. The secondary (#32 pass eff D all'g 192, 56%, 19-14) cut down on big plays. ST's (#68) have been the source of big plays TY for both the Badgers and their opponents. After allowing KR's of 97 and 95 yds vs Arizona St, the Badgers blk'd the gm tying xp in a 1 pt vin. A 74 yd PRTD keyed MSU's win but perhaps the biggest play of the season was Gilreath's 97 yd KRTD on the opening KO vs OSU.

There have been times when non-AQ teams have reached a BCS bowl without being truly deserving but this is not one of them as this Horned Frogs unit has both an excellent offense and defense. They'll look forward to the challenge of their 2nd straight BCS game. Wisky comes in as B10 Champs and is now an underdog to a MWC team in the Rose Bowl. They'll play the disrespect card and it will be a great matchup with their big physical OL and trio of solid RB's vs the TCU front 7.

These programs come in from opposite ends of the spectrum for their 1st ever meeting as this is UC's 1st ever BCS Bowl while it is OU's 8th. The Huskies come in as the biggest dog of the BCS gms at +17'. Conn won a share of the BE Title and UC HC Edsall is 3-1 SU/ATS in bowls incl LY's upset of SC as 3' pt dogs. OU won their 7th B12 Title but has lost their L/5 BCS gms SU/ATS incl being upset in B2B yrs (*06-'07) in the Fiesta Bowl where they are 1-3 SU/ATS. Stoops is 5-6 SU/3-8 ATS in bowls. The tms both faced Cincy TY with the Huskies (-2') winning 38-17 at home on Nov 27th despite being outgained 399-357 while OU (-14) edged the Bearcats 31-29 despite being outgained 461-452. UC was 2-4 SU/ATS on the road TY but finished the ssn with 2 str outright upsets as an AD. OU had struggled on the road until winning their L/3 outside of Norman for the conf crown. Both are young with UC having only 5 Sr starters while OU has just 4.

The Huskies began the ssn with high hopes coming off their upset of SC in LY's bowl. Prospects looked bleak after they began the ssn 3-4 with losses to Temple and Rutgers that had some calling for Edsall to be ousted. UC went on to upset BE leaders WV, Pitt and Syr in 3 str gms to gain control of the BE and took care of business vs Cincy and USF to tie WV and Pitt for the BE Title and grab the BCS bid. QB Frazer began the ssn as the starter (1st 4) but was benched for Endres (2 sts). Endres was then dismissed and instead of going back to Frazer, Edsall started Box vs L'ville (4-12, 35 yds) but he left the gm with inj and the job went back to Frazer. No doubt the strength of the offense is 5'9" 193 RB Todman who is #2 in the FBS in rush ypg (143). The receivers were shortchanged due to the inconsistencies at QB with UC finishing last in the BE in pass ypg (145). The OL avg 6'5" 305 with 2 Sr st'rs. UC is tied for 14th in the FBS (1st BE) in sks all'd (12, 3.8%) and don't have the benefit of a mobile QB. UC is #2 in the BE in rush ypg (180, 4.7) but 5th in ttl off due to the poor passing. Overall UC has our #67 off and #51 def. The DL avg 6'3" 268 with 0 Sr strs. UC has all'd 147 rush ypg (3.9) and the def has posted 27 sks. UC boasts some of the best LB's in the BE led by 2x 1st Tm BE MLB Wilson who leads the BE in tkls. UC is #33 in our pass D rankings all'g 206 ypg (58%) with a 13-19 ratio and leads the BE in int (19). UC is #44 in our ST rankings with a poor net punt avg of 34.8 (2nd last BE) but lead the BE in KR avg (26.5) with 2 TD.

After an "off" 8-5 ssn, the Sooners proved that they are the B12's most powerful program by winning their L/4 to wind up in Glendale on NY's Day. OU lost OC Wilson after the championship gm but veteran staffers QB cch Heupel/WR cch Norvell should be effective replacements. QB Jones despite some road struggles vs MO and A&M, rebounded to pilot our #9 off. The workhorse is AA RB Murray who led FBS RB's in rec's in addition to rushing for 1,121 yds. Biletnikoff finalist and AA WR Broyles finished #2 FBS in rec despite a nagging ankle inj. The OL (6'5" 297) all'd 21 sks (3.6%) but did struggle in short yd situations. The Sooners D had its own struggles replacing AA DT McCoy as the top interior lineman and Taylor was never 100% after LY's gruesome leg inj before he was KO'd for the ssn vs TT. B12's DL of the Yr DE Beal is #2 all-time in school history in sks. The LB's suffered a blow when projected MLB Box missed the 1st 4 due to a back inj (burned by mobile QB's early on). OU's 152 rush ypg (4.3) all'd was the most in the Stoops era. OU ranked #8 in pass eff D (212, 55%, 15-17) led by All-B12 S Carter. The ST are #38 with P Way's 40.5 net finishing #5 NCAA. The K's continue to be a concern although sen. Stevens hit 10 of his L/11 after winning the job back for the L/4. Broyles' ankle inj limited his effectiveness on PR but Madu provided a spark on KR. The Sooners all'd 3.2 on PR and 20.5 on KR with 3 TD.

There's a reason this is the biggest line of all the bowls and if you look to the left at the checklist it pretty much explains why. The only question in this gm is the motivation of the Sooners and with the recent bowl disappointments you can be assured Stoops will have his team ready. UC has been one of the most fortunate teams in football as they've been outgained in 6 of their 7 conf gms yet came away with the championship. It's not hard to favor a team when they have a superior offense, superior D, better ST's and are hungry for a BCS Bowl win

First meeting. After an 0-2 start to the season, VT capped its incredible turnaround with a win in the ACC Champ game. The Hokies rattled off 11 straight wins and are the only school in the FBS to win 10 gms in each of the L/7Y. They also became the 1st tm S/'00 to win every ACC gm (Fla St). The Cardinal had a superb regular ssn as they never trailed heading into HT the entire year with one 2H slip up coming against BCS Champ bound Oregon. Hokie HC Beamer owns an 8-9 SU/ATS record in bowls while SU HC Hărbaugh is 0-1 SU, 1-0 ATS. The Hokies faced 8 bowl caliber tms going 7-1 SU (6-2 ATS) with a 34-21 avg score and 389-381 yd edge while the Cardinal took on 6 bowl caliber programs (5-1 SU, 3-3 ATS) with a 34-22 avg score and 468-377 yd edges. VT has 8 Sr st'rs among 17 upperclassmen while SU has 12 Sr's with 17 upperclassmen. Both tms faced and destroyed WF TY with the Deacons being their only common opp. Stanford does have the benefit of an extra week of rest (Hokies played into Dec with ACC Title gm) but does travel more than 3,000 miles to get to Miami while VT is playing in ACC country.

The #20 VT off is led by prolific QB Taylor who is one of only two active FBS QB's with 6,000 pass yds and 2,000 rush yds in his career (Nev's Kaepernick). He owns the most wins by a QB in VT history. VT has used a 3-headed monster to man the RB spot with Evans, Wilson and Williams combining for 25 of the tm's 30 rush TD's (Taylor other 5). The top WR's are Boykin and Coale but TE Smith has become one of Taylor's fav targets in the RZ. The OL avg 6'4" 294 with just 1 Sr starter and they've started 100% of the games together. They pave the way for 209 rush ypg (5.1) but have all'd 26 sks (8.4%). The DL has tallied 25 of the tm's 33 sks TY (76%) led by 2nd Tm ACC DE Friday who has 8.5. LB Taylor leads VT in tkls and has tallied 15.5 tfl TY. The secondary comes in ranked #6 in our pass eff D all'g 199 ypg (51%) with a 15-22 ratio. CB Hosley has grabbed an NCAA leading 8 int TY. He needs one here to tie Ron Davidson's 1967 record of 9 in a ssn. Overall the D ranks #22. Once again VT relied on a Sr walk-on PK to handle the duties and he's responded by hitting 20 straight (only miss was first att of ssn vs Boise). The return teams have been spectacular as VT avg's 12.4 ypr on PR with 1 TD while the KR's avg 23.7 ypr with 2 TD's (by Wilson). The PR D all'd just 4.2 ypr but the KR D has all'd 24.5. VT (#20 ST ranking) has blocked a kick in 126 gms under Beamer.

With the departure of Heisman runner-up Gerhart, many thought the off could be down some but they answered critics early and avg'd 40 ppg. The group is led by AA QB Luck who some expect to be the #1 overall pick in the '11 draft. This will be his 1st bowl gm as he was unable to go in the Sun Bowl LY (inj). Luck took 98% of the tm's passes and was so durable that coaches flirted with using bkup Loukas at other positions during the spg. Loukas was used as a "Wildcat" option at times during the yr but is out here (inj). The tm used a RB-by-committee approach through the beginning of the ssn before settling on Taylor. True Fr Wilkerson and soph Gaffney were the only others to see 50+ att while Marecic remains one of the top FB's in the nation. SU had 2 All-Conf WR's heading into '10 in Ryan Whalen and Owusu but due to early inj's (8 gms lost comb), the 2 comb for 799 yds less than Ryan Whalen and Owusu but due to early inj's (8 gms lost comb), the 2 comb for 799 yds less than in '09. Baldwin (4 rec in '09) stepped up to lead the group in rec, yds and TD's while Luck also used a solid trio of TE's in Reuland, Fleener and Ertz. The OL avg 6'5" 301 (3 Sr) paving the way for 5.0 ypc while all'g the nation's 2nd best mark of just 5 sks (1.4%, started all 60 gms). Overall the SU off finished with our #4 ranking. The SU def finished with our #25 ranking all'g just 18 ppg on the ssn (7 opp under 300 yds). The DL avg 6'3" 290 (2 Sr) and collected 10.5 (38%) of the tm's 28 sks. The LB's were the most stable part of the D led by Skov and Thomas who finished #1 and #2 in tkls. The secondary all'd 200 ypg (58%) with a 15-17 ratio ranking #19 in our pass def. ST's were led by the steady kicking of Whitaker who delivered the GW FG vs USC. The return units are avg 21.7 KR and 10.2 PR while surrendering 22.4 KR and 13.0 PR. SU has our #42 ST ranking.

While both offenses rank in our Top 20, both defenses rank in our top 25. VT will try to run the clock with their diversified rush offense and prior to the ACC Championship, the D had all'd 21 pts or under 7 straight games. SU's D gets overlooked but has 3 shutouts this year and finished the season all'g 8.8 ppg the L/5.

This is the 1st ever meeting between the schools and the Sugar Bowl got their wish to host 2 high profile BCS programs. Ark is making its 1st trip to a BCS Bowl but HC Petrino took his L'ville tm to the Orange Bowl in 06 where they defeated WF, 24-13. Overall, Petrino is 3-2 SU but 1-4 ATS in bowls and LY led Ark (-7') to a 20-17 OT win over EC in the Liberty Bowl. OSU is making a national record 9th BCS appearance (5-3 SU/ATS) and 6th consec. The Bucks are 5-4 SU/6-3 ATS in bowls under Tressel but will be reminded often by the media of their 0-9 SU/ATS record vs SEC tms in the postssn. OSU is 1-3 SU/0-4 ATS in New Orléans with their last trip here being the National Champ loss to LSU in '07 (38-24, +4). This is Ark's 38th bowl and 6th trip to the Sugar Bowl with their last appearance on Jan 1 1980, a 24-9 loss to AL. Ark fans sold out their allotment the day after the bowl was announced and they should have a slight crowd edge in SEC country. Ark was 4-1 ATS on the road TY and 3-1 ATS as a dog with 2 outright upsets. OSU went 1-2-1 ATS on the road TY with their lone SU loss coming at Wisky. UA went 6-2 SU/7-1 ATS vs bowl opp while OSU went 6-1 SU/4-2-1 ATS but the Bucks haven't beaten a currently ranked squad (Ark 4 W's). Ark has just 7 Sr st'rs while OSU has 11.

Everyone knew Ark had a great offense (#5) led by future NFL QB Mallett and a strong receiving Everyone knew Ark had a great offense (#5) led by future NFL QB Mallett and a strong receiving corps, but this yr the surprises were a greatly improved run gm led by 1st Tm SEC RB Davis and an improved D. Mallett led the SEC in pass ypg (#5 NCAA) for the 2nd str yr and was #3 in the NCAA in pass eff. Mallett transferred from Mich and actually faced the Bucks in '07 coming off the bench for an inj'd Henne in a 14-3 loss (1-3 for 8 yds) with current OSU LG Boren blk'g in front of him. Davis finished #3 in the SEC in rush ypg (99) despite not taking over the starting job until the L/5 (178 ypg L/6). One disappointing occurrence was losing top WR Childs to inj after 8 gms and another str Joe Adams was also banged up and only started 3. Mackey Award Winning TE DJ Williams led the tm in rec and led the SEC in rec by a TE. The OL avg 6'4" 315 with 3 Sr st'rs incl LT Love who will be 1 of the top OT's in next yr's NFL draft. The OL all'd 24 sks (5.7%) and paved the way for 151 rush ypg (4.6). The DL avg 6'4" 285 with 1 Sr st'r. Ark improved their sks to 37 (29 LY) which is #2 in the SEC. Ark's biggest def improvement was in pass D where they finished #23 in our rankings (#80 LY) allowing just 182 ypg (55%) with an 1111 ratio. UA's ST feature solid P Breeding and K Hocker plus excellent PR Adams. The only weakness is KR's with a low avg (19.6) and weak KR D (25.9). Ark finished the ssn on a 9-1 ATS run.

After LY's Rose Bowl MVP performance the expectations for QB Pryor's ssn were enormous and he was named the B10's Pressn OPY for the 2nd straight yr. While he greatly improved as a passer and provided OSU with its biggest play of the ssn - a 14 yd scramble on 4&10 at the 50 with 4:02 left on the gm winning TD drive vs Iowa - he wasn't on either of the cch's or media's All-Conf ballot. He is still the 1st QB in the ID drive vs lowa - he wasn't on either of the cch's or media's Ali-Cort ballot. He is still the 1st QB in the post WWII era to lead his tm to a B10 champ in his Fr, So and Jr ssns. "Boom" Herron took ahold of the TB job in conf play running for 109 ypg (5.8) with a TD in 11 straight gms. Gritty Sanzenbacher and sleek Posey make a formidable WR duo. C Brewster, LG Boren and LT Adams were all named all conf as the front (6'5" 305) all'd 22 sks (6.8%). OSU's D continued its strong run as they finished #1 in our rankings. OSU's DL is led by DE Heyward whose numbers dipped from '09 as he had a less exp'd line around him as the Bucks allowed Wisky's Clay (104) to become the 1st RB to have 100 yd in 29 gms. LB's Rolle and Homan earned All-Conf honors. OSU finished #9 in our pass eff D (156, 54%, 7-18) with FS Hines being 1 of the league's hardest hitters. UW KR Gilreath ret'd the opening KO 97 yd for a TD and OSU also all'd a PR and KB TD in the same gm ys Miami (F1) for the 1st time in school history. After a round start OSU PR and KRTD in the same gm vs Miami (FL) for the 1st time in school history. After a rough start OSU cleaned up its act down the stretch to finish #56 in our ST rankings. The standouts were a KR unit that finished #3 NCAA led by Hall's 85 yd KR TD vs Mich and K Barclay was consistent.

This is the 8th BCS Bowl for the Buckeyes in 9 years and HC Tressel is 6-3 ATS with 2 losses in National Championship games. The Razorbacks come in as one of the hottest teams with 6 straight wins and covers but as we told you in the Cotton Bowl, that is actually a negative. The Buckeyes have a great set of CB's and this will allow them to confuse Mallett with blitzes. When the Buckeyes lave the ball, while you don't perceive them as explosive they have scored 473 pts TY (2 off school ecord) and Terrelle Pryor continues to make this offense one of the country's best.

First meeting. Middle Tennessee is 10-9 SU and 1-3 ATS vs current MAC tms incl losing to C Mich 31-14 (+8) in the '06 Motor City Bowl. Miami is 2-0 SU and 1-1 ATS vs current SBC tms (both vs ULL but last meeting in '93). MT is 1-1 SU/ATS in bowl gms, both under HC Stockstill. Last year they knocked off Southern Miss 42-32 (+3) to finish 10-3 which led to them being the overwhelmthey knocked off Southern Miss 42-32 (+3) to finish 10-3 which led to them being the overwhelming pick to win the SBC TY. The Raiders had a disappointing season and needed to win their final 3 gms just to be bowl eligible (2 of those wins were by 1 pt). Miami is 6-2 SU and 1-1 ATS in bowl gms but this is their first since losing 17-13 (-1) to lowa St in the '04 Independence Bowl and this is Haywood's 1st as a HC. Miami made the biggest turnaround in the FBS this year going from 1-11 to 9-4 and the RedHawks are flying high after winning the MAC Championship. MT only faced 3 bowl teams (1 BCS) going 1-2 SU/ATS being outscored 37-18 and outgained 449-297. Miami faced 5 bowl squads (2 BCS) going 2-3 SU (3-2 ATS) being outscored 29-17 but outgaining them 342-328. MT went 3-3 SU (2-4 ATS) on the road while Miami was 5-3 SU/ATS. MT went 3-3 SU (2-4 ATS) on the road while Miami was 5-3 SU/ATS. MT does have the advantage of 12 Sr starters among 20 upperclassmen while Miami has just 5 among 10.

MT QB Dasher was voted the Sun Belt preseason OPY, but was then suspended by the NCAA for the first 4 games. In his first four games back he had 13 TO's. Backup QB's Kilgore and Murphy started the first four but each was injured (applied for MedRS) forcing a WR to serve as Dasher's backup. Dasher threw "just" 4 int in the final 4 games. In LY's bowl, Dasher rushed for 201 with 2 TD's while throwing for an additional 162 (2 TD) earning Bowl MVP. While Dasher and RB Kyles combined for more than 83% of MT's rush yds LY, TY MT has 4 players with 348+ rush yds. However, 3 receivers finished with 420+ yds LY but MT's top receiver this year had just 364. The OL has 4 upperclassmen starters (1 Sr) and avg 6'3" 292 but no OL started all 12. MT is avg 179 ypg rushing (4.3) while all'g 20 sks (5.6%). The offense has our #95 rating while the D with just 1 underclassman and 8 Sr starters sks (5.6%). The offense has our #95 rating while the D, with just 1 underclassman and 8 Sr starters, to comes in at #96. They are #2 in the Sun Belt in scoring and #4 in ttl def. The DL has 4 Sr starters but is all'g 194 rush ypg (4.2). The D did have 33 sks as DE Lattimore led the SBC with 11.5. MT has our #72 pass eff D as they are all'g 191 ypg (57%) with a 17-9 ratio. LY a big part of MT's success was the D having 33 takeaways as MT finished +12 TO's. TY the D has just 17 and MT is -16 TO's. MT has our

#31 spec tms unit as K Gendreau led the SBC in FG % (83%)

Miami lost starting QB Dysert (#3 in the MAC in passing ypg) to a lacerated spleen in the BG game (out 4-6 wks). He suffered the injury in the 2Q but played the rest of the game. With this late bowl game, he may have a shot at returning. However, bkup Boucher did lead Miami to 3 straight wins incl one over Temple to get to the MAC Championship. Boucher also threw for 333 vs NI. After Miami rushed for just 841 yds as a tm LY, RB Merriweather had 821 by himself TY. Beside WM, which led the MAC in passing, Miami is the only MAC tm to have 2 WR's in the top 10 in the MAC in both rec and rec yds. Miami's OL avg 6'5" 298 but is young with 3 starting underclassmen (three 13 gm starters). The RedHawks still avg just 97 ypg rushing (3.2) and the OL all'd 34 sks (7.3%) despite Dysert having 220 gross rush yds. MU finished with our #96 off. Miami's def (#62) improved as the ssn went on as they all'd 30 ppg in their first 8 gms and just 14 ppg in the L/3 incl holding, Temple to 3 and NI, the MAC's top scoring offense (came in avg 39 ppg) to just 21. Miami is all'g just 121 ypg rush and 3.8 ypc thanks in part to their 32 sks. They have our #43 pass eff D all'g 214 ypg passing (57%) with a very good 14-17 ratio. They have just our #104 spec tms. They are a true Turnovers=Turnaround tm as LY they were -24 TO's and TY are +7.

Prior to the year, MT would've been a DD fav and now after a great RedHawk turnaround and a disappointing Raiders season, they're actually a dog. Middle Tennessee has many players that could play for BCS teams and has more talent than Miami on both sides of the ball. The only 3 games Miami covered as a fav TY were vs 3-9 Colo St, 2-10 Buffalo and 2-10 BG. On the flip side MT has been a dog just once against a non-BCS team and in that role they upset TY's SBC Champ on the road.

After a 3-3 start which saw ?'s about HC Sherman's future the Aggies rallied for 6 str wins to secure their 1st Cotton Bowl invite S/'04. It is the Aggies 12th Cotton Bowl overall where they're 4-7 SU (4-4 ATS) and Sherman's 2nd bowl (0-1 SU/ATS). These tms have a rich history with LSU having a 26-20-3 ATS) and Sherman's 2nd bowl (0-1 SU/ATS). These tms have a rich history with LSU having a 26-20-3 advantage with the last meeting in '95. The bowl is a 3 hr drive from College Station and A&M has played Ark in this stadium the L/2Y (0-2 SU/ATS) but B12 teams are 2-7 ATS in Cotton Bowls. Miles suffered his 1st bowl loss at LSU (4-1 SU/ATS) LY 19-17 to Penn St in a muddy Capital One Bowl. Overall Miles is 5-3 SU, 4-3-1 ATS in bowls as a HC. This is LSU's 1st trip to the Cotton Bowl S/'02 so there should be a strong following. LSU is 3-2 SU and 2-3 ATS on the road TY (incl neutral non-conf gm) while A&M is 3-2 SU/3-1-1 ATS. LSU (+3') lost to Ark TY 31-23 (outgained 464-294) while A&M (+5) lost 24-17 (outgained 442-324). Miles was 2-2 SU/ATS vs A&M as OSU's HC. LSU is 6-2 SU, 3-5 ATS vs bowl squads outscoring those tms by 24-21 but despite being outgained 332-325. A&M is 5-3 SU, 4-3-1 ATS vs bowl tms outscoring them 27-24 and outgaining them 423-383.

The B12's pressn OPY QB Johnson had shoulder surg which limited his offsen participation and seemed out of sync in Sept behind a rebuilt OL. He threw int on 4 consec poss vs FIU and the Ags were forced to rally from a 20-6 3O deficit. Sherman remained loval to his OB who threw for 409 vds and 5 TD forced to rally from a 20-6 3Q deficit. Sherman remained loyal to his QB who threw for 409 yds and 5 TD but also had 5 TO's in the loss to OSU incl the int which set the Cowboys up for the GW FG. After Johnson became A&M's all-time ydg leader vs KU he was benched for bkup WR Tannehill. Tannehill was efficient (235, 65%, 11-3) in the L/6 and his ability to get rid of the ball quickly helped the OL as he was sk'd just 10x in his 5 sts vs 25 in Johnson's 7. Michael and Gray shared TB carries until Michael was OFY vs TT. Gray took over running for 100+ in the L/6 becoming A&M's 1st 1,000 yd rusher S/'03. The WR's feature a solid size/speed combo of 6'4" Fuller and Swope. The OL (6'4" 300, 1 Sr) gelled down the stretch led by LSU transfer C Allen. A&M has our #19 off and #24 defense. New DC DeRuyter moved the Ags back to the 3-4 the same formation as the legendary Wrecking Crew. The LB unit (top 4 tkl'rs) was the B12's best led by Butkus Winner Miller. A&M finished #1 in the league in rush D thanks to their DL whose job is to clog rush lanes. The Ags are #11 pass eff D (241, 61%, 16-15). The ST's were a disappointment at #67 with the B12's worst net P (34.2). K Bullock hit 15-19 but was just 2-3 from 40+. KR Judie, who took over the job after Gray became the primary TB, was a star avg 31.4 with TD's in B2B gms.

LSU has had another strange ssn in which they started out 7-0 climbing to #6 in the AP poll before a loss to Aub. Miles was said to be on the hotseat early in the ssn especially after a near-loss to Tenn in which UT rec'd a fmbl'd snap with no time left, but LSU RB Ridley scored the GW TD on an untimed down after UT was called for 13 men on the field. The criticism waned after upsets of FL and AL, but losing the finale to Ark has restarted the fire-Les Miles talk again. Miles was forced to alternate QB's all yr as Jefferson is the better runner and Lee the better passer but Lee only had 6 att alternate QB's all yr as Jefferson is the better runner and Lee the better passer but Lee only had 6 att in the L/2 gms. Ridley was a nice surprise and the RB's stayed healthy TY (LY down to 4th str RB end of yr) and LSU avg'd 177 rush ypg (4.4) which is 54 ypg better than LY. Receivers Toliver, Shepard and Randle weren't used to their potential with LSU preferring to run the ball and win gms with their #8 D.The OL avg 6'5" 302 with only 1 Sr str and all'd 22 sks (7.8%). The DL avg 6"4" 271 with 2 Sr str's at DT including AA Nevis (#6 SEC tfl). LB Sheppard is #3 in the SEC in tkl per gm. LSU is #13 in our pass D rankings all'g 166 ypg (56%) with a 12-16 ratio led by Thorpe/Bednarik winner CB Patrick Peterson. Peterson also helped the ST earn their #4 ranking as a standout RS. LSU also has AA PK Jasper who also helps P Helton as the 2 comb for a 43.6 avg and 39.2 net.

A&M has had an impressive season and their win streak down the stretch has made this line much smaller than it should be. LSU has struggled offensively but their weapons are dynamic on offense and their top 10 D can match any that A&M has faced TY. The LSU CB's can play man-to-man and therefore A&M's OL will face more pressure than they have all year. Prior to last year's mud-fest, LSU had averaged 39 points per game in bowls under Miles.

3★ Dallas over ARIZONA - Christmas - This is a short road trip for the Cowboys who are 4-1 ATS vs the Cardinals since realignment. DAL is even statistically with the #5 and #32 units (+6 TO's) vs the Cardinals #27 and #12 units (+3 TO's) in the L4W prior to the DAL/PHI game 2 Wks ago. They are 4-1 ATS with Kitna at the helm prior to PHI and he's put together respectable numbers on the road arg 226 ypg (64%) with a 5-3 ratio. While DAL has been outgained by 100 ypg on the road since Romo was KO'd they are +7 TO's upsetting the Giants and the Colts. Its unknown who ARZ will field at QB here as Anderson will be released soon after the season ends and Whisenhunt may opt to keep Skelton (146 yds 41% 0-0 vs DEN) to gain valuable snaps. ARZ is 3-3 SU and 2-4 ATS at home TY being outgained by 95 ypg (+1 TO's) with a 25-21 avg score. They have been outgained by 109 ypg (+2 TO's) by NDIV foes TY with a 26-21 avg score (2-5 ATS). Despite their record the Cowboys are a playoff talent team that is playing hard for a potential new coach while ARZ is simply playing out the string while hoping for a better QB will be under the tree for 2011.

FÓREĆAŠT: Dallas 31 ĂRIZONA 14

3★ CHICAGO over NY Jets - This is a matchup of 2 good playoff teams that are strikingly similar to each other. Both teams rely on strong defenses to hold up under inconsistent offensive efforts. The Jets have a slight stat edge over the L4W with the #19 and #3 units (-1 TO's) vs the Bears #29 and #18 units (-4 TO's). While both teams have had fairly soft sked the Jets are 2-4 SU and ATS vs a foe with a winning record TY. The Bears are 3-2 SU and ATS vs foes with a winning record TY upsetting GB and PHI (getting MIA at the right time). The Jets have logged a 371-293 yd edge (-2 TO's) with a 2-1 SU and 1-2 ATS record (17-16 avg score) vs the NFC North TY. CHI has a 2-1 SU and 1-1 ATS record vs AFC East teams TY being outgained 334-245 (-2 TO's) with a 18-15 avg score. With GB's loss to DET and the uncertain status of Rodgers vs NE the Bears have a good chance to lock down the NFC North soon. We'll lean with the Bears with their fast and aggressive defense vs Sanchez who has since the bye avg 250 ypg (52%) with a 7-10 ratio leading the Jets to a 2-5 ATS mark prior to PIT.

FORECAST: CHICAGO 21 NY Jets 14
2★ New England over BUFFALO - NE has won 14 straight in the series but slipped to 9-4-1 ATS after a 38-30 win as a 14.5 pt HF in the 1st meeting TY. The game wasn't as close as the final score indicated though as the Patriots had a 38-23 lead halfway thru the 4Q before they switched to a prevent defense giving up a 80/7pl drive to make it close. BUF switched to Fitzpatrick and he had some success with 247 yds (71%) with a 2-2 ratio and they also got a spark off a 95 yd KR by Spiller for a TD. Brady has torched the Bills with a 241 ypg avg (67%) with a 35-10 ratio in his career. NE has significant stat edges with the #3 and #16 units (+12 TO's) vs BUF's #15 and #17 units (+11 TO's) over the L4W prior to MIA.
They have been outgained by 81 ypg at home TY (+2 TO's) with a 21-16 avg score. In their L3 games they have avg'd 14 ppg while NE has avg'd 39 ppg even with the CHI Snow Bowl. Gailey deserves to be commended for getting the most out of his offense but look for Brady to take apart a Bills defense that has allowed a 7-3 TD/int ratio at home with their best game coming against Delhomme.

PLEASE NOTE: This Double Issue has 2 weeks of NFL write-ups with this being the second week. If a major injury or a drastic shift in the expected line occurs we reserve the right to differ from the Other Selections below. WE WILL NOT GO AGAINST A STAR RATED PLAY!

FORECAST: New England 31 BUFFALO 10

OTHER GAMES

Carolina at PITTSBURGH - Thurs - We won a 5★ NFL GOY on PIT in '02 as they were coming off a commandingly misleading game the previous week with a 30-14 win as an 8.5 pt HF. PIT may be locked into the #2 seed already if they beat the Jets LW and may not have much interest. If they do have playoff need then the line may be wildly inflated vs a CAR team trying to salvage some shred of dignity in a humiliating season. PIT is only 1-5 ATS as a DD Fav and we've seen them struggle in inclement weather vs poor teams before.

MIAMI by 3 over Detroit - This is the 2nd straight trip to Florida for DET who have a home game vs MIN on deck. There is an outside chance that they'll get Stafford (shoulder) back to get him some extra snaps before the season ends. MIA is 0-4 ATS in their final home game of the season and 0-5 ATS at home vs the NFC. MIA is 2-1 SU and ATS vs the NFC North TY despite being outgained by 66 ypg (+2 TO's) as the defense has logged a 1-5 ratio with a 15-12 avg deficit. DET is 0-3 SU but 1-1-1 ATS vs the AFC East only being outgained by 20 ypg (+0 TO's) losing by a 27-19 avg score. Their #14 pass defense has given up a 6-1 ratio vs the AFC East with a 12-5 ratio on the road prior to TB. MIA came into 2010 as a Wildcard prospect but the #21 run game (106 ypg 3.7) has been a major disappointment as Henne has had to force the ball to an avg at best receiver group with the addition of Marshall (hamstring) who missed 3 games. Both teams have stout defenses but MIA could have its hands full vs a Lions team that has firmly bought into Schwartz despite their talent issues.

PHILADELPHIA by 8 over Minnesota - The Vikings attitude towards this game will be a big question here. A veteran heavy team out of the playoffs off 3 Domed games with a return trip to DET on deck they now have to travel after hosting CHI on MNF and return to a cold weather site. MIN is only 1-9 SU and 2-7-1 ATS on the road (outscored 26-18) with their only win being vs an injury depleted Redskins team in Frazier's 1st role as HC. MIN has the #23 and #7 units (-2 TO's) not counting the relocated Giants game the L4W vs PHI's #1 and #19 units (+6 TO's) prior to DAL. PHI has outgained foes by 83 ypg (+7 TO's) at home TY (4-2 SU 3-3 ATS) with a 25-21 avg score. MIN will key in on containing Vick who has led PHI to a 4-1 SU (3-2 ATS) mark since the bye avg 288 ypg (65%) with a 9-2 ratio with 280 yds (5.8) added on the ground. Depending on LW's results the Eagles are either neck and neck with the Giants in the NFC East race or playing for potentially the #2 seed in the NFC. MIN may have packed it up here and we want to see if Favre can tough out the rest of the season.

JACKSONVILLE by 7 over Washington - This game could have lots or little in terms of playoff implications. JAX could be off losing their big game vs the Colts LW. If JAX beat the Colts LW then they will be playing hard to keep their lead in the AFC South with the Texans on deck. JAX (2-6 ATS in final HG) is only 3-7 ATS vs the NFC and have been outgained by 83 ypg (+1 TO's) with a 23-19 scoring deficit vs the rest of the NFC East TY. WAS is 1-1-1 ATS vs the AFC South TY being outgained by 49 ypg (+3 TO's) with a 24-23 score. Their only ATS win was vs TEN who were in disarray at QB and it was also their only/1st game where they won the yardage battle TY. WAS has only scored over 20 pts on the road once TY and that was vs DET in a losing effort. JAX also has the stat edge over the L4W with the #8 and #14 units (-4 TO's) vs the Redskins #11 and #21 units (-4 TO's) that could very well have shut down their 2 best pass defenders (CB Rogers SS Landry) by now. With both teams in between Div sandwiches this late in the year we'll side with the home team by a TD here.

ST LOUIS by 3 over San Francisco - This could be the 2nd HF role for STL since Wk13 '07. STL beat CAR in the 1st role TY 20-10 (2.5 pt HF) but only had a 246-201 yd edge (+4 TO's). SF dropped to 9-3 SU and ATS vs STL with a 23-20 win but failed to cover as a 5.5 pt HF in OT. SF had a bye to install Troy Smith at QB and while they had a 421-332 yd edge, the 49ers self-destructed with 14 pen's which cost them 2 4Q TD's. While SF has the edge of 3 extra days rest here they could very well be out of the playoff chase after facing SD last Thurs. Singletary was forced to go back to Alex Smith so they could use more of the playbook as he is better with the spread offense. If SF lost then there will be plenty of noise on how a team that was looked at favorably for the postseason is out of it while the Rams who had the #1 pick in the draft have managed to stay in it. SF has been outgained by 56 ypg (+2 TO's) with a 22-17 scoring deficit on the road TY (2-5 SU 3-4 STS) and face a Rams team that is 4-2 SU and ATS at home with a 20-16 avg score (+4 ypg +5 TO's). Both teams are close statistically (Rams #14 #22 vs 49ers #25 #9) with TO's (STL +2 SF +3) and consistent QB play separating them and we'll call for the home team by 3 as we want to see how the playoff scenario's turn out.

TAMPA BAY by 10 over Seattle - It would be misleading to say the Bucs pulled a major upset of SEA

(24-7) LY as a 6.5 pt AD. The injury depleted the Seahawks were simply playing out the string for Jim Mora while TB was playing to retain Morris. TB converted 5 TO's into 10 pts with 4 of SEA's TO's coming on their final 6 drives (380-339 yd edge). 3-0 SU and 1-1-1 ATS as a HF TY. The Bucs have seen injuries mount against them at an alarming rate the 3W prior to DET. Vs WAS they only had 1 OL in its original spot and DT McCoy was KO'd with a biceps injury. They have generor TY as they have pulled out wins via 4Q comebacks, special teams play and defensive

OVER/UNDERS

We are not forecasting the actual lines, just the Totals Plays that we like for Week 16:

3★ Texans/Broncos OVER

3★ Jets/Bears UNDER

efforts. This will be an interesting coaching challenge for Carroll with a SEA team that is 0-3 SU and ATS in its final road game of the year. While 2-5 SU and ATS on the road TY they have been outgained by 49 ypg (-10 TO's) with a 28-17 scoring deficit. While 3-5 SU and ATS vs NDIV foes they have outgained by 142 ypg (-7 TO's) with a 29-19 avg score prior to ATL. Despite their injuries we'll side with the Bucs at home for the 2nd straight week vs a SEA team coming cross country this late in the year by 10.

Baltimore by 13 over CLEVELAND - The Ravens moved to 5-0 SU and 4-1 ATS vs the Browns with a 24-17 win but failed to cover as an 11 pt HF in the 1st meeting in Wk 3. Hillis stunned the Ravens a breakout game rushing for 144 yds (6.5) but Boldin had a field day vs the CLE secondary with 8 rec (17.8) and 3 TD's. Flacco has avg'd 227 ypg (68%) with a 6-2 ratio with both int coming in his 1st game vs the Browns (Wk 3 2008). BAL has major stat edges with the #17 and #6 units (-2 TO's) vs the Browns #30 and #11 units (+4 TO's) the L4W at presstime. While BAL has enjoyed stability at QB the Browns have fielded all 3 QB's in 2010 and its unknown who will take the field here. With Delhomme defenses know they can play the receivers underneath the routes as he lacks arm strength, Wallace is mobile but has been a career backup due to consistency and while McCoy has exceeded expectations he may not get the nod to keep him from being injured. The Ravens secondary has been exploited TY but minus the BUF (going into bye with Bills coming off) and ATL (on a short week) games (7-2 ratio) they have given up just 181 ypg (56%) with a 7-9 ratio. Look for BAL to dominate here as they flex playoff need muscle especially if they lost badly to NO LW.

KANSAS CITY by 14 over Tennessee - Every year in the NFL there are surprise teams that come out of nowhere and exceed expectations. On the flip side there are talent laden teams that get preseason booking for the playoffs only to crumble and this game features both sides of the coin. The Titans have little to play for here other than pride on the road for the 1st time in a month after 4 straight Div games with a rematch vs IND on deck. TEN is 6-10 ATS on the road where they have been outgained by 122 ypg with a 23-20 avg score thanks to +6 TO's. KC is likely still in the playoff hunt especially if Cassel returned vs STL. They are 6-0 SU and 4-2 ATS at home TY where they have outgained foes by 51 ypg (+5 TO's) with a 25-12 avg score. Even with their lopsided loss to SD without Cassel, the Chiefs have the #21 and #5 units (+4 TO's) vs the Titans #28 and #30 units (-8 TO's) in the L4W at presstime. Tossing out the 2nd SD game where they were out of their gameplan and outmatched the Chiefs had outrushed foes by an NFL best 73 ypg while TEN who had the #1 rush attack in 2009 have been outrushed by 7 ypg which is in the bottom 3rd of the league. We'll call KC to win by 2 TD's for now as we wait and see if playoff need inflates the line vs a Titans team playing out the string.

Indianapolis by 10 over OAKLAND - Win or lose vs the Jags LW this game will still have meaning for the Colts as they will at least be trying to avoid their 1st non-winning season with Manning at the helm since they went 6-10 in 2001. If OAK beat DEN LW they are playing for their 1st non-losing season since going 11-5 in 2002. This game also features a clash of offensive ideology with the Raiders control the clock and wear down defenses strategy with the run vs the Colts pass 1st to eliminate the run and force teams to pass from behind. OAK deserves to be commended TY but the fact is that they are 2-7 SU and ATS vs a NDIV foe TY being outscored 26-19 thanks to -9 TO's (only +5 yds). Injuries have kept IND from dominating NDIV play but they are a respectable 5-4 SU and 5-3-1 ATS vs a NDIV foe outgaining foes by 25 ypg but are -6 TO's leaving them with a 26-23 scoring edge. IND does have OL issues TY forcing Manning to release the ball before he's ready and locking onto Wayne. With Collie slated to return vs JAX along with the defense finally getting both LB's Sessions and Brackett on the field as well we'll call for the Colts by 10 as they are used to being in playoff mode albeit not this early for the Colts by 10 as they are used to being in playoff mode albeit not this early. Houston by 10 over DENVER - If the Texans lost badly to the Ravens and Titans the L2W the buzz around this game will be if former QB and OC Kubiak will head over to the Broncos sidelines in 2011 with Elway assuming a front office role. This will be interim HC Studesville's 1st home game and with the Broncos having struggled so badly TY they may not have much of a home crowd for this game. DEN is on a 3-8 SU and ATS run and even though they've been outgained by 12 ypg (-1 TO's) with a 32-27 avg score. With the season out of reach there is a chance for the Broncos to start Tebow to get him some snaps vs a pass defense that has given up 287 ypg (67%) with a 27-10 ratio TY. HOU is only 3-5 SU and 2-5-1 ATS vs a NDIV foe TY being outgained by 12 ypg (+0 TO's) with a defense that has given up 400 ypg 7 times TY (3-3-1 ATS). While only 2-4 SU and 3-3 ATS on the road TY the matchup is very favorable for Schaub on the road where he's avg'd 299 ypg (63%) with an 11-3 ratio vs a beat up and depleted Broncos team that has allowed a 24-6 ratio on the year.

NY Giants by 3 over GREEN BAY - Depending on recent results this is could be a battle for one of the final Wild Card spots. Despite both teams having fielded quality teams this is only the 4th meeting since realignment including playoffs with the road team bing 3-0 SU and ATS. The Packers loss to the Lions was devastating as it cost them a key Div win and it's unknown if Rodgers was available for the Patriots. GB is 5-1 SU and 4-2 ATS at home TY outgaining foes by 49 ypg with an impressive +7 TO's helping them avg 32-17 score. The Packers are 2-1 SU and ATS vs the NFC East TY with an 81 ypg edge (+2 TO's) with a 28-14 edge. However GB did get the Eagles with Kolb making only his 3rd career start, were sent to OT vs an underwhelming WAS team and beat up a reeling DAL team that just lost Romo. The Giants are 3-2 SU and ATS on the road not counting the relocated MIN game outgaining foes by 90 ypg and have a 29-23 scoring margin despite being -6 TO's. GB has struggled vs formidable defensive fronts TY (CHI, DET, MIA, ATL, DET) that can stump their feeble run game and allow the LB's to flow into coverage. The Giants won't be bothered by the cold weather and we'll call for them by a FG for now though we reserve the right to increase this margin later.

San Diego by 20 over CINCINNATI - With SD having been at home for 3 straight weeks and travelling to CIN images of the coldest NFL game ever played comes to mind. SD has been wildly inconsistent on the road TY as while they've outgained foes by an avg of 105 ypg, special teams and TO's (-4) have them 2-4 SU and ATS on the road with a 24-23 avg score. Provided they took care of business at home LW the Chargers will come into this game with extra rest to try and take the AFC West from KC. CIN once again crumbled under expectations after LW's surprise season and are 1-5 SU and 2-4 ATS at home prior to CLE. They have wilted vs NDIV foes TY going 1-8 SU and 3-6 ATS as despite being outgained by only 33 ypg they are -7 TO's being outscored 29-22. Despite his credentials, Palmer (21-18 TD/int ratio 6.4 ypa) is at his best with a run oriented offense (avg'd 119 ypg 4.2 in 2005, 129 ypg 4.1 LY). Injuries to the defense increased the pressure on the overvalued offense and simply the Bengals haven't produced. We'll take the Chargers by 20 and expect the NFL to flex this game as CIN's downward spiral continues.

New Orleans at ATLANTA - This has the potential to be the NFC South Championship game if the Falcons stumbled vs SEA and the Saints beat BAL LW. NO lost the 1st game 27-24 as a 3 pt HF. NO forced ATL to go 3 and out on the 1st OT drive then drove down to the ATL 11. The Saints missed a 29 yd FG and the Falcons went 12 plays/59 yds for game winning 46 yd FG. The Falcons ability to run the ball (202 yds 4.0 vs 43 yds 2.7) and force Brees into 2 Int were the keys to the game. At the least this game will have seeding implications with the Falcons trying to wrap up the #1 spot and the Saints trying to get the best Wildcard seeding.

First meeting. UK was hoping for a better (warmer) bowl trip but is making a 5th str bowl trip and is 3-SU, 2-2 ATS. Overall UK is 8-6 SU in bowls while Pitt is 11-15 and is making their 3rd str bowl trip (1-1 SU/ ATS) winning LY's Car Care over NC, 19-17. UK HC Phillips becomes UK's first HC to take his tm to a bowl in his 1st yr of coaching. Wannstedt was forced to step down at Pitt but said he would coach here (1-1 SU/ATS), so the emotional Panthers get a chance to send him out as a winner. UK is 1-4 SU/ATS on the road TY while Pitt is 3-3 SU/3-1-2 ATS. UK was 2-5 SU/3-4 ATS vs bowl tms being outscored 32-23 and outgained 403-388 while Pitt was 4-5 SU/4-3-2 ATS vs bowl tms but outscored those tms 23-21 and outgained them 336-321. Both tms defeated L'ville with UK having a 466-317 yd edge in a 23-16 win and Pitt having a 255-185 yd edge in a 20-3 win. UK fans travel well especially when the bowl is within driving distance (5.5 hrs) while Pitt fans are not known as good travellers, so this should be a predominantly blue crowd.

On the positive side, UK is making their 5th consec bowl trip, a school record. On the negative side, UK limps into the bowl 6-6 after losing their 26th in a row to Tenn (longest series losing streak in the NCAA) as Joker Phillips' 1st year as HC had ups and downs. One major up was the improvement of QB Hartline who finished #2 in the SEC in pass ypg which was a tremendous improvement over LY's inj riddled ssn in which he hit only 59% with a 6-7 ratio. Unfortunately, he will miss here after an off-field incident. A major down was a shoulder inj that kept top RB Locke out for 4 gms at midssn. UK does have one of the most exciting players in the nation in WR Cobb who is #2 in the NCAA in all-purp ypg. The OL was expected to be down after losing 4 starters from '09 but held up well only allowing 15 sks (3.6%) and the tm avg'd 163 ypg rush (4.7) despite Locke's inj. The OL starters avg 6'4" 304 with only 1 Sr st'r. Overall the #28 offense is more exciting and productive this year, but the #64 defense struggled. The DL suffered after '09's top sackman DE Evans (6 sk '09) struggled all yr with inj's and only started 6 gms. The DL avg 6'3" 276 with 2 Sr st'rs but all'd 170 rush ypg (4.5), 2nd to last in SEC. LB Trevathan is a one-man tackling machine finishing 1st in the SEC in tkl per gm. UK is #56 in our pass D rankings allowing 184 ypg (54%) with a 13-8 ratio vs a pretty soft slate of opposing QB's plus tms were able to run vs ŬK and were not forced to pass. UK ranks #88 in our ST rankings with solid P Tydlacka but need some work on returns as they all'd 24.1 and 2 TD on KR and 11.2 on PR.

It was a tough ssn for the Panthers as fans expected the BE Title and a BCS Bowl but the tm finished 7-5 with a share of the BE Title and a trip to Birmingham. Pitt started out 3-0 in the BE with a 2 gm lead over all of the others but was tripped up by Conn in a 30-28 loss (-2 TO) and then WV smashed them 35-10 to settle for a 3-way tie in the BE. QB Sunseri was decent in his 1st yr as a starter finishing #2 in the BE in pass eff, but had poor outings vs Miami (FL) and Conn which contributed to those losses. RB Lewis began the ssn as a pressn AA but had a disappointing yr and split carries with Graham early before coming on late in the yr and finishing with a career-high 261 yds in the finale vs Cincy. Top WR Baldwin is 6'5" 230 and UK's top CB is 6'0". Pitt's OL starters avg 6'4" 299 with 2 Sr's but had trouble creating room for the running gm TY (158 ypg, 4.5 vs 180, 4.9 LY) and allowed 8 more sks than LY (23, 6.7%). Overall Pitt is #43 on off and #25 on def. The DL starters avg 6'3" 270 with 1 Sr str and all'ed 121 rush ypg (3.5) with 30 sks overall by the D. Pitt lost AA DE Romeus after 1 gm but DE Sheard was named BE DPY and teamed with Romeus' replacement Lindsey for 19 sks. The LB unit lost MLB Mason after 3 gms and was forced to pull super SS DeCicco to play WLB at times. Pitt is #30 in our pass D rankings allowing 183 ypg (57%) with a 15-13 ratio and held the BE's top passing QB (Cincy's Collaros) to 109 yds and a 1-3 ratio in the finale. Pitt is #28 in our ST rankings with solid P/PK Hutchins who finished #6 in the NCAA in net (40.3).

The checklist has been made with QB Hartline not playing for Kentucky, Obviously, the offense will be affected without him. While many considered the Pittsburgh season a disappointment, HC Wannstedt has said throughout the season this is one of the youngest teams he's had. Down the stretch the Panthers won 6 of 8 games but with a disappointing loss at Connecticut their chance at a Big East Title was diminished. We feel the Pitt players will rally around a quality, hard working coach and if the running game is on par with the season finale, they'll be able to control the game.

UN #40 pass eff D, 253 ypg (57%), 15-10 ratio.

First meeting. These two are both on hot streaks as UN (6) and BC (5) are two of 13 tms in the nation riding win streaks of 5 or more gms. The Eagles are 13-8 SU (8-6 ATS) in bowl gms (1-1 SU/0-2 ATS under HC Spaziani) and are making their 12th consec appearance. BC is 12-4 SU S/85 in bowls including a mark of 8-2 SU (6-4 ATS) S/00 but has failed to cover the L/4. UN is thrilled with their season as they pulled the upset of Cal earlier TY (+2') then got the OT win which KO'd Boise from the BCS. BC is disappointed with this season as they struggled at the QB spot, were quickly eliminated from the ACC Atlantic race, and needed to win out to get to the postssn. They relied heavily on a D which was the NCAA's #1 vs the run and featured the ACC's best LB corps. UN fans can easily make this trek as San Fran is just over 200 miles away from Reno, while BC fans are notoriously bad travelers. UN is 3-7 SU and 1-5 ATS all-time (1-6 SU and 1-4 ATS under Ault) in bowls and is making its 6th consec appearance (lost the L/4, 1-3 ATS). BC is 1-0 SU/ATS vs the WAC in bowls, while UN is 0-2 SU/ 1-1 ATS vs the ACC in bowls.

BC had high expectations for its off TY, returning 2,000 yd passer Shinskie. The Eagles opened the yr with two expected wins but in gm 3 vs VT, TO's hit and BC lost 19-0 (1st shutout in 148 gms). BC went on to lose the next 4, but HC Spaziani rallied the troops and BC won out to land here. In gm 4, BC started true Fr Rettig but he was inj'd early and missed the NCSt gm. He returned vs FSU and started the L/7. The off relied heavily on RB Harris and he responded by becoming the ACC's OFF POY. He missed the finale (knee) but is expected to return here. The WR corps is led by a true Fr in Swigert. The OL avg 6'5" 302 and many noted that the opening day OL was bigger than the NE Patriots. The unit struggled though, opening holes for 133 ypg (3.6) and allowed 25 sks (7.9%). Overall, the off has our #91 rating. BC's def (#15) has been a constant in Spaz's tenure (DC '99-'08). The already stingy unit toughened up the L/5W of the ssn all'g just 3 off TD's. The DL recorded 15 of the tm's 19 sks and BC ranks #1 in the NCAA all'g 80 ypg rush. S/05, the D has all'd just eight 100 yd rushers incl 0 TY. The LB unit is one of the best in the country with AA Kuechly (#1 tkl'r NCAA), Piccolo winner Herzlich and true Fr Pierre-Louis. The secondary ranks #27 in our pass eff D all'g 230 pass ypg (64%) with a 13-19 ratio. The ST's come in at #99. RFr Freese became the only BC K to hit 4 FG's in a gm twice in the same ssn. The PR D all's 3.8 ypr but has given up 1 TD while the KR unit all's 19.9. In the L/3Y, UN has avg over 500 ttl ypg (536 ypg TY). What's made Ault's Pistol off so potent and effective is the type of QB and OL he's had to run it. Kaepernick became the 1st QB in college FB hist to throw for 2,000 and rush for 1,000 in a ssn in 3 consec yrs. What's more, he's tied for the most rushing TD's by a QB ever (59) and teamed with RB Taua to become the most prolific rushing duo ever in NCAA history (broke SMU's mark of 8193 yds from '79-'82). UN's OL "The Union" is just as vital as the unit avg 6'6" 302 (2 Sr) and excels in both run-blocking (6.3) and pass-protection (11 sk). The Pack recorded over 400 ypg in all but one gm TY (at UH) and in fact, posted over 500 yds in 8 gms incl 884 yds (UN record) vs ID. UN finished as our #7 off and #64 D. The DL avg 6'2" 266 (2 Sr) and is anchored by Moch, a dynamic DE who is the NCAA's active leader in tfl (#6 all-time) with 63. UN brought in DC Buh to shore up the tm's Achilles' heel and the D responded. UN not only dropped its pts all'd by nearly a TD, but after all'g 298 ypg pass with a 33-8 LY, the Pack's #40 pass D all'd 253 ypg (57%) with only a 15-10 ratio TY! UN went thru a mid-ssn slump going 5 gms without a made FG but when unheralded walk-on K Martinez split the uprights with the GW FG vs Boise, he became "Big Man on Campus" in one swift kick. The ST rank #107 as UN att'd just one FG over 40 and the KR def is all'g 26.1 ypr.

Kudos to Nevada for their impressive win vs Boise which cost the WAC about $13 mil. We will side with a well coached team that has a solid rush attack and most probably the best set of LB's in the country. Nevada was held 189 yds under their avg at Hawaii and 120 yds under their avg at Fresno and this is the 1st D they've faced that's in the Top 45 away from home. Kaepernick is used to breaking to the outside but will find that task much more difficult vs this QUALITY front 7

This is the first meeting between Oregon and Auburn and takes place on the NCAA's biggest stage. This is Oreg's 6th consec bowl appearance and the 2nd str under AP COY Kelly who dropped his 1st postssn gm LY in the Rose Bowl. UO is playing for their 1st Nat'l Title and nearly missed out on playing for the Title in '01 when an 11-1 squad was relegated to the Fiesta Bowl and smashed Colo 38-16. AU is playing for their 3rd Nat'l Title (last 1957) and will try to keep alive the streak of 4 str BCS Titles for the SEC. A 13-0 Aub squad was passed over in '04 as undefeated USC and Okla ply'd for the Title. This is Chizik's 2nd bowl gm as a HC and LY he led the Tigers to a 38-35 OT win over N'western in the Outback Bowl. The Ducks have 11 Sr st'rs among 16 upperclassmen while Aub has 12 Sr strs and 18 upperclassmen. Oreg has ply'd 6 bowl elig tms going 6-0 SU and 4-1-1 ATS. One thing to point out however is that in those 6 contests, UO gave up 25 ppg (7 pts over ssn avg) and 432 ypg (100 yds over ssn avg). Aub is 5-0 SU/4-1 ATS on the road TY (3-1 as AF) while Oreg is 3-2 ATS on the road TY and this is their 1st time getting pts. Aub is 9-0 SU/7-2 ATS vs bowl tms outscoring those opps by 38-26 (462-370 yd advantage).

The Ducks off (#2, 49 ppg, 538 ypg) became the talk of the college football with their fast-paced, no-huddle schemes that saw them deliver 25 TD drives TY in less than 1:00. Soph QB Thomas won the starting job late in fall camp and has had a banner yr. Something to keep an eye on however is the bkup QB situation as Costa, who was competing for the job in the summer was inj'd a month ago and will miss here leaving no depth. Despite Thomas' splendid 1st ssn as a st'r, some of his accolades may have to take a backseat to Heisman finalist RB James who finished as the nation's #1 rusher despite not playing in the opener. Barner started for James in gm 1 and posted 225 ttl yds with 5 TD's. Barner was inj'd midssn on a KR and missed a few gms before returning to form over the L/3 wks of the reg ssn. Maehl led UO in rec but UO could be w/o (#4) Tuinei after he inj'd his shldr in wk 10 (CS). The OL avg 6'5" 296 (3 Sr) and paved the way for 304 rush ypg (6.1) while all'g a miniscule 7 sks (2.0%). The UO def (#14, 18 ppg, 332 ypg) dominated the 2H of gms TY all'g just 77 pts incl an unfathomable 24 pts in the 4Q. The DL (64" 259), led by Sr's DE Rowe and DT Bair all'd 118 rush ypg (3.3) while the unit as a whole comb for 20.5 of the tm's 31 sks (66%). The LB unit is led by 1st Tm P10 Matthews while soph CB Harris came alive in the 2H of the ssn to help lead a UO secondary that all'd 214 ypg (54%) with a 13-20 ratio (#5 pass D ranking). Harris was also the stalwart on the ST's with an NCAA best 4 PR TD's guiding the unit to our #3 ranking.

Auburn's ssn has been riddled by controversy surrounding Heisman winning QB Newton. Newton was able to stay focused and play through the troubles seemingly without missing a step and the Tigers rode their playmaker into the BCS Title gm. Newton was a perfect fit for OC Malzahn's spread off and leads the NCAA in pass eff and is #15 in rush ypg (#1 SEC). True frosh Dyer emerged as the top RB starting the _/4 gms. WR Adams is a big play threat but his numbers were a little down from LY due to the improved 1/4 gms. WH Addms is a big play threat but his hulmbers were a little down from LY due to the improved unning gm. The Tigers have a large, veteran OL that avg 6'5" 304 with 4 Sr starters (1 Jr), Aub leads the EC in rush ypg at 287 (71 ypg more than #2 Miss St) and scoring off (43 ppg). The OL is led by AA LT iemba and has all'd 21 sks (8%). Their #33 defense isn't unbeatable allowing 25 ppg but is solid in rush D illowing just 112 ypg (3.5). The DL avg 6'4" 277 with 2 Sr st'rs. DT Fairley won the Lombardi Awd and led re SEC in sks (10.5) and tfl (21) despite double and triple tms. Fairley was criticized in the GA gm for late its and dirty play, but reviews led to no ejection or susp and he is certainly a force to be reckoned with. The LB corps is led by #1 tkl" Bynes and '09's #2 tkl" Stevens (#4 tkl" TY, susp 2) who are both Sr's. The ggest weakness is on pass D (#81) as they allow 251 ypg (63%) with a 23-10 ratio but luckily they face a ucks tm that prefers to run the ball. The Tigers are #29 in our ST rankings but struggle in punting 37.5 avg 14.7 net) and on PR's (6.2 tm avg). K Byrum is reliable on FG's but only has 1 att from 50+ (missed)

While doing the checklist it was surprising that these two teams came out right at the Vegas line. few weeks ago, Oregon would've been a FG+ favorite but now that the season is over, it has been versed. Obviously the best player on the field is Cam Newton but this Oregon defense is fast and nysical. It's a great matchup as these two teams are worthy of playing for the Title and with this being ritten about a month in advance, we'll pass on a selection and wait until the game draws near of turnovers that team is + or -. OFF YPP is offensive yds per point. This shows the avg amount of yds a team travelled per point scored. The lower the number the more efficient the off. DEF YPP is defensive yds per point. The higher the number here, the better the def is at making their opponents work at scoring points. The remaining columns show the team's rank in that category. Next to the passing ratings there may be a ★ or an X. On the offensive side a ★ means they are completing over 59% of their passes while the X shows that their QB's are completing less than 53%. Defensively, the opposite holds true as the ★ has that team's def holding its opp under 53% completions and the X shows that they allow over 59% completions.

PRO ANGLES There are 3 main methods of handicapping, Fundamental, Situation & Technical. Fundamental handicapping, or the analysis of personnel matchups & power ratings, is our main method of handicapping. This accounts for roughly 50% of how we view a game. Situational handicapping (analysis of letdown, look ahead, systems) takes up approximately 25% of our handicapping. Technical handicapping (analysis of angles) takes up the rest. You should never base your final selection on 1 factor. To be a complete handicapper you must look at all 3 methods. For more complete analysis you should read Ten Keys To A Winning Season. Each week in Power Sweep we provide the angle section to add to your handicapping arsenal. Many times we will agree with the angle plays. Sometimes the Fundamental & Situational aspects of a game will outweigh the angles & we have the other side written up in Power Sweep. We want to make it clear that the side we write up in Power Sweep is the side we are on. We are NOT Technical handicappers, but we do use them in our handicapping analysis. Each week in Power Sweep we provide pro angles for the current week's games. For the angle plays the number in the () indicates how many angles apply to that team. The higher the number the stronger the angle play.

Overrated Yardage

Play on a non-New Year's Day team that avg 146 yards less than their opp in total ypg difference (offense - defense).

Reasoning: Many times schools that run up yds do so vs weaker foes, which feeds the public perception of a high power offense. The line gets over adjusted and they are then exposed in a bowl.

12-2 86% ATS Since 1996
