Thank you for purchasing our 2013 Double Bowl issue.

Please remember that this issue was mailed out December 16, 2013 and while many things can and will change we don't adjust our ratings. If your interested in our Late Phones (released day of the games with) there are specials on page 8.

Who played the toughest schedule?

Once the schedule are finalized in spring we like knowing "how tough" our favorite teams schedule is. With our extensive research on each team most fans and media outlets use the records of their opponents previous years to rank them.

	California's 2013
	schedules. In the first column, you will see that Akron was ranked with the 6th
	toughest schedule
	as their opponents won 62.6% of their 2012 games. Cal,
	meanwhile, had a similar schedule
1	and was ranked #8.
ł	In the 2nd column,
	by looking at their 2013 records, Cal
	only played a slightly tougher schedule (60.7, 56.7). But,
	when you play out
	the season, you realize that Cal played a much tougher schedule
	and by basing it on our Northcoast numbers, you will see that Cal finished #1 while Akron was #87

To the left you will see Akron and

These Power Play Forecasts are the most unique in the country because they are based on Northcoast Sports' Private Power Ratings. Our ratings are unlike any computer rating, as we take into account all of the following: Strength of Opponents Individual Units (Rushing Offense and Defense, Passing Offense, & Defense, Scoring Offense and Defense, Garbage Yards, Weather, Injuries, Home Field Edge, and Successful Unbalanced Attacks). Here is how each is reflected:

Strength of Opponent: Our ratings do not just take the opposing team's overall power rating into account. For example, last year, Florida Atlantic's defense vs the rush was rated at 119. They faced Alabama and allowed "just" 256 yds rushing and dropped 5 spots in the national overall defensive ratings. However, Power Plays took into account the potent Crimson Tide run attack and had forecasted the Owls yielding 289 yds. Due to the fact they did better than the forecast, Power Plays raised their rating to 112 even though they slipped in the national (straight yardage) rankings. Another example last season was Wisconsin vs UTEP. Wisconsin held UTEP to just 77 yards rushing and stayed the same in the overall defense in the national statistics. However, our ratings had them rated at 15 and moved them down, as they should have yielded just 50 yards to a weak UTEP rush attack. Next time an announcer on TV tells you that a certain team is #3 in the country vs the run you better check Northcoast Sports' Power Ratings and see how good a rush defense they really have! The top twenty ratings in Power Ratings for each offensive and defensive category will be listed in each week's issue of Power Plays.

Garbage yards: These are yards that a team gains or allows in the final minutes of a game when it has been decided. For example, Team A is ahead 63-0 and allows 93 yards passing for a TD vs its fourth string defense. These yards are counted into national ratings, but not in Northcoast Sports' Power Ratings!

Weather: If a game is played in miserable weather conditions and is low scoring, the straight statistics credit the defense with outstanding performances. Our Power Ratings reflect the conditions and do not give excess credit to the defenses.

Injuries: When Missouri played Vanderbilt last year, Tigers QB James Franklin was injured early in the game. His backup, who had seen very little action (rFr), was not prepared and hit on 30%, 9-30 passes. The offensive coordinator simplified the offense. In the national statistics Vanderbilt's overall defense MOVED UP 8 NOTCHES. In Northcoast's PR they went from #11 dropping out of the Top 15, as the poor performance WAS NOT reflective of an outstanding performance by the D.

Home Field Edges: The weekly projection of yards and points is weighted with the home field factored in.

Successful Unbalanced Attacks: Last season, Tulsa was held to 155 yards passing vs Houston. This dropped Tulsa in the national passing offense ratings & RAISED the Cougars in the pass defense ratings. In our ratings the two units remained rated around the same. Why? Tulsa rushed for 350 yards & DID NOT HAVE TO RELY ON THE PASS & when they did they hit 18 of 32. While Houston's pass defense looked good in the national ratings, only Northcoast Sports' Power Ratings reflected the TRUTH!

There you have it. More than just numbers, THESE RATINGS REFLECT the true strength of each unit and allow them to have the most accurate forecast of yards gained and points allowed in the country! No other rating system takes into account all the previous factors. Next time you hear that a team is rated third in the country in pass defense, just remember, yards are not everything and Northcoast Sports' Power Plays will show you how strong the team really is

The Power Ratings listed below are not based on the Power Plays, they are based on last year's final computer power rating numbers with the pluses and minuses from the off season changes factored in. They are then adjusted during the course of the season based on the final score of the games that are played on a weekly basis. The Power Ratings listed below can be used for you as a base power ratings to forecast up coming lines and strength of opponents, etc. Once again, they are not based on Power Plays and they differ from what we have shown in recent years, which has been our actual computer Power Ratings. These are Northcoast Sports Plus or Minus Power Ratings.

Second year Cougar HC Leach has his squad in a bowl for the 1st time s/'03 while the Rams are back in the postseason for the first time since 2008. Power Plays calls for WSU to take home just a 1 pt victory but we disagree and feel the Cougs will cover in this one.

FSU was thinking BCS before their bubble burst in the regular ssn finale vs SJSt. The Trojans may argue that they have the hotter hand coming in with wins in 5 of their L/6 after a troubling start to the yr. Power Plays calls for the Bulldogs to have the ydg edge and for them to cover the td spread.

UB is making just its 2nd bowl appearance all-time and PP loves them in this matchup as despite a yd disadvantage, they're proj'd to take home an 11 pt win. We disagree as the Aztecs have experience playing on the blue turf and boast 1 of the more underrated cch's in all of the FBS in Long.

While PP forecasts Tulane to deliver an 11 pt win, that MOV could be even greater if Louisiana is forced to go without starting QB Broadway in this one (CS). Splendid defense and a great kicking game give the Green Wave a solid advantage in this one in their home stadium.

The Bobcats earned a bowl bid despite 3 embarrassing losses over the final month of the ssn while the Pirates have a chance to deliver their 2nd DD win ssn in school history. PP calls for ECU to dominate here with a 22 pt win and a 519-309 yd advantage in this high scoring affair.

The Beavers come in w/5 str losses but remain a passing juggernaut with 381 yds proj'd here. This isn't your normal dominant Boise squad who saw its streak of 7 DD-win seasons end. PP calls for a draw but we'll side with an OSU squad that has their full allotment of coaches in this one.

While PP gives the Falcons substantial edges in both yardage and points, it doesn't take into account that BG will be missing its HC as well as a handful of assistants. We'll make this a No Play as Pitt has the talent to compete and played a much tougher sked throughout the yr.

A win in the MAC championship would have likely put the Huskies in their 2nd consec BCS game. Utah St, on the other hand, is happy to be here as they handled the adversity of losing their star QB Keeton earlier in the year. They will look to take advantage of NIU's state of mind (bubble burst) and PP calls for them to pull the outright upset.

Marshall improved from 5 to 9 wins TY and come in as the fav. While PP does have them as the proj'd winner, the forecast is near the line while the yds favor the Terps who are playing close to home. Marshall has also proven to be vulnerable at times this ssn especially on the road (1-5 ATS).

SYRACUSE	189	144	13	+2	-	#38
MINNESOTA	188	149	22	+3	VVVV	#50

PP does have Minnesota coming away with a 9 pt win covering the 4.5 pt early line, however, it also calls for them to only have a 337-333 yd edge. The better play is the total as PP calls for this to go UNDER by DD's. Minny gms have averaged a total of just 42 ppg the L/6 while Cuse games have averaged a total of just 41 ppg the L/7 making this a Best Bet selection.

BYU	246	161	23	+2	✓	#43

Both teams come in at 8-4 and while both played 8 bowl tms, UW's sked was superior. They also were more impressive statistically as they were +16 ppg and +132 ypg on the year while BYU was +10 ppg and +112 ypg. Power Plays takes this into consideration and calls for the Huskies to easily cover the early 3 pt line while also having a 468-407 yard edge

Big drop for the Irish who were on their way to the BCS Title game a ssn ago. Favorable matchup for them in this one, however, against a struggling Rutgers squad who snuck into this. While ND is clearly the stronger squad as evidenced by PP's forecast calling for them to win by 3 td's while having a 479-321 yd edge, a 2-td plus early line is a little steep for us to make it a bigger play.

This is one of the more intriguing early bowl matchups as Louisville was thinking BCS or bust this year while the Hurricanes are happy to be in a bowl after serving a 2-yr probation. While PP calls for the Cardinals to have a 485-380 yard edge, the point forecast is near the early line and we think the Hurricanes will be fired up in their home state playing in the underdog role.

These tms are nearly identical in our offensive and defensive rankings while playing similar sked's TY. PP takes that into consideration and calls for the pts to be even while the Wildcats have a very slight 346-331 yd edge. It's amazing that HOF cch Snyder has struggled so much in bowls (4-10 ATS) and we'll be more than happy to back the Wolverines getting more than a FG.

Both teams come into the bowl at 8-4 and while PP forecasts the Midshipmen to come away with a 7 point win, it only calls for them to have a 447-435 yard edge. With the forecast near the line, we'll look towards the total and find some value in the OVER as Middle Tenn is averaging 43 ppg in their 5-gm win streak while Navy's option offense usually hits its stride late in the ssn.

While the option is a tough offense to prep for during the ssn with no rest, it's a diff story with over a month to scheme against. In their L/3 bowls GT has been held to 142 yds under their ssn avg, and Ole Miss has a smaller and speedy D-line (280 lbs) which is a benefit vs the option. While Ole Miss is a slight fav, we'll call it a 1★ because they're projected to have a 451-359 yd edge.

There are times when the forecast doesn't even need a writeup and this is one of them. The Longhorns are a 14 pt underdog and not only does PP have them only losing by 3 pts, they are only projected to get outgained by 28 yds. TT limps into this gm with 5 str losses and had their QB guit and transfer. The one thing you need to know about the TT offense is that the results are based on the system, not the players. ASU, meanwhile, has topped 50 pts 6 times TY, is facing our #69 D and HC Graham does not take his foot off the gas pedal when he has a lead. The forecast calls for 79 pts, making this a Best Bet on the OVER.

PRO FOOTBALL DECEMBER 22ND-23RD

Obviously this newsletter is based upon statistical numbers and rankings that are used to develop the projections you see here. As with all types statistical information the more numbers that one inputs ordinarily the stronger the accuracy of the results. Therefore, one would expect the projections to be more reliable after a number of weeks worth of stats are input. The numbers in parenthesis are a comparison of the teams rankings (Visitor, visitors offense ranking vs home defense ranking, Home, home offensive ranking vs visitor defensive ranking).

BUFFALO	180	177	19	+1	#31

(MIA #10 vs BUF #8, BUF #22 vs MIA #11) - MIA gets the #6 seed if they win out no matter what CIN/ BAL do. MIA can't take BUF lightly as they lost to them earlier TY. Over the L4W Tannehill has delivered 3 upset wins with 288 ypg (65%) and a 9-3 ratio. BUF may get a Dolphins defense without 3 defensive starters (NT Soliai, CB Grimes, CB Carroll) which will make life easier for Manuel and RB Spiller. We want to see the injury report before making a decision especially with MIA now having to deal with success.

DALLAS	97 157	190 280	32 20	+11 -0	#2 #32

(DAL #14 vs WAS #3, WAS #28 vs DAL #26) - Dallas blew a 23 point lead to Green Bay as they àbandoned the run (Murray 134 yds, 7.4) vs the #25 rush defense at home. Now they face a Washington team that was a failed 2 point conversion at the end away from beating a just as bad Atlanta defense. If Dallas wins out they'll get the NFC East due to a better Div record than PHI. Dallas is a poor away favorite (4-10-1 ATS) and this defense can't be trusted even vs an inexperienced Cousins at the helm. No Play on the side (at the line) and a lean on the Over.

(TB #32 vs STL #25, STL #25 vs TB #16) - STL made the NFC a mess with their 27-16 win over NO as they held the Saints to 224 yds before the 4Q. They now face a Bucs team that is very close to how they operate in relying on defense, no TO's and trying to keep things close until the 4Q offensively. PP gives STL a healthy 124 yd edge here but has this right at the line making it a No Play.

(CLE #5 vs NYJ #23, NYJ #31 vs CLE #23) - It's not a surprise that PP gives CLE a 119 yd edge but calls for them to fall just short here. While they have promising talent on both sides of the ball, the Browns are painfully one-dimensional in relying on the pass, which has to eat at an OC in Turner who loves to run the rock. Smith is facing the same issues that Sanchez has the L2Y w/an overall lack of talent to help him develop. We need to see the injury report as CLE may not have CB Haden (hip) so this is a No Play.

(IND #29 vs KC #30, KC #8 vs IND #17) - KC became the 1st team since the 2004 Colts to have more points (56) than plays (51) in a gm. The Chiefs also remember the sting of IND beating them 20-13 LY at Arrowhead despite a monster game by Charles (226 ypg, 10.3). Both teams thumped inferior teams LW but IND has allowed 24, 27, 40 and 42 pts in their L/4 road gms. While we think highly of Luck the rest of the Colts are more fitting to a 6 win team and despite just 14 yds difference KC is the play.

(MIN #4 vs CIN #12, CIN #23 vs MIN #32) - CIN has won and covered 7 straight at home by an avg of 15 ppg. They are coming off a major embarrassment on SNF and injuries are starting to pile up all around. Without Peterson and Gerhart the Vikings reminded everyone that the PHI defense still has issues as Cassel has earned the starting job for another week. (DEN #3 vs HOU #15, HOU #27 vs DEN #20) - DEN has everything to play for as they are now back in the hunt for the #1 seed in the AFC with NE's loss. They are off a loss, with extra rest, a smouldering Peyton and HOU's #4 defense isn't for real as they simply defend short fields due to TO's. HOU is -70 net pts (31st) due to TO's, has an offensive QBR of 61.0 dueling Manning w/a 100.0 QBR here and only the expectation that the line will continue to rise during the week keeping this from being higher.

(TEN #13 vs JAX #18, JAX #24 vs TEN #22) - JAX was playing quality ball prior to LW when they had to sit their top 2 offensive weapons due to injury. While they lost to BUF it could easily have been different as RB/WR Robinson fumbled through the EZ after a 24 yd gain and Henne had the team in position to tie on the Jags final drive until he was int'd in the EZ. TEN would love to pay JAX back for causing their downward spiral earlier TY but the Jags are home for 3 straight while TEN is in their 4th road game in 5 weeks and coming off an OT loss to ARZ.

They are a dominating +129 ypg (#3) at home (+7 TO's) and now face an ARZ team off a road OT vs TEN that has to travel again (tms are 1-9 SU/ATS doing so vs SEA). ARZ deserves a lot of credit for their 1st winning season since 2009 but they haven't faced a real defense since losing to SEA in the 1st matchup. Despite the loss this is a pretty decent spot vs BAL as they are off a MNF game vs the high powered Lions and NE has covered 3 straight vs the Ravens. This is Atlanta's big chance to get some payback vs San Fran after losing at home in the playoffs last year. The reality is they were almost upset by Washington with Cousins at the helm and now have to travel vs a top 5 team with playoff need. The last time these tms met was the '78 Gator Bowl when legendary HC Woody Hayes punched CU Co NG Charlie Bauman and was subsequently fired. OSU was 1Q away from playing in the Nat'l Champ and HC Meyer has the best bowl record SU/ATS of any active HC (min 5 bowls). PP forecasts the Tigers to actually outgain the Buckeyes 494-471 but for OSU to pull out a close victory in this shootout.

1st meeting. Houston has been a solid bet all ssn long (10-2 ATS) and now takes on a Vanderbilt squad that earned some misleading wins TY. Despite the Dores coming in as the fav, PP actually forecasts the Cougars to pull the outright upset while being slightly outgained 383-351.

First meeting. This is the third straight bowl gm for Arkansas St and as crazy as it sounds, the 3rd w straight bowl game they will have an interim Head Coach on their sideline for the postseason. This BY year's interim is John Thompson, who served the same role in last year's bowl victory. Power Plays projects the Red Wolves to keep it close and we agree making this a 3★.

Heisman winner Winston leads FSU to its 1st Rose Bowl appearance vs Aub, who is also making its 1st appearance here. The Noles have been dominant all season winning every game by at least 14 pts. PP forecasts a 17 pt win for the Noles but they have not faced a power rush tm like Auburn all year.
