Miami. Oh E Michigan yards gained and points allowed in the country! No other rating system takes into account all the previous factors. Next time you hear that a team is rated third in the country in pass defense, just remember, yards are not everything and Northcoast Sports' Power Plays will show you how strong the team really is.

The Power Ratings listed below are not based on the Power Plays, they are based on last year's final computer power rating numbers with the pluses and minuses from the off season changes factored in. They are then adjusted during the course of the season based on the final score of the games that are played on a weekly basis. The Power Ratings listed below can be used for you as a base power ratings to forecast up coming lines and strength of opponents, etc. Once again, they are not based on Power Plays and they differ from what we have shown in recent years, which has been our actual computer Power Ratings. These are Northcoast Sports Plus or Minus Power Ratings.

NOTE: Power Plays - PP October 17th-22nd

The Power Plays Newsletter consists of forecasts that are made by a special rating system. You will see in the write-ups that we agree with the majority of the PP forecasts. However, there are times when we will disagree. We want to make it clear that this is the PP Newsletter and these forecasts are based purely on the power ratings.

MICHIGAN ST 191 237 38 +3 It doesn't get much more dominating defensively than this projection here for the hometown Spartans. PP calls for MSU to hold Purdue to just 5 pts and 124 ttl yds in their 33 pt victory. Judging by the way the Spartan offense has done in their L/2 (400+ ypg), we agree with this projection. 4★ MICHIGAN ST 38 PURDUE 5

October 17th_21ST PRO FOOTBAL NOTE: Power Plays - PP

Power Plays is based upon statistical numbers and rankings that are used to develop the projections you see here. As with all types statistical information the more numbers that one inputs ordinarily the stronger the accuracy of the results. Therefore, one would expect the projections to be more reliable after a number of weeks worth of stats are input. The numbers in parenthesis are a comparison of the teams rankings (Visitor, visitors offense ranking vs home Α defense ranking, Home home offensive ranking vs visitor defensive ranking) over each teams last 4 games.

NYJ #18 vs NE #18) - NE is off a huge clutch win vs NO while PIT made Geno CLEVELAND Smith the 4th QB with 10 int in his 1st 6 starts. NE likely won't have Amendola (concussion) and Talib GREEN BAY is a ?? but the fact that PP calls for a slight yardage edge to the home team is a credit to the Jets defense. This is a No Play as Gronkowski is the pivot point due to the Patriots injury situation which would make Rex Ryan's gameplan much more difficult to deal with w has BALTIN to fly out East to play a 10 am game with a bye on deck vs JAX who showed no quit vs DEN LW. In PITTSE his 2 games Blackmon has dominated w/326 yds (17.2) and now gets a SD defense allowing 70% comp, 8.6 ypa and a 10-1 ratio prior to facing Luck. PP doesn't have the MNF game factored in and with the Jags solid #2 WR Cecil Shorts (ribs) expected to miss we'll call this a No Play.

(HOU #13 vs KC #10, KC #21 vs HOU #1) - HOU had a sound gameplan LW in playing to its offensive strengths as Foster had 141 yds (7.1) but was done in by a disappointing effort by the #1 def. KC is essentially the 2011-12 49ers w/Smith protecting the ball and dominating defense vs lower tier foes (#32 sked). We'll make this a No Play on the side as the Texans decide between TJ Yates or Case Keenum on the road at the loudest venue in the NFL (137.5 decibels LW) and make a play on the Total.

(CIN #19 vs DET #31, DET #12 vs CIN #7) - CIN has the feel of a team that plays to the level of its foe beating (a healthy) PIT, GB, NE but losing to CLE (Hoyer 2nd start), BUF (Thad Lewis) and blowing a big lead vs CHI (new HC). Lions fans will be rowdy with their team having been on the road 4 of their L/5 games which will only help the defense here. PP calls for a Lions win and while we agree I the fact the yards are basically even (DET +17) limits the play.

(CHI #11 vs WAS #20, WAS #5 vs CHI #21) - WAS special teams are dead last for a reason as they gave up 222 yds to DAL which they converted into 17 pts due to field position not counting an 86 yd PR for a td. CHI has extra rest and a favorable matchup with Marshall vs the #24 pass def. CHI is very beat up in the middle of their defense which PP shows w/196 yards for the home team. PP calls for the HD to pull an upset and we agree with the 4th largest yard edge of the week backing it up.

they lost RB Murray (sprained MCL) and Ware (4 sks in 6 gms) was beat up also. PHI simply kept its momentum going into LW's game as they took on a rookie QB and some very poor pass defense schemes. There is no firm line as Kelly is working gamesmanship with his starting QB (Foles 287 yds, 71%, 3-0) vs a div rival and the injury situation prevents us from pursuing the total despite the highest combined yardage total this week (868) to a once a year error on special teams that led to a 10 pt swing. Fitzpatrick has logged a 1-4 ratio and a tiny 5.6 ypa in his 2 starts and now gets a 49ers team making a quick stop before heading to London next week. Def's have adjusted to Kaepernick who's avg 162 ypg (52%) w/a 5-5 ratio though part of this is lacking a true counterpart to TE Davis with Crabtree out another month. PP calls for TEN to keep it close but we lean with the road team so No Play.

(TB #28 vs ATL #16, ATL #7 vs TB #17) - ATL sorely needed the bye to recharge and reorient after losing 3 straight and WR Jones (#5 rec yds when hurt). TB has been outgained in each game this year and Glennon's 84.7 QBR was a season high for the team but that was vs the now-#31 pass defense at home. Power Plays leans with ATL but they've failed to cover 4 straight as favorites of 7 or more and their injury situation limits the play.

(CLE #15 vs GB #13. 44% of their rec yards w/Cobb and Jones getting hurt LW. CLE has done well vs avg and lower level QB's but they struggled vs Stafford at home and now have to travel. CLE has been held to 20 pts or less in 6 starts by Weeden who's been sacked once every 8.5 pass att's. While PP gives GB the 3rd best yardage edge this week (+179) their skill position injuries limit the grade.

(BAL #24 vs PIT #8, PIT #10 vs BAL #11) - The dog is 9-2 ATS in a series that has been decided by a FG in 7 of its L/8 matchups. PIT finally got into the win column vs the Jets by thanks to their 1st two takeaways of the season. Def's are content to take away Rice (34 yds, 2.4 LW) and WR Smith (1 rec, 12.0) as the Ravens simply lack speed to cause a concern elsewhere. BAL's defense is playing solid ball (forced 6 straight punts by GB LW), but they aren't getting the support needed on offense. PP has this at the line making the side a No Play but with just 648 yds forecast the total is worth a look.

(MIN #20 vs NYG #25, NYG #31 vs MIN #26) - Both teams come in having miserable seasons and there is a very good chance Josh Freeman gets the nod here for MIN. This may be the injury depleted Giants last shot in primetime this year as games start to get flexed for future SNF's. Will MIN rally behind a new QB or will the Giants finally snare their 1st win of the year? Monday Night Magic
